NEWSPAPER DIVISION
STATE LIBRARY

BOSTON AMERICAN
A HOME PAPER FOR PEOPLE WHO THINK
VOL. 26—No. 225 Published Daily by N. E. Newspaper Pub. Co. Entered as 2d Class Matter at Boston P. O. BOSTON, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1929 2 CENTS 3 CENTS

Today

Hard for Robots and Men
Now the Pacific
We Need Submarines
The Feast at Las Cruces

—By Arthur Brisbane—

Copyright, 1929, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

SCIENCE piles prodigy on prodigy, miracle on miracle, so rapidly, that it tires the average brain.

Professor Partridge, only 26 years old, in New York University chemistry department, can manufacture lithium at $15 a pound. A little while ago you couldn't have sent a pound for a million dollars. Lithium is a metal so light that it floats even on kerosene.

Some things that float on water, you know, will not float on kerosene.

Professor McTavish of New York University demonstrated a robot, a mechanical man, with an electric lamp in place of eyes, a radio tube in place of a brain, relays and magnets for hands.

However, it can be shown that no robot can ever develop any new idea.

He who wishes to avoid robot competition should devote himself to developing new ideas and working them out.

From Seattle, the Pacific aeronautic research foundation plans, for next May, a non-stop flight across the Pacific.

Men have flown from Europe to South America, from London to India, across the Atlantic repeatedly, over the North and South Poles.

The Pacific alone remains to be conquered.

And only a few years ago Lord Northcliffe offered $50,000 to anyone that would fly the English Channel.

The Portsmouth Navy Yard starts work on a new submarine, the V-7, keeping at work 725 men that would have been discharged. This encourages the people to think we may have some intelligent interest in national defense.

Submarines with modern engines can go round the world without taking fuel, traveling on the surface as they do in peace. A good fleet of really big submarines, with heavy guns, knocked down fighting planes, blind speed and long sailing range would do a great deal for peace, if they could be sent to visit every important port in the world.

Those well prepared have peace. The unprepared have war.

The feast of the Virgin of Guadalupe, at Las Cruces, Mexico, witnesses interesting scenes around the sacred shrine. Many of the devout travelled to the shrine, a distance of four miles, on their hands and knees, believing that this would add efficacy to their prayers.

In Church of Spain thousands of women have crawled from the front door to the high altar, licking the dust from the floor with their tongues as they advanced. Their prayers are to be delivered from barrenness.

The enlightened clergy of today does not encourage these practices, and positively forbids the religious excesses of Mexican Indian converts that lash and even crucify themselves.

It is difficult to convince the ignorant and superstitious that Divinity does not enjoy human suffering.

At Las Cruces, for the first time in three years, Mexican Catholic priests were allowed to officiate at the shrine in public. The crowd of 200,000 worshippers, largely Indians, was a demonstration of gratitude for the better relations between church and state.

According to Associated Press dispatches, the Indians mixed ancient and alien religious rites with their Christian worship.

Three years ago Pennsylvania had a senatorial election. Candidates spent $2,500,000 on the election. Mr. Vare won, spending about $700,000 for his election expenses, and the Senate threw him out.

Now Pennsylvania's governor appoints a distinguished lobbyist and business man to the vacant Senate seat, and the Senate accepts him, with a few unkind words, from radicals. That might be called a joke on the men that spent $2,500,000, and on the state of Pennsylvania.

The trust idea spreads. German workmen, scattered through the Black Forest, have formed a combination to keep up the price of cuckoo clocks, and stop harsh competition. They promise to make better and brighter cuckoos, and not raise prices much.

Russia appropriates $120,000,000 real money to promote farm prosperity and production. Russia had built tractor factories capable of producing two and a half times as many tractors as this country built last year. And now Russia will build a factory able to produce five times as many tractors as Russia produced last year.

John Calder, American engineer in Russia, says:

"Russia puts up steel faster than anything I have known in America."

Here we make the farmers pay freight on 2000 pounds to get 400 pounds of real fertilizer.

Continued on Page 2, Column 8

WEATHER

Fair and colder tonight and Sunday; moderate west to north winds.

High tide today 8:56 a. m., 9:31 p. m.

Sun rises at 7:05; sets, 4:12.

Light all vehicles tonight at 4:42. Details on Page 8.

COMPLETE WALL ST. AND BOSTON STOCKS CLOSING PRICES

$160,000 Bail in Danvers Holdup

GAS FUMES OVERCOME MOTHER AND 3 CHILDREN

BRIDAL PAIR AND 5 HELD IN ROBBERY

Bail of $160,000 Is Set for 7 Arraigned for $200 Danvers Holdup

Salem, Dec. 14 (AP)—Five Lynn men were held in $30,000 each and two women companions in $5000 each for the grand jury when their counsel waived further examination of witnesses at a preliminary hearing today before Judge Robert W. Hill.

All are charged with having participated in the hold-up and robbery of $200 in a Danvers drug store on November 29.

They had pleaded not guilty and Harry Barnes and Arthur Healy, clerks in the store, had given their testimony when the defense announced its decision to withhold its case until after the grand jury had acted. Judge Hill then announced a finding of probable cause.

The defendants are: Eugene Budd, James P. Burnett, Frank Coughlin, Harold A. Rounesville Miss Florence Reynolds and Mrs and Mrs. Thomas F. Ryan. The Ryan couple were married about six weeks before the holdup.

A crowded courtroom indicated unusual interest in the case.

Barnes testified that Budd had pointed a revolver at him and told him to put his hands up.

Witness identified all of the defendants except Burnett, who, police allege, remained outside in the automobile.

Bloodhounds Trail 5 Escaped Convicts

McAlester, Okla., Dec. 14 (AP)—Five dangerous inmates of the state penitentiary here were at large today after digging under the walls.

Bloodhounds are on the trail of the missing convicts and McAlester police and the county sheriff's are on the watch for them. One of the convicts is believed to be Wilbur Underhill, serving a life term for murder.

Bomb Wrecks Home of N. Y. State Family

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—A bomb explosion felt for miles around today did $20,000 damage to the home of Felix D'Alessandro in Eastchester, Westchester county, and hurled the owner, his wife and two daughters from their beds. Neighbors saw an auto stop in front of the D'Alessandro home a few minutes before the explosion and then speed away.

Cardinal to Go on Far East Tour

Rome, Dec. 14 (AP)—Cardinal Dougherty of Philadelphia expects to leave for Naples on December 26 and to sail January 12 aboard the steamship Otranto on a journey to the Far East, a trip which he has long desired to make.

He expects to be back in Philadelphia by the end of March.

Romance Ends

Lady Higham, former Eloise Rowe of Buffalo, N. Y., has divorced Sir Charles Higham in London. The suit was not contested.

LADY HIGHAM WINS DIVORCE

London, Dec. 14 (INS)—Lady Higham, the former Eloise Rowe of Buffalo N. Y., has been granted a divorce from her husband Sir Charles Higham, English advertising man and publicity expert.

Lady Higham was granted the decree on grounds of misconduct, which Sir Charles did not attempt to disprove.

Sir Charles has made frequent visits to the United States, on each of which occasions he attracted much attention for his flirtations.

Once he called President Coolidge the best-dressed man in America. Another time he informed newspapermen that New York liquor was just as good as London's and apparently more plentiful.

Charge 'Inside Job' in Roxbury Theft

Police inspectors and plain-clothes men are today looking for the thieves who broke into the home of Miss Charlotte White, of Hammond st., Roxbury, ransacked the place, and found $8.8 which was hidden in the closet.

Police said it was an inside job and they are armed with warrants, prepared to make an arrest.

Delay Arraignment of Congressman

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—Arraignment of Rep. Frederick N. Zihlman, of Maryland and six others who were indicted on charges of using the mails to defraud in connection with the affairs of the F. H. Smith Co., security investment house, was today postponed for a week at the request of attorneys.

COUZENS ASKS SLASH IN 1930 BUSINESS TAX

Retroactive Feature of Measure Opposed in Senate Debate

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—With passage before nightfall indicated the Senate began its second day's consideration of the $160,000,000 tax reduction resolution today with several amendments in order.

Taking up his amendment to reduce the tax on capital gains and losses in 1930 from 12½ to 10 per cent, Senator Couzens Republican, Michigan, opposed the retroactive feature of the resolution which provides a reduction of 1 per cent only in the levies due next year on the normal individual and corporation incomes of 1929.

The proposed reduction was not a rebate, as some senators had claimed, Couzens said, adding that every citizen who carried on a business this year did so under existing law.

He argued that no senator would approve a general increase in taxes and asserted if it was unsound to do this, it was equally unsound to reduce taxes retroactively.

He described this feature of the resolution as "uneconomic" and said in no sense would it increase the purchasing power of the people at this time.

The "humane thing" for the administration to have proposed, he added, was to apply the $160,000,000 to relieving the unemployed. But this, he continued, would have brought criticism from every bus.

Continued on Page 2, Column 5

Constance Bennett Wins French Divorce

Nice, France, Dec. 14 (AP)—A local court today granted a decree to Mrs. Philip Plant, nee Constance Bennett, daughter of Richard Bennett.

They were married Nov. 3, 1925, in Greenwich, Ct., after Miss Bennett's 1921 marriage to Gerald Hirst Moorehead, a University of Virginia student, had been annulled. Plant, son of Mrs. William Hayward and her first husband, Orlando Mansering of Connecticut, was adopted by Morton F. Plant, her second husband, and inherited $15,000,000.

Fog Causes Series of Auto Injuries

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—It was so foggy in Ocean Parkway, Brooklyn, today that Irving Cohen stopped his car and stepped out to look for traffic lights. James Rieker in another car, knocked Cohen down. Then a third car knocked Rieker down and fled. Cohen and Rieker are in a hospital with fractured skulls.

Burglars Carry Off Safe and $220

Worcester, Dec. 14—Forcing their way into the Traveler Shoe Store, 70 Front st. early today, burglars carried away a 300-pound safe containing $220 and valuable papers.

Entrance was obtained by forcing a trap door from the cellar, and the safe was taken out a side door to an alley to a truck.

2 Student Fliers in Crash, Both Are Hurt

Baltimore, Dec. 14 (AP)—Two student aviators were injured seriously, but probably not fatally, in a collision of their planes near the ground at Logan Field today. At the field their names were given as Samuel S. Fetherolf, 18, Kempton, Pa., and Samuel L. Tillinghast, 23, Baltimore.

BANK STATEMENT

Boston balance	$39,000,000
Boston clearance	91,000,000
New York balance	187,000,000
New York clearance	1,465,000,000

FIRE MARSHAL NEAL DIES IN LYNN AT 87

Veteran Official Succumbs to Pneumonia After an Illness of Few Days

State Fire Marshal George C. Neal, with an outstanding record for independence in office, died today at his home in Lynn. He was 87 years of age.

The veteran official had been sick but a few days. On Monday he complained of a heavy cold which later developed into pneumonia.

Funeral services will be held next Monday at 2:30 p. m. at the First M. E. Church, Lynn.

Burial will be in Pine Grove Cemetery, Lynn.

The body will be escorted to the church by a mounted detail of 20 state patrolmen, under Lieut. James Hughes and a detail of 10 state patrolmen on foot, under Lieut. Harold Williams.

The honorary pall bearers will include: John H. Pfuniett, chief inspector of the department; Timothy C. Murphy, chief fire inspector; Capt. Charles T. Spangler, state police chief; Capt. Thomas E. High, head of the state criminal detective force, and Inspectors George C. Mansfield, Robert E. Molte, John E. Reardon, Edward F. Horrigan, Edward H. Murtagh and Thomas H. Thompson.

All employees of the state fire marshal's office as well as 16 state detectives will also attend in a group.

Marshal Neal, in his earlier connection with the state police, figured in some famous murder trials in Essex County, but he became more widely known for his independence on gasoline permits.

Again and again Neal defied the politicians, some of whom appeared before him in gas permit cases. His refusals to be swayed by any motive other than what he considered his strict duty in the premises led to repeated attacks

Continued on Page 2, Column 6

Wife Wins Divorce From Guy Bates Post

Santa Ana, Cal., Dec. 14 (AP)—Adele R. Post today held an interlocutory decree of divorce from Guy Bates Post, actor, obtained in Superior Court. She charged desertion.

The suit was not contested. There are no children.

Post lives in Los Angeles. His best known stage role was the dual characterization in "The Masqueraders."

Falls 25 Feet from Roof, Will Recover

Edward Judge, 53, of 246 Elm st., Nahant, narrowly escaped death today when he fell 25 feet from an icy roof upon which he was working at 25 Dana st., Roxbury.

At the City Hospital he was found to be suffering from injuries to his body and head.

U. S. Envoys to Sail on Geo. Washington

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—Secretary Stimson announced today that the entire American delegation to the London naval conference would make the trip to England on the United States liner George Washington.

IN NEWS TODAY

Financial	16, 17, 18
Radio	7
Comics	15
Magazine, Fiction	14
Sports	10, 11, 12
Crossword Puzzle	5
Amusements	6, 7, 8
Aviation	13
Woman's Clubs	5
Society	15
Ship News	15
"This Modern World"	15
Church News	5
Motion Pictures	21

'That's My Idea of a Dog'

Henry Buckley of Lynn and his pet dog Spot, who saved his master and in fact the whole Buckley family when he woke up Henry to notify him the house was on fire. Spot was himself saved by Henry's father, for he was only a "mutt" picked up in the street when Mr. Buckley took him from the Animal Rescue League. (Staff photo.)

Dog Spared Own Life, Saves 5 During Fire

He is only a "mutt" picked up by the family residence at 33 Mc- Pleasant st., was absent, and that from the streets and marked for who wanted a Christmas present death until rescued by a father for his son. Today he proved his gratitude by saving an entire family in a Lynn fire.

The mongrel's name is "Spot," and he's mostly terrier. Early today he awakened his master, 11-year-old Henry Buckley, Jr., who saved five persons.

Those saved included the boy's father, Henry Buckley, Sr., his brother, William, and an aunt, Miss S. V. Wagner.

After the dog awakened his master the boy aroused the others.

Two years ago Mr. Buckley's young son decided to get a Christmas present for his father. He went to the Animal Rescue League in Lynn and picked out a dog that had been picked up in the streets and which would be killed unless persons called for them within a few days, so Mr. Buckley claims.

He entered in payment of the terrier type, which was originally all as a mongrel. The pup was named "Spot" by junior and has been the best of pals since getting the boy's life. The climax came today when the "mutt" saved his pal and incidentally all the rest of the family.

"He's a fine dog," said young Buckley after the fire today. "And I wouldn't sell him for any amount of money."

Peace Is Near in Illinois Coal War

Carlinville, Ill. Dec. 14 (AP)—Prospects for a quick truce in the miner strike affecting a half dozen coal mines and about 3500 miners in this district appeared rosier today as conferences of leaders of the striking miners either in jail or held under bond.

Officials of the United Mine Workers Union opposing the walkout called last Monday by the National Miners Union, rival organization, said they felt satisfied the situation would be normalized by a return to work Monday.

Reynolds Back; Mum on Jail Term

Winston Salem, N. C. Dec. 14 (AP)—Richard J. Reynolds, Jr., scion of the late founder of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, arrived here today from England where he served a five months' jail term for the killing of a pedestrian in an automobile accident.

Young Reynolds, whose escapades in the past have several times had him in the limelight, declined to be interviewed.

Balances and Receipts

Washington, Dec. 14—Today's treasury balance, $88,560,228. U. S. customs receipts, $17,430,397.

LEAK FOUND IN CELLAR OF THEIR HOME

Broken Windows Saved All From Death, Webster Police Declare

Webster, Dec. 14 (AP)—Four persons are in critical condition at Webster Hospital suffering from poisoning from a gas leak discovered today in the cellar of their home.

The victims are Mrs. Sylvia Vesnie, 44, and her children, William, 19, Julia, 11, and Annie, 7.

Their plight was discovered about 10 o'clock by Stanley Dzien. All were found unconscious.

Dr. John O. Staples worked more than an hour on the victims, using a pulmotor and inhalator. Then they were taken to the hospital.

Police said they discovered a gas pipe leaking in the cellar. The gas is not connected with the public supply and the first floor of the building is not affected. Broken windows prevented the family being wiped out by the poisonous gas.

Family of 8 Escapes as Houseboat Sinks

New London, Ct. Dec. 14 (AP)—A family of eight narrowly escaped being drowned early today when the houseboat of Mr. and Mrs. Charles White and six children sank at a local wharf. White, pounding in awakened White and he found the cabin flooded. Mrs. White and the children, in night clothing, huddled together on the vessel's roof.

Missing Schooner Reported 'All Right'

St. Johns, N. F. Dec. 14 (AP)—The three-masted schooner Ethel Maud, which left here last night with a cargo of fish for the port of Cadiz, Spain, was reported by the Norwegian steamer Nordkap today as "all right" about 300 miles southeast of this port, in the ice-filled waters of the North Atlantic.

Fifteen men, one of St. John's, the Newfoundland port, which he expected in a flood of fish fishing vessels from all parts of the world on the opening of the season November 25 for the Spanish ports.

Mrs. Crouse Is Now Sought in Texas

Dallas, Tex. Dec. 14 (AP)—Dallas police today were asked by officers of Utica, N. Y., to watch for Mrs. Beecher M. Crouse, wife of a Utica banker, reported to have mysteriously disappeared from her home several weeks ago.

Police said the woman was held here by the woman was held here by the way to Dallas from Nashville, Ark.

Sound Liner Crashes Pier, 150 Shaken Up

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Feeling its way down the East river through a pea soup fog that blanketed harbor and city today, the Colonial Line steamer Lexington, inbound from Providence, R. I., crashed into a pier at the foot of Stanton st.

The 150 passengers on the boat were shaken up, but no one was injured, and the steamer suffered only the loss of a little paint and a few splinters. A large hole was torn in the side of the pier building.

Fifteen passengers left the steamer at the scene of the mishap with a mate who was going to report the accident, but the rest stayed aboard until the Lexington reached her pier in the North river.

Continued on Page 3, Column 8

Cubs' Head Frowns on Battle of Centuries

Chicago, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs will refuse to permit Hack Wilson to meet Charles Arthur the great Shire in a professional boxing contest, William L. Veeck, president of the Cubs, said today. If Wilson decides to fight in violation of the Cubs' wishes, he will do so on his own accord, Veeck said.

President Veeck not only declared himself opposed to the battle of the centuries, but said the Cubs would not countenance the bout.

"This is a free country and Wilson is a free citizen," Veeck explained. "Wilson, if he chooses, can go through with the fight on his own volition, but will not have our permission."

I do not want anyone to think we are opposed to boxing," Veeck

Continued on Page 11, Column 2

OCEAN GREYHOUND TWICE BATTLED TO STANDSTILL BY STORM

FURY OF SEA HALTED LINER

Made Only 120 Miles in One Day, Compared With Her Record of 700

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—The steamship Bremen, fastest ocean liner, was in port today after a battle with an Atlantic storm which delayed her nearly three days and resulted in injuries to 20 passengers.

Like handlers taking charge of a fighter at the end of a fierce bout, a fleet of tugs conveyed the liner up a fog-choked New York Harbor while marine experts proclaimed her victorious in her first real test against the fury of a winter sea.

The proportions of the hurricane through which the Bremen fought her way from Bremen and Cherbourg with 1800 passengers is indicated by the reduction of her speed on the voyage.

NEARLY 3 DAYS LATE.

The ship holds a record for the Atlantic crossing of 4 days 17 hours 42 minutes, established soon after she was placed in service last summer. On this trip she required 7 days 7 hours 54 minutes. Her average speed of 28 knots was cut to 17.6.

Twice during the voyage, Capt. Leopold Ziegenbein, master, said the ship was hove to, and last Saturday, the second day out from Cherbourg, her run for 24 hours was cut to 120 miles. She has made 700 miles in 24 hours.

Huge waves rolled up by a wind which reached a velocity of 75 miles an hour tossed the ship so that she rolled 18 degrees on one time. The rolling flung passengers about resulting in injuries which were treated by the ship's surgeon.

ON INJURED LIST

Among the more seriously injured were: J. Lederer, iron manufacturer of Philadelphia, struck in the chest by a large trunk flung across his cabin by the rolling of the ship; Monsignor William McKean of Bernardsville, N. J., who lost several teeth when he was thrown from his seat in the ship's library, and Otto Parchkes, radio manufacturer of Mount Vernon, N. Y., who fell on the promenade deck, breaking his arm. Col. Sam Park, vice counsul to Biarritz, suffered a cut on the face when the ship lurched while he was being shaved.

Frederick H. Gibbs, a naval architect, who was a passenger said today's performance of the Bremen in spite of the worst storms in the history of shipping, demonstrated the practicability of innovations in her design. The passengers gave Capt. Ziegenbein a testimonial praising the behavior of the ship and his handling of her during the storm.

QUIZ WARNER ON ENFORCEMENT

Atty.-Gen. Joseph E. Warner has been asked by a group of Massachusetts women, headed by Mrs. Elizabeth Tilton of Mason st., Cambridge, of the Massachusetts Anti-Saloon League, if he said it is a matter of speculation whether enforcement of prohibition would be as good as it is today if the voters repeal the State Baby Volstead act.

The letter was drawn up at a luncheon given by Mrs. Tilton at the Women's City Club of Boston yesterday.

The letter sent to Atty.-Gen. Warner reads:

"We are writing you about a news article which appeared on Thursday, Dec. 12. You are asked if the repeal of the so-called Baby Volstead Act will increase the difficulty of enforcement, and your answer is given thus: 'I am unable to say about that, because that is a matter of pure speculation, and anyone's advice on that matter is as good as mine.'

"Do you really wish to be quoted as saying that should Massachusetts withdraw her 6000 state and local police from apprehending the moonshiner and the rum-runner, it is a matter of speculation whether enforcement would be as good as it is today; that it would not adversely affect enforcement? We feel that you must be misquoted and we should be glad to hear from you on the matter.

Among the women who signed the letter, according to the information sent out by Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes of Wollaston who sent it out, were Mrs. E. Talmadge Root of Somerville, Mrs. George Whiting, Cambridge; Mrs. Julian L. Coolidge, Cambridge; Olga F. Frothingham, Boston; Alice L. W. Movius, Boston; Mrs. J. Malcolm Forbes, Milton; Mrg. Alice M. Morton, Brookline, and Mrs. Percey E. Thayer, Somerville.

The Logical Candidate ∴ ∴ By FRANKLIN COLLIER

MODERN CHILDREN DO NOT BELIEVE IN KRIS KRINGLE ANY MORE. NO WONDER! HE HAS TOO MANY IMITATORS AROUND. BESIDES, THAT CHIMNEY YARN IS A LAUGH WHEN YOU CONSIDER HIS SIZE.
WE NEED A MORE PRACTICAL AND ADEQUATE SANTA CLAUS. THE PRESENT ONE HAS NOT KEPT PACE WITH THE TIMES.
LETS HAVE A SANTA REFORM!
DO WE WANT A FAT SANTA CLAUS? NO!
ARE WHISKERS A HEALTHFUL THING TO HAVE AROUND YOUR CHILDREN? NO!
IN THESE DAYS OF PROHIBITION DO WE WANT A SANTA WITH A RED NOSE? NO! NO!! NO!!! LAND, NO!
IN THIS ERA OF HIGH CLASS MOTOR HAULING DO WE WANT ANTIQUATED REINDEER TRANSPORTATION? NO! NO!
DONT WE WANT A SANTA CLAUS WHO CAN ACTUALLY GO DOWN CHIMNEYS? YES! YES! YES!
CAN YOU LEAVE ME HAVE TWO BITS, BROTHER?
FOR OTTO THE BOY OF SANTA CLAUS WOULD NOT SEEM NEW HERE OFTEN MISTAKEN FOR HIM
THEN, WHY NOT TELL THE CHILDREN THAT IT IS OTTO GROW WHO COMES DOWN THE CHIMNEY WITH GIFTS?

TRANSFUSION FAILS TO SAVE BOY'S LIFE

Haverhill Youth, Legs Cut Off by Train, Dies Despite Cop's Sacrifice

Haverhill, Dec. 14—Despite the heroic sacrifice of blood made by Patrolman Guy W. Littlefield of this city, Frederick Sabin, Jr., of 145 South Pleasant st., Bradford, died today in Gale Hospital.

Sabin lost both legs when he fell under the wheels of a train in the Bradford yard of the Boston & Maine, and Littlefield, police ambulance driver, gave a quart of blood in a futile attempt to save his life.

Without even asking the identity of the patient, Patrolman Littlefield, who heard that blood was needed, said: "I'm husky, doctor, and I have plenty of blood to spare. Take mine."

Clifton Maherry, 17, of Portland st., cousin of Sabin, told Sergt. William J. Murphy, who investigated the accident, that he and Sabin had gone along the railroad yard on the way to an oil company's plant seeking work.

Sighting an open box freight car standing on one of the tracks, they sat in the door a few minutes, after which Sabin arose and walked to the other side of the car. When Maherry thought Sabin was about to jump out the door, he shouted to him not to do so, he told Sergt. Murphy. The next instant Sabin disappeared. Looking on the other side of the car, he saw Sabin lying on the other track, both legs severed. He thought he had been run over by a shifter.

Collapses at Funeral

Mrs. Elizabeth Rurford of Cambridge being assisted from Holy Name Church, New York, after funeral services for her daughter, Edna, 21-year-old dancer and Broadway beauty, who was one of the victims of the Pathe Studio fire. (International Newsreel photo.)

HARVARD BOYS LED 'PROF' OUT OF WATCH, WARD

Say Coolidge's Position as House Master Not in Keeping With Job

The resignation of Prof. Julian L. Coolidge of Harvard from the board of directors of the Watch and Ward Society is believed to have been prompted by the head of the students that the office was not in keeping with his position as house master of Dunster and Lowell Halls.

The professors assigned to work with the house plan are by no means to consider themselves proctors over the students with whom they will live, it was learned, but rather they are to be their intimate advisers.

As a consequence of his directorship, it is said, unofficial word had been passed around that Dunster Hall, under Prof. Greenough, was a more desirable place for which to register.

Crimson editorial comments in part:

"The announcement today of Mr. Coolidge's resignation from the board of trustees of the Watch and Ward Society removes all possibility of his being put in an anomalous position when he takes up the active duties of house master next fall.

"As house master he will in a way officially represent a relatively large group of Harvard men, and his connection with a quasi-political organization such as the Watch and Ward might well be misrepresented as lending a sort of Harvard support to it."

While applications to both Harvard plan houses will be received until 10 p. m. tomorrow, both houses are said to be oversubscribed, with Dunster Hall ahead in the total figures.

New Policy on Control of Drugs Planned

By KENNETH CLARK

(Copyright, 1929, by Universal Service, Inc.)

Washington, Dec. 14—C. C. Concannon has resigned as the representative of the Commerce Department on the Federal Narcotics Control Board, Universal Service has learned.

He was replaced by James J. O'Hara, assistant solicitor of the department.

The control board, composed of representatives of the State, Treasury and Commerce Departments, is charged with restricting the importation of opium to the actual medical requirements of the country.

The shift marks a new policy. Concannon was relieved at his own request because his other duties in the department do not permit him to devote sufficient attention to the narcotics problem. He is chief of the chemical division and will remain in that capacity.

The growing duties in connection with narcotics control induced Secretary Lamont to accept Concannon's resignation.

O'Hara, a native of Boston, has been in the commerce department for 17 years, during the last nine of which he has been assistant solicitor. He is a graduate of Georgetown University and a member of the Massachusetts and District of Columbia Bar Associations.

Only recently the narcotics control board held hearings to determine the amounts of raw opium and coca leaves which may be brought into the country legally next year to be manufactured into morphine, cocaine and other narcotics. The recommendations have been sent to the Secretaries of State, Treasury and Commerce for final approval.

Senator Copeland (D) of New York, a noted health expert, appeared before the board to recommend that the imports be cut drastically to prevent diversions into the hands of pedlars.

He asserted that the medical profession is using fewer drugs each year in the treatment of disease, and recommended a scientific survey to ascertain the exact medical needs. Heretofore, the board has based medical requirements on manufacturers' sales, not taking into account the great diversions from legal imports.

During the last few years the board has authorized a steady increase in the amounts of opium.

Tackling the narcotics problem from another angle, Representative Fish (R), of New York, introduced in the House a resolution authorizing President Hoover to appoint a delegation of 15 members to attend the world conference on narcotic education in London in July, 1931.

It would also authorize a joint investigation by the secretary of treasury and the attorney general of the narcotic problems in the larger American cities preparatory to the conference.

A sum of $40,000 would be set aside for the dual purpose.

The spreading of narcotic drug addiction, constituting a menace to the public health, the public morals and the public safety, is a matter of grave concern in the nations of the earth," said Fish.

FOUR 'IDENTIFY' RICH RECLUSE

Lawrence, Dec. 14—Many "relatives" of Mrs. Margaret Gibbons, 75-year-old recluse, who died in a rooming house leaving a large amount in cash and bankbooks showing deposits of thousands of dollars, have been in touch with the police.

As a result, the police are in a quandary.

Peter Geaney of Amesbury viewed the body and said she was his sister-in-law.

Mrs. Evelyn L. Cookson of South Gardiner, Me., telephoned and said she believed the deceased was the wife of her dead brother, George Shaw.

A Mrs. Creedon of Salem telephoned she was sure the woman is her missing sister, while Mrs. William Walsh of Topsfield said the old woman lived with her for 12 years and has a sister in Salem and a niece in Philadelphia.

The domestic help problem is solved by taking a kitchenette apartment and the best are advertised daily in the For Rent columns.

SENATE RUSHES TAX CUT BILL

Continued from First Page

ness man and economist as an unsound proposition.

These same business men, however, he asserted were urging the people to buy beyond their means for the purpose of speeding up business, hereby loading themselves with debt they would never be able to pay.

ATTACKS MELLON FAMILY.

Condemning past tax reduction programs of the Republicans, Couzens said a campaign had been waged for years for repeal of the estate tax, "but nobody supported such a plea influenced by the Mellon family."

"But they have not been successful," said Couzens, "and I suspect the Secretary hopes to get that repeal before he passes his estate on to posterity."

Replying to a series of questions from the Republican independents who are opposing the tax cut, the Michigan Senator said he was "unjustified in opposing this resolution if it will aid in getting some of 7,000,000 unemployed back to work."

"This periodic unemployment has got to be solved," he continued, "although I don't think this tax cut is the most effective way to do it."

The Senate rejected the Couzens amendment, 51 to 22.

Fire Marshal Neal Is Taken by Death

Continued from First Page

upon him and attempts to prevent his reappointment.

HOLDOVER FOR OFFICE

During the administration of Governor Fuller, the marshal's appointment was held up for several months. At the time of his death he was a holdover in office, his present commission having expired in January of the present year.

In 1926, one of the bitterest debates which occurred in years in the Senate came over an attempt by the late Senator Abbott Rice of Newton to give the marshal more power in the matter of gas station permits.

Rice insisted that the marshal be given authority to summon witnesses and books in the late senator charged at the time that "lawyers prominent in politics" had been getting "excessive fees" for representing permit seekers. The bill was killed by a vote of 3 to 24.

The marshal met and bested Mayor Andrew J. (Bossy) Gillis in the famous Newburyport battle over a filling station on High and State sts.

PROBED POISON CASES

The marshal also investigated the details of the experiments carried on in Worcester on "moonshine" conducted by Dr. Robert E. Holt.

He was a veteran of the Civil War. He entered state service in 1894, being attached to the old Massachusetts District Police office. Among cases he investigated were the Besse, Williams, and the Kennedy poison deaths.

Governor Allen paid Neal the following tribute:

"George C. Neal had the unusual distinction of being the second oldest employe in the service of the State. During the thirty-five years of his public career Mr. Neal established a splendid record for fidelity and loyalty to the interests of the Commonwealth."

Gen. Alfred F. Foote, commissioner of public safety, said:

"It is with deepest sorrow that I learn of the death of Fire Marshal Neal. The commonwealth suffers the loss of one of its most able servants. The department of public safety and his associates will greatly miss him. A soldier of the Civil War, Mr. Neal maintained the ideals, actions and deeds of a true soldier in his service to the state. In his death I have suffered a personal loss; that of a true and loyal friend."

Reichstag, 222-156, Upholds Hilferding

Berlin, Dec. 14 (INS)—The Reichstag today returned a vote of confidence in the Cabinet of Chancellor Hermann Mueller. The vote was 222 to 156. Twenty-two deputies abstained from voting.

The Cabinet had asked the vote on the financial reform program of Dr. Rudolf Hilferding, Finance Minister.

When Queen of the Sea Tottered on Her Throne

Remarkable picture taken while the giant liner Bremen was being buffeted by fierce storm on her way to New York, where she arrived nearly three days late with 10 of her 1799 passengers nursing injuries. Picture shows her bow running into one of the mountainous seas that broke over her day after day. (I. N. R. photo.)

Java Volcano Shoots Both Fire and Water

Batavia, Java, Dec. 14 (AP)—The island volcano of Krakatao is again showing alarming activity with 400 eruptions at an average height of more than 990 feet within the past 24 hours, and more than 3000 loud detonations.

An unusual development appeared in the form of three immense water fountains. Earth tremors have been increasingly frequent.

Krakatao is midway between the coasts of Sumatra and Java. It was largely destroyed by a catastrophic eruption in 1883 which produced a tidal wave estimated to have taken 30,000 lives.

150 SHAKEN UP IN SHIP CRASH

Continued from First Page

No other accidents were reported, although ferries were running from three to ten minutes late and all further crafts were proceeding cautiously. No big liners were scheduled to arrive today.

Starin Freighter Yale Safe at New Haven

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 14 (AP)—After a night of uncertainty the Starin Transportation Co. announced today that the steamship Yale, overdue here from New York, had docked safely at her berth.

The Yale, a 210-foot freight boat, had been reported fast in a mud bank, but Capt. Smith explained that fog caused delay, the pilot having lost his bearings, and it was considered unsafe to bring her up the channel as she was heavily loaded.

Ex-Minister Rivera of Honduras Dead

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Dec. 14 (AP)—Trinidad E. Rivera, former minister of finance and congressman, died in Tegucigalpa last night aged 65. Senor Rivera was prominent as a business man and in the political life of Honduras. He became minister of finance in 1922.

TODAY

Continued from First Page

Russia will not do that. When the dust settles you will find the Muscle Shoals power plant, built by the people, paid for by them, and able to produce unlimited cheap fertilizer, turned over to private exploitation.

The Russians would not do that. They would work the plant for the people that paid for it. Primitive people, those Bolsheviki, completely ignorant of American methods.

Ramsay MacDonald says Britain is not arming against any nation in particular, certainly not against this country. Britain is arming, determined to be prepared. Just in case anybody should come along. Wise British, they prepare, while we talk.

Train Severs Leg

Calais, Me., Dec. 14—George Ames of Rangor, Maine Central brakeman, had his right leg amputated above the knee when he slipped beneath an engine at Machiasport, Maine. He was brought to Calais hospital.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW?

In Today's News	Answers on Page
1. What is Suzanne Lenglen's new venture?	3
2. Where was the explosion today?	9
3. How can you be a Goodfellow?	4
4. Who reveals secrets of Rothstein's life?	5
5. What is Mrs. Brown's secret of longevity?	3
6. What do Japs demand of Russia?	3
7. What happened on Bremen's last trip?	2
8. What shipwrecked crew arrived today?	4

SUZANNE LENGLEN DROPS TENNIS TO BE PARIS SALESWOMAN

SEEKS AGAIN TO BECOME AMATEUR

Scoffs at Suggestion of 'Lucky' Baldwin Grandson Influencing Decision

Paris, Dec. 14 (AP) Suzanne Lenglen, famous tennis star, is working as a saleswoman in a small dressmaking establishment here. Her job is selling demonstrating and giving advice on sport clothes.

"I have always wanted to do this very thing," she said today. "I adore clothes. I am through with tennis for the time being at least. I hope to make lots of money.

"Baldwin? Baldwin? Leave him out of this; he has nothing to do with it."

The latter remark was in answer to a question concerning the grandson of E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin, to whom she has been reported engaged at various times.

Mademoiselle Lenglen is probably the highest paid saleswoman in the Paris shops. She refused to say what she was making, but it is understood to be a sizeable salary, plus commissions.

An outdoor salesroom and a combination tennis court and putting green are being fitted for her in the courtyard of the dressmaking establishment which once was the palace of Cardinal Fesch, the uncle of Napoleon. It is one of the finest Louis XVI houses extant.

The famous star said she had moved her household belongings to Paris, and with her mother, intended to make her permanent home here. Her father died at Nice last March.

At the dress house where she is employed it was said her new job was a first move to re-establish her in her amateur status which she forfeited in 1925 when she joined C. C. Pyle's professional tennis team.

N. E. STEAMSHIP DECLARES WAR

Providence, R. I., Dec. 14 (AP)—The Providence Journal says today that J. Howland Gardner, president of the New England Steamship Co. and the Hartford & New York Transportation Co., subsidiaries of the New Haven Railroad, will fight the Colonial Navigation Co.'s attempt to have the Interstate Commerce Commission forbid passenger service on the Providence line, a New England steamship subsidiary, by replacing the two New York-Providence passenger vessels already operated by the line with "bigger and more up-to-date" steamers.

The Journal says Gardner denies the Colonial's charges in a brief submitted at Washington, that the Providence line has been accepting freight shipments at less than its published tariff rates in contravention of federal law governing carrier-owned water lines, which the Colonial characterizes as "granting rebates."

The Colonial charges it lost the patronage of 20,000 passengers through "ruinous" and unlawful competition for the Providence and Bay State Lines, both New Haven subsidiaries, in 1928, and asks unspecified damages.

Cambridge Student Kills Self With Gun

Austin Southard, 20, of Cambridge, son of the late Dr. Elmer E. Southard, director of Boston Psychopathic Hospital, was today reported to have committed suicide in St. Paul, Minn.

The body of young Southard, a student at University of Minnesota, was found in the apartment of his uncle, H. W. Austin, Minnesota State purchasing commissioner, with shotgun wounds in the head. The young man, whose mother lives in Francis ave., Cambridge, graduated from Cambridge High and Latin school.

Ambassador Edge Pays Briand Visit

Paris, Dec. 14 (AP)—Ambassador Edge presented a copy of his letter of credence to Foreign Minister Briand today and had a brief cordial talk with him, in which both recalled their previous association at the naval conference in Washington and at the time of the signature of the Kellogg-Briand pact in Paris.

The date of the ambassador's presentation to President Doumergue has not yet been announced, but probably will be early next week.

Hold Woman Who Shot at Ex-Husband

Los Angeles, Dec. 14 (AP)—Mrs Helen Lesh Andrade, 56, was held here on a charge of assault to commit murder, sworn to by her former husband, Albert F. Andrade, millionaire rancher of Arizona and Mexico.

The arrest followed Andrade's report that his former wife fired five shots at him- his present wife, Mrs. Judith Lavender Andrade, and their six-weeks-old baby. Andrade said his former wife ambushed him at his home.

Mrs. John Coolidge Finds Old-Fashioned Methods Are Best in Kitchen

Mrs. John Coolidge, daughter of the governor of Connecticut, waits on the steps of her home in West Haven to greet her husband when he returns from a hard day's work at the railroad office.

Making sure that John Coolidge is properly fed is an important item on Florence's household program. She calls herself a "working" partner of the former President's son. Her story is told in an article in the January Cosmopolitan magazine.

To be particular in the way the table is set for herself and her husband, John, is another item in her program. (International Newsreel photos.)

FEAR MISSING BOY IS DEAD

Wooster, O., Dec. 14 (AP)—The year-long search for little Melvin Horst reached its bitterest point today as residents of the village of Orrville, plunged overnight from high hopes to grim despair, fearfully awaited the investigation of a report that the child is dead.

There have been nearly a thousand other "clues," which vanished into nothingness, but this time Special Prosecutor Walter J. Mougey feared he would find the boy dead.

The story given him, Mougey said, was that Melvin had been killed by a youthful hit-and-run driver the day he failed to return home, and late that night was buried a mile from the village.

The hit-and-run driver was driven by his conscience to tell his informant of Melvin's fate only a few days ago. The motorist, a young man, said he was afraid of being prosecuted for murder, so he story ran.

300 Made Homeless in Portugal Flood

Lisbon, Portugal, Dec. 14 (AP)—Floods and storms today continued to rage in all parts of Portugal, in some cases driving families from their homes.

At Miranha 50 families, numbering in all 300 persons, were made homeless by floods when the river Baiha burst its banks. Several houses caved in. The population fled in panic. The flood waters swept a cemetery and tore open tombs, several coffins being carried away on the river.

Alcoholism Kills Man in Worcester

Worcester, Dec. 14 Eira Bacon 40, former railroad man and Worcester State Hospital employe, was found dead today in a rooming house in Kelley ct.

Two bottles of whiskey were in bed beside him and physicians said the man died of alcoholism. Bacon was station agent at Rutland, Vt., for some years and recently has been employed at the State Hospital, being discharged three days ago.

No Reno Divorces on Friday the 13th

Reno, Dec. 14 (AP)—Patrons of a well-known industry of the city dislike to take unnecessary chances, ordinarily a day's grist of divorces rung from 10 to 30. The total on Friday the 13th was zero.

GREECE ELECTS NEW PRESIDENT

Athens, Dec. 14 (AP)—Alexander Zaimis, who preceded M. Venizelos as Premier, was elected President of Greece by the Grecian Parliament today.

He succeeds Admiral Kordouliotis, who resigned this week because of ill health and approaching old age.

M. Zaimis' success caused no surprise as it was known influential elements had aligned themselves with him.

Zaimis has been prime minister and minister of foreign affairs several times.

Arabs Protest Balfour Edict

Amman, Palestine, Dec. 14 (AP)

The Transjordan National Congress, attended by 100 delegates from all parts of the country, today reaffirmed its loyalty to Emir Abdullah. A policy of aiming at complete independence was decided on.

The congress decided to protest the Balfour declaration and the attitude of the Palestine Government toward the Arabs in the recent disorders.

The Lexington on Way to Tacoma

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 14 (AP)—The airplane carrier Lexington lifted anchor and proceeded for Tacoma today to supply that city with auxiliary electric power. The giant vessel, one of two largest war vessels in the world will be tied up at a Tacoma dock for the next 30 days, or until the drouth in that vicinity is broken and enough water is available to permit existing water power plants to supply the needs of the city.

Chamber to Watch Terminal Hearing

On the grounds that its litigation may affect the port of Boston, the Chamber of Commerce maritime association today was granted representation at the coming hearing on the terminal controversy between the State of New Jersey and the New York Central railroad.

The hearing is scheduled before the Interstate Commerce Commission following an attack by New Jersey on the lighterage, floatage, trucking and other terminal arrangements imposed by the railroad.

Woman, 102, Tells Her Secret of Long Life

"Work hard, pray hard and don't ever indulge in intoxicating liquor."

That's the formula which enabled Mrs. Mary Brown of 41 Lawrence ave., Charlestown, to reach her 102d birthday today.

"Do everything in moderation—such as drinking and eating," she said was her advice to the modern girl, of whom she disapproves somewhat.

"I'm mighty glad skirts are coming down again," she continued, "for I never did like short skirts They aren't moral, even though they are more healthy than the long street-sweeping kind, which I don't like, either."

Mrs. Brown says that besides refraining from getting intoxicated, people need to pray hard more than anything else.

Working hard, according to this widow of two Civil War Veterans, is the keynote to long age.

"I've done every kind of work a woman could do," she commented Old people should take care of their health was the opinion of this 102-year-old woman. She is very moderate in all her habits, "except that of praying."

Asked to name her favorite man in American history, she promptly replied:

"Al Smith, of course."

Mrs. Brown is a native of Kerry, Ireland, and came to Boston when 20 years old.

NO GOOD OLD DAYS.

Mrs. Brown says she wouldn't care to go back to what some call the "good old days."

"We had to be careful not to have too much fun in those days," she said, "and it wasn't like today."

The Charlestown woman says that people of today "go nowhere for all their hurry." She had her "first and last automobile ride" 12 years ago and didn't care for more "It was too darn fast," she confessed.

Mrs. Brown still retains her complete grasp on affairs although she is not so well as she was a few years ago. She spends most of her time in bed, but likes to read the newspapers.

"The Boston Evening American is the best," she says.

ONLY A NIECE LEFT

All her old-time friends and relatives have gone now, except a niece, Miss Mary Keeley, who lives with her.

Two nurses from the Community Health Association are her favorites Miss Katherine Novakowska and Miss Emma Wahl visit her frequently. Today they brought her a huge birthday cake with her birthday dates engraved in candy.

"They're mighty nice girls," said Mrs Brown, "and they restore my faith in the modern girl."

As the reporter and photograph er left the room, Mrs. Brown called out cheerfully:

"See you next year on my 103rd birthday!"

Files Exceptions in Friede Book Case

Attorney Thomas D. Lavelle today filed exceptions, to be heard by the Supreme Court, in the case of Donald B. Friede, New York book publisher, who recently was found guilty in Superior Court of selling an objectionable book.

The exceptions relate to the refusal of the late Judge Robert F. Bushnell to allow the entire book, "An American Tragedy," to be considered and permitting the government to put in only excerpts.

North End Boy Hit by Truck

Dominic Forcellete, 5, of Endicott st., North End, is on the danger list at the Massachusetts Relief hospital where he was taken today after being hit by a truck near his home.

The boy is suffering from concussion of the brain. Frank Giannelli of Lynde st., Everett, who was driving the truck, took the boy to the hospital.

Man, 70, Dies in Fall Down Elevator Shaft

Springfield, Dec. 14 (AP)—William Febb, 70, employed in the shipping department of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company, died today as the result of injuries suffered when he walked into an open elevator shaft and plunged from the first floor to the basement.

U. S. to Hear Europe's Christmas Music

New York Dec 14 (AP)—An attempt is to be made to give radio America a Christmas present from abroad

Plans are being perfected by the National Broadcasting Company to pick up programs originating in England Germany and Holland on Christmas and rebroadcast them through its entire network. In addition NBC will make available to the world via short waves on Christmas eve a Christmas carol song to be picked up from Madison Square Garden New York, where more than 1000 singers will participate.

Police Resent Navy Men's Removal

Providence, R. I., Dec. 14 (AP)—Providence detectives were ordered by Supt. of Police O'Neil today to find out why Detectives Joseph Nolan and Jos. Cook from Boston hospital two sailors who were injured in an auto accident here early yesterday morning. The sailors, Edward W. Batchelor, 19, of Middlebro, Mass., and Thomas J. Dunn, 20, of Camden, N. J., are now at the Newport Naval Hospital. It was assumed in the office of the City Marshal that the detectives were removed from the case because they were Boston officers.

Woman, 102, Doesn't Care for Flappers

Mrs. Mary Brown of Charlestown as she was about to cut her birthday cake to celebrate her 102d birthday anniversary. Work, play and shun liquor is her secret for a long life. She doesn't think much of short skirts and doesn't approve flappers, but the devotion of two young nurses who gave her this cake makes her feel that the girls of today are pretty good after all. "See you again nex. year," she told the cameraman who took the picture. (Staff photo.)

JAPS DEMAND PROTECTION OF NATIONALS

Tokio Warns Soviet to Submit a Full Report on the Manchurian Situation

Tokio, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Japanese Government today informed the Russian Foreign Office that Japan is not satisfied with scant news concerning Japanese Nationals in Northwestern Manchuria, where Russian troops have occupied a wide zone of the Khingan mountains

While an international train, carrying consular officers of several nations, rolled from Harbin toward the occupied zone, where the officers hope to conduct a first hand investigation, Japan, through its embassy at Moscow, informed the Russian Government that it considers general assurances of the safety of all Japanese as "inadequate." The Soviet Government was further informed that details would be insisted on in the future.

Consular officers of the United States, Japan, Great Britain, France and Germany are aboard the train, hoping to determine the condition of their nationals in the area.

Possibility of an unpleasant Sino-Japanese incident has arisen in connection with Tokio's intention to appoint Torikichi Obata, former ambassador to Turkey, as minister to China. The Japanese Government asked Chinese approval of the appointment last week, and, not having received a satisfactory response, has instructed the Japanese consul at Nanking to press for an early reply.

RENEW PROBE IN CIGAR MYSTERY

Milwaukee, Dec. 14 (AP)—Cleared of fraud charges only a few months ago, Elmer S. Huckins, "financial wizard" of Hancock, Wis., today faced a new inquiry into his mysterious business.

E. J. Koelzer, assistant United States district attorney, announced a federal grand jury is to investigate operations of the firm headed by Huckins and his son George of Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Midwestern investors, government officials have estimated, have placed $3,000,000 with Huckins, who paid dividends of from 20 to 52 per cent.

Koelzer prosecuted the last case against Huckins in federal court, when the financier won a dismissal of charges that he had used the mails to defraud.

At that time, the government sought to establish that Huckins was not in the cigar business, as he claimed. Koelzer had procured affidavits from leading cigar manufacturers, but was prevented from putting them in the record.

12 Trained Seals Killed in Fire

Kingston, N. Y., Dec. 14 (INS)—Despite their adeptness at juggling firebrands, 12 seals died in a fire which swept the quarters of Huling Brothers-Rice professional trainers of seals.

Fortunately, Charlie, one of the cleverest seals in the world, and known from coast to coast, was traveling on the road, thus escaping possible death.

Girl Autoist Wins $50,000 R. R. Verdict

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Damages of $50,000 were awarded Miss Lucy May Shields in a sealed verdict returned today by Federal Judge Grover Moscowitz in her suit for $250,000 against the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

Two years ago at Linden, N. J., a freight train struck her automobile, killing the chauffeur and injuring Miss Shields.

Youth, 21, Will Be Ordained Deacon

New York, Dec. 14 (INS)—Edward Heyne Hardy, Jr., 21, is to be ordained a deacon at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine next Saturday.

Hardy, who will be youngest person ever to be ordained deacon in this cathedral of the Episcopal Church, is a graduate of Columbia College and General Theological Seminary. He is master of seventeen languages, including Syriac and Sanskrit.

Bristol Insurance Co. Assets $76,000

Assets of nearly $76,000 are listed in the inventory of the Bristol County Mutual Liability Insurance Co. of New Bedford, filed today in Superior Court by Alfred R. Shrigley as receiver. The assets consist of railroad, telephone and electric bonds

Moore Is Urged as Envoy to Poland

Warsaw, Poland, Dec. 14 (AP)—The United States legation at Warsaw today approached the Polish government inquiring whether Alexander P. Moore, former ambassador to Spain and Peru, would be acceptable as American ambassador at Warsaw.

ATTENTION, GOODFELLOWS! CHRISTMAS IS ONLY 11 DAYS AWAY

PPINESS OF MANY IS UP TO YOU

Holiday Can Be Made Glad If Everyone Able Is Willing to Aid

If it hasn't occurred to you already, Christmas is only 11 days away.

A great deal must be accomplished in 11 days by you GOODFELLOWS if hundreds of homes in Greater Boston are to be happy on Christmas morning.

With each day the appeals from discouraged mothers, from frantic fathers and from eager, excited and hopeful children, come in to the GOODFELLOW EDITOR.

He is hopeful that there will be enough GOODFELLOWS to handle all these appeals. Here are some:

Dear Goodfellow Editor:

My father left my mother and now she is very sick in the hospital. I am living with my grandmother. I know we will not have very much Christmas. I am 11 years old. Please send me something that you can spare. I would like some shoes, size 4. Would be very glad for anything. Hoping you will not forget me, I am,

Dorchester. EDITH.

Dear Goodfellow Editor:

I am writing in hopes that you will help my children this Christmas, for their father has not been working steadily for over a year and it is hard to meet expenses. Last year we didn't get anything, not even our dinner. We had to beg from a neighbor, as I hadn't a thing to eat in the house. My husband was not working, and it will be nearly as bad this year unless I get help. I have two boys, 10 and 7 years old, and twin girls, 15 months old. One of them has been very sick, and my oldest boy has a broken arm, so you see I have doctors' bills to meet. Hoping you will be able to help us in some way, I remain,

Woburn. MRS. D.

Dear Goodfellow Editor:

I am a mother of three small children. My husband has been out of work for some time. I need clothes for myself and children. Would be thankful for anything at all. My husband is very willing; tries anything, but his health is very bad. He has stomach trouble, contracted while in the service, but does not get any money for it. He is a veteran.

Woburn. Yours gratefully,

MRS. B.

Dear Goodfellow Editor:

As my father is out of work, and I know it is going to be a poor Christmas for us, I would be very happy to get anything in the line of shoes or clothes. I am in the second grade in school. My brother in the first grade would also like something for Christmas.

JOHN.

Cochituate.

Dear Goodfellow Editor:

Would you kindly see that we get a little happiness out of Christmas this year by sending us a few things which we need. We are four in the family, besides my father, who left us about five months ago and has not come back yet, so we will have a very sad Christmas.

I am 10 years old, and have a big brother and a brother 12 years. My big brother works and it is pretty hard to get along. My mother cries all the time, so please try to help us, Goodfellow.

We need shoes very badly, and would ask for a few toys but we would rather have the clothes.

Thank you very much,

JEANNETTE.

Salem.

Dear Goodfellow Editor:

I wish that someone would help us in giving something for Christmas for my daddy cannot get any work. He has been out of work for such a long time. My poor little brother goes to school and he is very much in need of warm clothes. He has no shoes at all. His teacher tried a pair of shoes on him but they were too small. He wears rubbers over sneakers to school, and they are very cold for winter.

He is seven years old, but takes a larger size suit, and his shoes are size 13. I also have a baby brother who would like a warm teddy bear suit so he can go out.

Roxbury. Margaret.

CASE 1. Woman who is very poor asks for a few toys for her two children.

CASE 2. Three little girls, ages 14, 12, 9, who have lost their father, ask that their mother who is ill be remembered at Christmas. Mother wears size 36.

CASE 3. Two boys, ages 12 and 10, years whose father has been dead for several years, would like some warm clothing. Mother has to work very hard to make a living for them.

CASE 4. Woman whose husband is not expected to live long, but who hopes he will last over Christmas asks some Goodfellow to help make his last Christmas bright.

CASE 5. An old fellow hopes some Goodfellow will "come along and help him out with a Christmas dinner."

CASE 6. A little girl seven years old who lives in Lowell would appreciate anything some Goodfellow has to spare.

If you want to be a GOODFELLOW call, phone or write for one of our cases that you may want to help. If you are too busy to take a case personally send a contribution to the GOODFELLOW EDITOR, Boston Evening American, 5 Winthrop sq., and he will do the work for you.

At 24 She's Proud Mother of Eight

Mr. and Mrs. George Abalan, No. 664 New Britain ave., Hartford, Ct., are shown above with their brood of eight children—four boys and four girls. Mrs. Abalan, who is only 24, is holding the latest arrival, Louise, while her husband is holding Charles, one. Seated from left to right are: George, 7; Gloria, 5; Rogers, 8. Robert, 3, has his hand on papa's shoulder. Next to him is Virginia, 4, while Agnesa, 6, is at extreme right on bed.

WRECKED SHIP CREW ARRIVE IN BOSTON

Eight Gloucester Fishermen Took to Dories After Storm Crash Off Newfoundland

Eight Gloucester fishermen, whose schooner was wrecked in Newfoundland, landed in Boston today from the steamer Yarmouth at Central wharf.

Capt. Dominick Arsenault and his crew of the schooner Georgiana had tried to make shelter in George Bay after a squall and snow storm set in on them as they fished off St. George, N. F.

The schooner was blown off her course and piled up on the rocks at the entrance of the harbor. Taking to the dories they made shore safely. From St. John's, the American consul sent them to Yarmouth, N. S.

The crew consisted of Henry Tobin, Aloydius Hackett, Joseph Landry, Arthur L. and Leslie Arsenault, Albert Scott and Frank Amiro, all of Gloucester. They left the ship immediately for their homes.

The Georgiana was owned by the Gorton-Pew Fisheries of Gloucester and engaged in the herring and salt fish trade.

Spanish Steamer Is Sunk in Crash, 4 Lost

London, Dec. 14 (AP)—The sinking of the Spanish steamer Antonio Garcia and the probable loss of four men in a collision were reported in London today.

News of the sinking was received by the London agents of the owners of the Greek steamer Hydra, whose captain sent the following message:

"Collided with Spanish steamer Antonio Garcia. She sank. Have collected the crew except four."

COURT RULING IS SETBACK TO DRY AGENTS

Search and Seizure Must Be Incidental, Not the Means to Arrest

New Haven, Ct., Dec. 14 (AP)—Federal Judge Edwin S. Thomas today filed an opinion with the U. S. District Court clerk holding that search and seizure in prohibition enforcement cases must be incidental to an arrest and must not be the exploratory basis upon which to base a possible arrest.

The ruling was made in the case of Anthony J. Staro of Danbury, who claimed illegal acts on the part of Prohibition Agents Henneberry and Cody, former Boston University students, working as "under cover agents" for the Boston federal authorities.

Judge Thomas ruled in effect that the Jones law does not automatically make transportation of liquor or maintenance of a nuisance felonies; that exploratory searches by prohibition agents with or without a warrant in search of evidence are "in contravention of Anglo-American justice and that a confession obtained after an illegal search and seizure cannot be used against the confessor."

The rulings, embodied in his decision to suppress evidence and to return the seized automobile of Staro, followed the filing of motions by the Danbury man's counsel.

The opinion declares that under the prevalent federal rule if the search and seizure is unlawful, the evidence obtained thereunder must be suppressed and the seized property returned.

In O'Connor's Place

London, Dec. 14 (AP)—Alderman D. G. Logan, Laborite, was returned unopposed as a member of Parliament for the Scotland division of Liverpool in succession to the late T. P. (Tay Pay) O'Connor.

Nab 'Dry' Reformer in 'Racketeer' Plot

Chicago, Dec. 14 (INS)—William Payne, president of a reputed "reform" organization here, today faces a two-year penitentiary sentence and a fine of $10,000 after he was found guilty of conspiracy to violate the Volstead Act.

Hubert P. Delaney, former court bailiff, also was found guilty of the same charge. He faces a five-year term in addition to the $10,000 fine.

State's witnesses during the trial described Payne's Law and Order League as a racketeering organization maintaining an outward stand for law enforcement, but actually forcing saloon keepers to buy liquor from designated beer peddling gangs.

Both Our Stores Open Until 9.00 P. M. Tonight and Every Night Until Christmas

Use Our Free Parking Spaces

Sears, Roebuck and Co.
TWO RETAIL DEPARTMENT STORES

Boston:—Brookline Ave. and Audubon Rd.
Cambridge:—1815 Massachusetts Ave.

Declares Neutrality in War Abolished

London, Dec. 14 (AP)—The contention that there has been a fundamental change in the question of belligerent and neutral rights in consequence of the establishment of the League of Nations and the signing of the Kellogg pact, was expressed in a memorandum issued today as a white paper, explaining the reasons for the British signature of the optional clause of the World Court September last.

"If His Majesty's government comply with their obligations under those instruments," says the white paper, "there are only two conditions under which they could be involved in war, first, if some nation has attacked them in violation of one instrument, and secondly, if they were engaged in a belligerent action in fulfillment of article 16 of the covenant against a covenant-breaking state.

"Conditions which might produce a justifiable dispute between this country as a belligerent and another member of the league as a neutral would not exist.

"Either the other members of the league would fulfill their obligations under article 16, in which case we should not require to effect any interference in their commerce, or if they did not, and such interference on our part therefore became necessary, they would have no ground on which to protest against our action.

"In other words as between members of the league, these can be no neutral rights because there can be no neutrals."

HOOVER HAITIAN PLAN APPROVED

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Haiti foreign affairs committee today unanimously approved the Porter resolution to authorize President Hoover to appoint a commission to inquire into the Haitian situation.

Chairman Porter announced he hoped to bring it before the House Monday.

The measure was introduced after the special message from President Hoover requesting authority for such a commission with the hope of determining the United States government's future policy toward the island government.

CHURCHES PLAN MOVIES PROBE

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—An investigation of the motion picture industry's relation to public welfare is to be undertaken by the executive committee of the motion picture commission of the Federal Council of Churches, it was announced today.

The committee issued a statement denying that either the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, or any person connected with the motion picture industry in any way has had anything to do with the organization of the Federal Council's commission or selection of its personnel."

William C. Redfield, former Secretary of Commerce, recently resigned as chairman of the commission of the churches because, it was reported, he learned the council had been organized at the suggestion of Will Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America.

Rev. Charles Stelzle, a Presbyterian clergyman and a publicity representative for the council was declared to be in the pay of both Hays and the council. The council will dispense with his services at the end of this month.

Civil War Nurse, 95

Newport, R. I., Dec. 14—Mrs. Mary A. Atkinson, one of the few surviving Civil War nurses, celebrates her 95th birthday today with an informal reception at her home on Broadway.

SAYS WIFE IS SLAIN WOMAN

Marked Tree, Ark., Dec. 14 (AP)—The body of a woman found in a clump of bushes near here was identified today as that of Mrs. Beatrice Clutts, member of a prominent Memphis, Tenn., family. Her husband established her identity. He said she had been in Chicago two weeks and left there several days ago in an automobile for Memphis.

Officers said they believed the woman was killed in another section and that the body was brought near here in an automobile and then dragged to the isolated spot where it was found.

The head was badly battered, with a bullet wound in the side and one in the back.

Officers said they learned Clutts and his wife had been separated several weeks, which led her to take the Chicago trip.

Mrs. Clutts was 23, and mother of two children.

B. & A. to Expend Million in Allston

Contracts for changes in the Beacon Park yards of the Boston & Albany Railroad in Allston, at a cost exceeding $1,000,000, have been awarded.

The improvements will include a 25 stall engine house, to be equipped with two 445 horsepower boilers and a new turntable 100 feet in diameter.

To complete this work much of the trackage will have to be rearranged.

NAME SLAYER IN AUBURN RIOT

Auburn, N. Y., Dec. 14 (AP)—Command of directors of the National Society of Penal Information for the immediate reorganization of Dr. Raymond F. C. Kieb, State commissioner of correction, because of Wednesday's prison riot here, and a second statement by Warden Edgar S. Jennings, today overshadowed the State's investigation into the riot itself.

The resolution of the penal information body's directors, adopted in New York, asked Governor Roosevelt to remove Dr. Kieb as "unfitted" for the post he holds as head of the prisons system. Mayor Charles D. Osborne of this city is president of the society and one of the directors.

Warden Jennings' statement was in defense of the Mutual Welfare League, which Mayor Osborne's father launched as a betterment organization in the prisons of the country, a eulogy of the conduct of his guards at Auburn, and a revelation that more than 20 prisoners released from their cells by the rioters declined to participate in the riot.

The warden also named Max Becker, serving 20 years, as the ringleader suspected of firing the shot which cost the life of Principal Keeper George A. Durnford when the wave of fury first broke.

Dr. Kieb, in Albany, joked about the matter, saying he "hoped they would be successful" in their move to oust him.

$200,000 Voted for Naval Delegation

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—By unanimous action the House today adopted the Wood resolution to appropriate $200,000 for the expenses of the American delegates to the London naval conference in January, 1930.

'Social Inequality' Divorce

Bridgeport, Ct., Dec. 14—A plea that his wife, wealthy matron from the select circles of Washington left him with the explanation that he was not her social equal, won a divorce for Clayton G. Ambrose, 27, in superior court here.

FOR HACKING COUGHS

FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE SOOTHES AND HEALS

BUILDS NEW STRENGTH

ALL PURE FOOD

TOMORROW'S SUNDAY ADVERTISER CARRIES THE LAST MARTHA LEE RAPP-WRAP WAX PAPER COUPON

With the compliments of the

MARTHA LEE WOMEN'S CLUB

This

Beautiful White or Colored Enamel Wax Paper Cabinet—50 Cent Value and a Sample Roll of Rapp-Wrap Wax Paper

This is Number 5 of a series of coupons which have appeared in the Boston Evening American. The sixth and last coupon in this series will appear in tomorrow's Sunday Advertiser. These six coupons (one of each number) when presented to any of the authorized dealers will entitle you to receive—free of any cost—a beautiful white or colored enamel wax paper cabinet and a roll of Rapp-Wrap Wax Paper. This is a Free Offer. You don't have to buy anything.

5

MR. DEALER: Please present with my compliments, a Rapp-Wrap Wax Paper Cabinet (50 cent value) with tacks for installing, and a sample roll of Rapp-Wrap Waxer in return for 6 coupons numbered 1 to 6, inclusive, from the pages of the Boston Evening American and Sunday Advertiser, Coupon No. 1 to be bear the signature and address of the person who presents the six coupons.

MR. DEALER: Please hold this coupon. It will be called for by Martha Lee later.

Only one to a Customer

Spirit of State Juniors Forecasts Prosperous Future for Clubdom

Interest of Girls Shown in Survey

The State-wide campaign for junior clubs which has been under way for some time, is beginning to show fruit, thanks to the untiring efforts of Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., chairman.

The matter of juniors is receiving serious attention from clubwomen throughout the State, and in every hamlet and town where a club exists, a junior group has been organized or is in the process of formation.

To interest girls in community life and to teach them to work for the betterment of the city and town in which they live, have been the chief interests of Mrs. Bennett since she organized the department.

If prevention work means so much to the future progress and success of a community; if work with juveniles is the nucleus of satisfying results then the junior club program as sponsored by the State Federation of Women's Clubs is indeed a noble endeavor.

"No club can be accomplishing a greater piece of work for the community, than by sponsoring this department, for by so doing it is raising the standards of both the older and younger generation, Mrs. Bennett states.

"It is all very well to talk careers and "big money" to girls, but if we are to get away from the materialism which every lecturer, student of psychology and clubwoman deplores at every opportunity, then the young girl must be given an esthetic substitute in club relationships and all-possessing desire to remain in the community and help in its development, spiritual and economic."

The Juniors of West Newton Educational Club are an enterprising group. The Juniors of Reading also do great work and with their motto: "With the ropes of today we ring the bells of tomorrow" they should go far.

Then there are the Rockland Juniors, a group of exceptional abilities and promises, who have taken under their wing an orphan for whose educational and social development they have pledged themselves. The Juniors of the Unity Club of West Roxbury have taken as their credo: "We plan noble deeds each day, making life for others a pleasant way." And for their slogan: "Junior, Unity, Club, Joyous, Useful, Clean."

"Service and Friendliness" is the slogan of the Quincy Juniors. To show the bond of affection which exists between them the members of the Junior Home Club of East Boston recently presented a junior pin to their presidadent, Miss Alma Cuteliffe.

The Junior Club of Orange is perhaps one of the oldest junior clubs in the state. It has 50 members of high school age and their principal interest right now is in working for the Veterans' hospital at Rutland. Mrs. Bennett is particularly proud of these juniors.

And so on down the list, endless as it seems, Juniors, young girls, mothers of tomorrow, are taking their place in the great scheme of human activity, contributing their intellect, their energies and their abilities to a cause great and noble.

SALEM WOMAN'S CLUB

Edward F. Miller will bring "The World in Our Dooryard" to the club meeting next Wednesday, to be held in Ames Hall at 3 p. m. Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, who is covering more mileage these days than is ordinary, is to be the guest, and doubtless she will repeat her legislative program for the benefit of the clubwomen who haven't been reading the news columns.

Since the legislative committee, Mrs. Ralph C. Browne, chairman has charge of part of the program Mrs. Pigeon will outline the bills, stressing particularly that the legislative department of the State Federation is non-partisan in its policy and that the final decision and conclusion on a measure is left to the individual clubwomen.

The club chorus will sing Christmas carols, and Miss Emily D. Hill, violinist, will play. The hospitality committee are to serve.

WOMENS' ORGANIZATION, BOSTON RETAIL DRUGGISTS

Mrs. Martin Adamo, presid nt, is introducing as an innovation on the club program, a Home Talent Day, and at the Christmas party, next Thursday, at 2.30 p m., at the College of Pharmacy, the club members will present it. Mrs. Adrian L. Staples has charge of the program, which features Mrs. Jessie F. Waterhouse, in a reading of Longfellow's "King Robert of Sicily."

The reading of a one-act play entitled "The Acid Test" will follow. Mrs. Leslie M. Olson will entertain at the piano; Mrs. Ray S. Kelley will sing and Mrs. E. G. Hires will read an original story.

The club will be led in the singing of Christmas carols by Mrs. Minnie Shrefflon Wesley. Mrs. A. Martin, chairman of the hospitality committee, will serve. During the social hour, Miss Grace Chynoweth will entertain with a character reading of the members from their handkerchiefs.

BELMONT WOMEN'S CLUB

In the year book of this club I find two lines of type which impressed me: "By vote of the club this meeting is omitted and the appropriation used for Christmas charities."

The meeting was the December 24 one. Doubtless many other clubs throughout the State are pursuing a similar policy, but the Belmont Women's Club program was the only one brought to my attention. I just had to comment on such spirited generosity. Mrs. Edwin C. Pardee heads this club of 700 women, of whom the State Federation is extremely proud.

JAMAICA PLAIN TUESDAY CLUB

Next Tuesday night the usual meeting in the Unitarian Parish House takes place with Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, the stellar attraction. "History in the Making" will be the subject of her talk.

If you have never been to the Loring Greenough House in Jamaica Plain the historic landmark which these clubwomen resurrected from practical extinction, Christmas eve will be the time and a great opportunity. Mrs. Gould N. Thaxter, writing me of the meeting, informs, too, that the house will be open to the members of the club and friends, with an annual surprise feature in the bargain. From 7:30 p. m. to 10 p. m. the house will spell the cheery brightness of Yuletide.

CHATHAM WOMAN'S CLUB

Way down to the Cape did Mrs. Fred L. Pigeon, State Federation legislative chairman, travel to present the measures and bills which the parent organization have recommended to the women for their earnest study and analysis. Mrs. Pigeon outlined the newly revised book law, which will be presented to the Legislature; the abolition of the death penalty also will be presented and countless other legislative morsels over which the women can chew until the time for action arrives. Miss Stella Eldredge led the singing of Christmas carols. Mrs. William Norcross, local legislative chairman, had charge of the program.

ST. VINCENT'S ORPHAN GUILD

Next Monday the Guild closes the year of 1929 with a bridge and whist at the new home, 45 Gayette rd., North Cambridge, Mrs. O. H. Bryant and Mrs. James V. Duffy are to be hostesses. Success, of course, for the worthy institution which these women support.

Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, Scientist, says:

"I don't know how to thank you for the kind attention you have given my poor little efforts and all I can say is I wish you a Merry Christmas and a very prosperous New Year. Also the same to your valuable paper."

Should her wishes come true, "my poor little efforts" will take on gigantic proportions. The column belongs to the club women. I am, of course, their humble servant. Really, no thanks are necessary.

NEW ENGLAND WOMEN'S CLUB

Mrs. H. Addington Bruce, chairman of the literature committee, has arranged a delightful program next Monday at the regular 2:30 p. m. meeting in the Crystal Room of the Hotel Statler. After which tea will be served, with Mrs. Bertha N. Atwell and Mrs. Albert J. McKnight at the tables. Mrs. Porter will entertain with readings and interpretations with associated music.

On the same day the drama class, Mrs. Louella Poole Pahts, leader, will have its second reading of Shakespeare's "Richard II." There is to be no meeting of the club on December 23

Mercy Brewster

The Weather

For Boston and vicinity—Fair and colder tonight and Sunday; moderate west to north winds; the minimum temperature tonight will be near 26.

For Southern New England—Cloudy, slightly colder except in Connecticut, tonight preceded by rain on the coast this afternoon and tonight; Sunday cloudy and colder, fresh west shifting to north winds.

For Northern New England—Cloudy, with snow in New Hampshire and Vermont tonight; colder except in the south coast; Sunday partly cloudy and colder; fresh west and northwest winds.

For Eastern New York—Cloudy with light rain or snow and slightly colder in central and north portions tonight; Sunday cloudy, slightly colder; fresh northwest winds.

OCEAN FORECAST

Steamers departing today for European ports will have fresh to strong west winds and overcast weather preceded by light showers to the Grand Banks.

OBSERVATIONS AT BOSTON AT 8 A. M.

Barometer	29.96 inches
Temperature	30 degrees
Wind	Southwest 6 miles
Humidity	93 per cent
Sky	Cloudy
Precipitation previous 24 hours	.23 inch
Max. temperature yesterday	42 degrees
Min. temperature last night	35 degrees

THE WEATHER IN OTHER LOCALITIES

Stations	—Temperatures— Max. Min. today night today		Weather
Atlantic City	46	34	Cloudy
Bismarck, N. D.	14	4	Cloudy
Buffalo	34	28	Cloudy
Calgary	4	4	P Cldy
Charleston, S. C.	68	46	Cloudy
Chicago	36	28	Cloudy
Cincinnati	38	34	Cloudy
Denver	50	22	Clear
Eastport, Me.	38	38	Rain
Helena	34	24	Cloudy
Helena, Mont.	34	24	Cloudy
Huron, S. Dak.	18	6	Cloudy
Jacksonville	82	58	Cloudy
Kansas City, Mo.	42	30	Cloudy
Key West	72	70	Cloudy
Los Angeles	70	48	Clear
Memphis	60	56	Cloudy
Miami, Fla.	76	70	Cloudy
Montreal	30	24	Cloudy
Nantucket	42	38	Cloudy
New Orleans	62	58	Cloudy
New York	46	40	Cloudy
Norfolk, Va.	48	40	Rain
North Platte, Neb.	34	24	P Cldy
Philadelphia	40	40	P Cldy
Pittsburgh, Kans.	42	32	Cloudy
Pittsburgh	52	38	Cloudy
Portland, Me.	32	32	Rain
Raleigh	48	48	Cloudy
Reno	46	24	Rain
Salt Lake City	42	38	Clear
San Francisco	62	52	Cloudy
Santa Fe, N. M.	34	16	Clear
Seattle	52	46	Rain
Tampa	82	60	Cloudy
Washington	48	42	Cloudy
Wichita, Kans.	42	34	40 Rain

CALENDAR FOR SATURDAY, DEC. 14

Sun rises	7:05
Sun sets	4:12
Length of day	9 hrs. 7 min.
Moon sets	4:02 a. m.
High tide	6:06 a. m., 6:31 p. m.
Height, feet	10.4

Full moon, Dec. 16, 8m. morning. W. Last quar., Dec. 23, 9h. 27m. evening. F. New moon, Dec. 30, 6h. 42m. evening. W. First qtr., Jan. 7, 10h. 11m., evening. W.

Height at highest tonight at dusk.

Daily Crossword Puzzle

For today's photograph we have chosen the popular motion picture actress who recently became Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. Spell out her full screen name in the following puzzle.

HORIZONTAL

1—Exclamation
5—Makes
9—Exude
10—Pronoun
11—Tabu land
13—Mists or befogs
15—Cuddle to child
16—Guide
17—Girl's name
19—Poor Gyro's measure
20—Bow like a cat
22—Features of performance, collectively (pl.)
23—Crippled
24—Resort in Switzerland
25—Mom: unusual
27—Correlative of either
28—Decay
30—Within
31—Exist
33—Fabulous bird of Arabia
34—Girl's name
35—Cry of a sheep
36—Seek justice by legal process
39—Endeavor to persuade
43—Great letter
44—Part of "to be"
45—River in Italy
46—Finish
48—Symbol for antimony
49—Forest in England
51—Introduction to a poem
53—Sea: Fr.
55—What actress, who sang a great success in "Our Dancing Daughters," is the wife of Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.?

57—Fleet of ships
58—Also 59—Dry
60—Gaze intently
61—Group of trees
62—Super cold
64—By
65—Assigned service or business
66—Obliging
67—Perform

VERTICAL

1—Part of "to be"
2—Listen
3—Rant
4—Latin conjunction
5—Dishonor
6—Be beholded to
7—Bone
8—Fundamental principles of an art or science
9—Existed
10—Shortened form of Edward
12—One who wisely admires station
14—Beast of burden
18—Smoothed pitcher
21—Measure
26—Girl's name
29—Insect
31—Fashionable definite article
32—One of the chief Babylonian gods
34—Outer garments
37—Biennial plant cultivated as a vegetable (pl.)
38—Pronoun
40—Pertaining to a wheel
41—Color
42—Sanctioned officially
47—Make incline
49—Cut into days
50—Falls as snow
52—Dyed cloth
54—Ry
57—Spanish
58—Slightly opened
61—Printer's measure
63—Toward
64—Established by

Herewith is the solution to yesterday's puzzle.

P	O	R	T	E	R		P	S	Y	C	H	E
R	A	Y		V	A	N		O	H		A	L	L
O	R	E		E	G	O		L	O	N	E
V	E			E	G	G	S		D	E		L	A	C
E				N	O	O	N			I	R	O	N
			R	A	M	W	I	L	L	A
		C	A	T	H	E	R		M	I	N	T
M	A	G	I	L		C	A	T	H	E	R	I	N	E
A	R											S
X		I		S								E	R	O
J	I	R	E		C	A	T	H	E	R		S	I	L
M	O	W		U	P		A	D	D		A	S	H
U	S	E		L	E		M	E	T		A	L	E
M	E	R	I	T	S			N	E	A	R	E	R

Copyright, 1929, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

A car needs a home. Have you a garage for rent? Tell about it and give location in the Want Ads. Dial 5000. Today's copy is

News of Boston Churches

Including Massachusetts and Greater Boston Churches

CHURCHES ARE PREPARING FOR XMAS

TO DEDICATE A TABLET.

The Rt. Rev. Samuel G. Babcock will dedicate a memorial tablet tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in St. Mary's for Sailors of East Boston in memory of George Pierson by Bentley Mr. Bentley died in August 1927, after having been rector of St. Mary for nearly 10 years. The tablet has been given by the congregation of St. Mary's.

BISHOP SLATTERY.

The Rt. Rev. Charles L. Slattery D. D., will preach in the chapel of Wellesley College, of whose board of trustees he is president, tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock At 3:30 p. m. Bishop Slattery will dedicate the new parish house of St. Andrew's Church, Harvoer, where the Rev. Walter M Whitehead is the rector. In the evening at 7:30 the bishop will hold a confirmation service in Grace Church, South Boston, when a class of candidates will be presented by the rector, the Rev. Frederick A. Reeve.

ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL.

Among numerous Christmas parties to be ushered in this coming week, one of the most interesting and festive will be held by the Church Service League of the Episcopal Diocese in the crypt of St. Paul's Cathedral In addition to the 200 members from eastern Massachusetts, there will be a dozen or more foreign missionaries who are now on absent leave. Many of them come from India and other places in eastern Asia.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

"God the Preserver of Man" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches tomorrow. The golden text is: "The Lord preserveth all them that love Him.

"BROADCASTING THE TRUTH"

Fr M J Ahern, S. J., who conducts the question box for the Radio hour, will speak next Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at No. 1 Arlington st. before the Girls' College Guild His topic will be, "Broadcasting the Truth on the Radio and Off."

ST THERESA'S NOVENA

The novena of Thursdays in honor of St. Theresa at St. Stephen's Church, the shrine of the "Little Flower" in Boston, will have for the preacher, Dec. 19 the Rev. Timothy J. Donovan, Church of the Annunciation. Dan'el Vera Services will be held at 12:20 noon, 3:30, 5:20, 7:45 p. m. Fr. Donovan will preach at the 3:20 and 7:45 p. m. services.

BOSTON EVANGELISM

Fifty or more of the denominational leaders of Greater Boston have been invited to lunch at the Boston City Club next Wednesday with the Rev. George Lyman Paine in charge with the Rev. Charles L. Goodell, an executive secretary of the Federal Council of Churches the whole question of evangelism. There will be with Dr. Goodell a team of evangelists.

ROXBURY PAROCHIAL

The parochial school in connection with St. Patrick's church Pleasant st., Roxbury, is progressing rapidly. Last Sunday afternoon the cornerstone was laid with appropriate ceremonies. An introductory address was made by Fr. William J. Casey, the pastor.

REV H. E. B. SPEIGHT

Dr. Speight, formerly minister of King's chapel and now professor of philosophy in Dartmouth College, has recently joined the Society of Friends, or the denomination of Quakers, as they are more generally known and is in sympathy with ideas of this society of Peace.

FREE BAPTIST

The Rev. F. S. Barnauer of the Warren Ave. Baptist Church will preach tomorrow morning on "Christ and the Higher Loyalties of Life." In the evening the program and message will be one of Christmas preparation.

FORD HALL

Dr. Fritz Wittels of Vienna, noted psychoanalyst and psychiatrist, and the first biographer of Sigmund Freud, will be the speaker tomorrow evening He will answer a series of questions, and the forum will take on the appearance of a conference.

"EAGER HEART"

A Christmas play, called "Eager Heart," by Mrs. A. H. Buckton of England, will be produced at the Copley Methodist Church tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock. This play was first produced in Boston about 15 years ago, when Mrs. Buckton came to Boston for the express purpose of putting it on. At that time following its great artistic and financial success, Mrs Buckton hoped it would be a yearly event in Boston. The story is of Mary, Joseph, Family and the Shepherds.

WEST NEWTON BAPTIST

Mr. Fred L. Smith of West Newton, and president of the Brotherhood of the Baptist Church, leader of a large Bible class, will lecture at the West Newton Baptist Church next Monday evening on "The ancient Summerians. Mr. Smith has made an extensive study of this subject in connection with the Bible. This lecture, at the Lincoln Park Baptist church, West Newton, will begin at 7:45.

EPISCOPALIAN CLUB

There will be a Father and Sons night at the Copley-Plaza Monday evening when the chief speaker of the evening will be Bishop Slattery. There will also be an illustrated lecture and moving picture by Mr. Bradford Washburn, "Thrills Among the Needles of Mont Blanc"

OLD SOUTH FORUM

"The Problem of Russia" will be discussed tomorrow afternoon at the Old South Meeting House on Washington st. 2.15. The speaker Victor A. Yakhontoff was the assistant secretary of war under the Kerensky government and former military attache at the Imperial Russian Embassy at Tokio.

PILGRIM CHURCH

The Scripture story in art will be given at the Pilgrim Church Uphams Corner, Dorchester, tomorrow evening, when the young people of the church will render the entire charge of the program In the morning Rev Clarence Wells Dunbrack will preach to a delegation of No. 1 Order of the Rainbow on "The Inevitable Christ" All music will be from the compositions of Mendelssohn.

CHRISTMAS CAROLS

At the First Methodist Church Temple st., tomorrow evening there will be an open air carol service from the balcony at 6:30. Following this there will be a procession of the church, with more singing and a dramatic presentation

A Wonderful Christmas Present

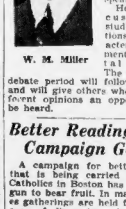
For the first time yesterday children were admitted to the splendid new Catholic Settlement House at 11 Tileston st.—built by the Catholic Charitable Bureau—when a fortunate few were ushered into the Christmas room where their eyes enlarged at what they saw in preparation for parties next Thursday and Friday. Miss Anna M. Scarpa is shown in the picture telling the children all about wonderful things to come when Santa Claus arrives.

W. M. Miller Speaks at Franklin Union

"Is Religion Needed in Education?" is the subject about which Schoolmaster William M. Miller will speak tomorrow evening at Franklin Union Hall Berkeley st.

Mr. Miller is head of the Washington Irving school in Roslindale and is known as a forceful and interesting speaker.

He has discussed his studies on questions of character development and mental processes The question or debate period will follow the talk and will give others who have different opinions an opportunity to be heard.



W. M. Miller

Better Reading Campaign Goes On

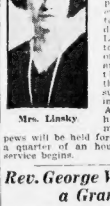
A campaign for better reading that is being carried on by the Catholics in Boston has already begun to bear fruit. In many church gatherings are held for the purpose of discussing what kinds of books and magazines should be read. Last Sunday Fr Francis I. Phelan, S. T. E., who is in charge of the Catholic movement went to St. Hugh's church, Roxbury, and there addressed an interested group of young people. Tomorrow he will go to St. Augustine's church, South Boston.

TEMPLE ISRAEL TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Tomorrow will be a great day for Temple Israel when it celebrates its 75th anniversary Prominent among the speakers and leaders in Protestantism will be Governor Allen and many of the important and prominent citizens will be at the Temple Israel Meeting House tomorrow to take part in the various ceremonies. In the evening a group of young men and women will give a pageant telling the story of Temple Israel.

Rabbi Levi

In the morning Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York city will preach the anniversary sermon; this will be broadcast. In the evening there will be short addresses by Governor Allen, Carl J. Haffenbugh, Dr. Ashley D. Leavitt, Rabbi Harry Levi and Rabbi Herman H. Rubenovitz. All of the music will be rendered by the choral society of the Temple and a procession of children will march to the accompaniment of appropriate music. This procession is to be led by direct descendants of founders of the Temple, and one song to be sung has been written by Mrs. Fanny Barnett Linsley. The pageant in the evening, written and produced by Mrs. Linsley, will tell something of the history and spirit of this society that has had such phenominal growth.



Mrs. Linsley

Announcement has been made that pews will be held for owners until a quarter of an hour before the service begins.

Rev. George W. Owen a Grandfather

Announcement has come to the Rev. and Mrs. Owen of the Hyde Park Congregational Church that a daughter has been born to their missionary daughter Mrs. G Rose Thomas of Sholapur India Dr Owen is a member of the prudential board of the American Board of Foreign Missions and finds himself a very happy grandfather

Up Comes the Tide

THE Christmas-tide is coming up;
It is rolling in from a boundless sea.
And it slowly covers the barren land
With an overwhelming flood of joy.
It reaches out to hearts that are cold,
And touches the lips grown grim by care,
With a torrent of love and a rush of good-will
Our ships come in on the Christmas-tide

Churches Combine for Song Service

Instead of the Sunday afternoon "Hour of Organ Music" the combined choirs of First Church (Unitarian), Central Congregational Church and the Choral Art Society of Boston University will present a service of choral music tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 at the First Church, corner Berkeley and Marlboro sts., Boston The combined choirs, which comprise 100 voices, will be under the direction of Prof. H. Augustine Smith. William E. Zeuch will preside at the organ

Catholic Radio Hour Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon, the Rev. Jones I. Corrigan of Boston College will be the speaker over WNAC on "The Social Menace of the So-Called Birth Control" The Rev. M. J. Ahern will, as usual, take charge of the question box.

Greater BOSTON'S Churches WELCOME YOU

BOSTON

BAPTIST

THE SINGING CHURCH
DUDLEY ST. BAPTIST (5 min. Dudley Sq. & Elevated) REV. H. ERLAND FOSDICK, D.D.
10:30 A. M. SERMON: "OLD WINE IN NEW BOTTLES" Rev. Gaylord B. Clark, 7:15 P.M. "THE CHRISTMAS SERVICE FOR THE LITTLE FOLKS" Rev. Miss Mabel Cratty
The Full Choir Will Sing Christmas Carols Well Out Come Ye Hirelings Both Special Living Christmas Pictures Well Sung and Well Come Upon the Midnight Clear" Sunday School at 12 M. "DO YOU LIKE FOR CHRISTMAS?" Come early for a seat.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Community Hour for All Corner Clarendon and Newbury Sts.
Service 4 P. M. Dr. David Marie

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Berkeley St. at Commonwealth Ave.
Services 11:00 A. M. and 7:00 P. M.
Rev. Samuel M. Lindsay

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

THE FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
The Mother Church, Falkenau Norway and St. Paul Sts., Boston Sunday services at 10:45 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Subject of lesson-sermon, "Christian Science." Sunday School at 10:45 A. M. Testimony meeting every Wednesday evening at 7:30

CONGREGATIONAL

MOUNT VERNON CHURCH
Beacon street and Massachusetts Avenue
Minister, Sidney Lovett. Andrew Boyle Chalmers, 11 A. M. Morning Worship. 7:00 P. M. Evening Praise Service.

UNION CHURCH
Corner Columbus Avenue and W. Newton Street
Rev. Robert A. Jones, minister. 10:30 morning worship. Sermon by the minister. Kindergarten and junior church. 12:00 M. Church school. 6:00 P. M. Young people's meeting. "The Kingdom of Kings."

EPISCOPAL

TRINITY CHURCH
COPLEY SQUARE
11 A. M., Dean W. R. Sperry. 4 P. M., the Rector. 7:30 P. M., Gardner Day

PRESBYTERIAN

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Berkeley St., Phillips Clifford
Columbus Ave. and Berkeley St.
Services 10:30 a. m., 7:30 p. m. School 12 noon

UNITARIAN

Arlington St. Church
Boylston and Arlington Sts.
Arlington St. Subway
11:00 A. M. Sermon, by Dr. U. G. B. Pierce
of Washington, D. C.
"The Marks of a Man"

UNITARIAN

11:00 A. M.
"MALDEN SHRINE A BIBLICAL SURVEY"
Rev. Carlile Sommerhell
Roslindale Unitarian Church

BROOKLINE

BROOKLINE HARVARD CHURCH
Harvard Sq., Rooftop Entrance
Services—Sun. 11:00 A. M., Wed. 8:15
Young People's Supper
Rev. Ashley D. Leavitt

SPECIAL SERVICE

Community Church
Symphony Hall
Sunday 10:45 A. M.
James Waterman Wise
"Race and Religious Conflict: Is It Inevitable?"

VEDANTA CENTRE

Vedanta
TRUTH IS ONE
Services Sunday 11 A. M.—8 P. M.
Monday 8 P. M.
32 Fenway
YOU ARE WELCOME

FORUM

COMMON CAUSE FORUM
Tomorrow 7:45 P. M.
WILLIAM T. MILLER, A. B. A. M.
"IS RELIGION NEEDED IN EDUCATION?"
FRANKLIN UNION HALL
Berkeley and Appleton Streets
Public Invited Free Platform

"The Problem of RUSSIA"
Maj. Gen. Victor A. Yakhontoff
Old South Meeting House
(Milk and Washington Streets)
Sunday, Dec. 15, 3:15 P. M.
CONCERT Questions FREE

SETTLEMENT HOUSE OPENS IN NORTH END

A new $100,000 settlement house at 11 Tileston st., is what Santa Claus is bringing the children of the North End.

A splendidly equipped five-story brick building is now complete with shower baths, offices, gymnasium, chapel, clubrooms library and workshops.

A dream of Fr. George P. O'Connor's has come true and in place of the old ramshackle wooden building formerly on this lot there is now a club in which any child in New England should be proud to belong.

The membership of this settlement is already 1500, and with the opening of the new building numbers will mount rapidly.

A grand opening takes place next Thursday, when all girl members will be admitted to a Christmas party. Every youngster will receive not only a box of candy, but also a pair of warm stockings. There are dolls, cradles, swings, aeroplanes, games by the score and balls galore.

On the following day boys will be admitted for an equal party and for an equal assortment of Christmas presents. All this Christmas joy and building development is the fruit of hard work by the Catholic Charitable Bureau, 43 Tremont st., where Fr. Thomas R. Reynolds and Fr. Barry sit in commond, directing the many charitable efforts of the Boston diocese.

The new building is planned to supply recreation and play for many children who live in Boston's most congested district. Along the narrow streets and alleys of the North End live thousands upon thousands of Italian children who have little open space for play and limited opportunities for wholesome and constructive use of their leisure time. Many of the intelligent teachers trained in social work and a group of sympathetic sisters will have charge of the house. Mr. Leo A. Smith, superintendent of the building will have a general oversight of the boys, especially in the gymnasium.

STAGE AND SCREEN

Mere Man Gets His Place in the Sun of Footlight Glare as Beauty Looks Askance

ANN CORIO

HOW OLD IS Ann? This New England girl is just 19, and she's the star of the "Girls in Blue" coming to shine on the Gayety boards Monday. They do say she's perfectly gorgeous.

MESSRS. CARNOVSKY, KIRKLAND AND LAWFORD

ALEXANDER KIRKLAND is apparently making sure he's telling the whole truth to Norris Carnovsky and Ernest Lawford in "Wings Over Europe" at the Hollis Monday.

KATHARINE DOWNER

LET MUSIC rend the air, for Miss Downer is assuredly attractive. She will be here Christmas night in "Strike Up the Band" at the Shubert. She has "it" evidently. The eyes say so.

OLD GUARD GARRISONS RIALTO

By NICHOLAS YOUNG

ONCE more the ardent drama disciple is invited to take heed of the professed virtues of the Theater Guild and its subscription list. Incidentally, its foes, mostly professional rivals of curious spirit, are urged to proceed devoutly to the drama's wailing wail. For, if all goes well, "Meteor," having teed up its two short weeks at the Hollis, will find itself on Monday not trekking wide open spaces but moving expertly three city blocks to the north and east—to the welcoming Tremont.

• • •

TO add to the season's joys which up to the moment had been flickering feebly, a little unexpected contributing help has arrived in the form of reserve support from Mr. F. Ziegfeld. This gentleman does not care much for subscription lists, but over a season's activities he generally manages, even in stormy weather, to find ways and means of making playgoing popular and profitable. His gesture at this time provides another week of Eddie Cantor and "Whoopee" at the Colonial. And so, with nothing more than a substantial subscription list in one quarter, with drama to match it, and gay musical entertainment in another, the local Rialto is spared a threatened week of discontent and empty playhouses.

Nicholas Young

• • •

AS it turns out the shadows which, according to the sacred tenets of the theater, should have enveloped the old town during the week preceding Christmas, have proved altogether too thin to do any great job at closing in upon the particular temples reached over by Mr. Erlanger. To some extent, of course, circumstances have held out friendly hands. "Meteor," originally booked at the Hollis for two weeks, and with no additional time available, was a new and untried play. The engagement was to be its first severe test as a drama of endurance.

• • •

THAT two weeks might prove insufficient to satisfy box office cravings, even with the Guild's envied subscription roster to fall back upon, could hardly have been included in the early calculations. It is often true that in perilous enterprises, and the theater is no exception to these rigid rules. In the case of "Meteor," the newer plans, if not interrupted, may be ascribed in some measure to the lady called Fortune. It is only by chance that four walls, a good stage and 1626 seats are open to a weekly tenant at the Tremont.

• • •

CONDITIONS at the Colonial, it is discovered, are not exactly parallel, as both theater and attraction have the benefit of what is called "open time" in the trade journals. As there was appeared to be no public inclination to forego Mr. Cantor and his drolleries for Christian hopping—an accepted and expected seasonal blight—the solution presented no staggering difficulties. Mr. Cantor, therefore, remains a toiler on Beyden st., and a boarder at the Ritz Carlton.

Stage Favorite

FLO HENRI

MISS HENRI is one of the Scollay Square vaudeville stars. She goes over big.

GIRLS IN BLUE AT GAYETY

ANN CORIO, shapely New England girl, who at the age of 19 has set the entire burlesque wheel on fire, will present her own show "Girls in Blue" at the Gayety, beginning Monday. She is touted to be the greatest individual star in burlesque and while Earl Carroll, Dillingham and other musical comedy producers have tried to lure her away into Broadway productions, her contract was iron-bound and she remained with burlesque, her first love.

Supporting her is a capable company, including Hap Feyer, Church Callahan and Lew Petel, Jean Gaskell, Buddy Nichols, Larry Clark and Vic Mackle, are others of the all-star cast. The chorus was personally selected by Miss Corio, and aided by Bobbie Gayety jazz orchestra, is expected to be a big feature.

JOSE ITURBI CHEERED AT SYMPHONY

By MOSES SMITH

THE appearance of Jose Iturbi, Spanish pianist, at the Symphony concerts this week is in the nature of another field day—or pair of them—for the audience. It is likely that the remarkable demonstration of Friday afternoon will be repeated this evening when this extraordinary virtuoso and artist, fresh from the Iberian peninsula, repeats the solo part in the Liszt E-flat Concerto.

The audience was considerably excited last Friday afternoon, when Ravel's "Bolero" received its first performance. It was even more excited yesterday. It was not content with fervid applause and even stamping its feet. It raised its voice, or voices—shrill feminine voices, for the most part—to cheer Iturbi.

This demonstration was prompted by one of the finest pianistic exhibitions we have ever been privileged to hear. Iturbi is first of all a great musician and artist, and his playing was never out of perspective, so far as the whole performance was concerned. On the other hand, he realized that this piece was intended even by the composer to be something of a show-piece for the virtuoso. And it was virtuosity of the very finest type, not mere meretricious showmanship, that Iturbi dispensed yesterday.

His performance was the climax of a brilliant concert. A thrilling, colorful rendering of Weber's Overture to "Euryanthe" began it. So inspired was the reading of Mr. Koussevitzky and the playing of the orchestra under him that it might have been a first performance he was that of the Bax Symphony in E minor and C major, which followed it.

Arnold Bax could not come, as he had intended, to hear his work played for the first time. If he had, it seems to us he would have been eminently satisfied, for the performance seemed to do justice to the Romantic and mystical ardors of the Celt. There is much fine music in this score—more than can be digested at a single hearing. It stands out among the welter of superficial and insincere modernist pieces as Mount Washington would if transplanted into the Blue Hills.

Respighi's "Pines of Rome" closes the program.

COOKING REALLY GREAT FUN COPLEY ACTRESS ASSERTS

IF you yearn for a stage career, don't wait for opportunity to knock at your door! Miss Esther Mitchell, the charming and talented newcomer to the ranks of E. E. Clive's Copley players, found her opportunity by seeking it persistently and diligently.

Esther Mitchell

"My appeals were completely ignored for almost two weeks," Miss Mitchell ruefully confessed the other day in an impromptu little backstage exchange of confidences. "But at last I obtained an engagement with a Sidney manager. We spent weeks touring Australia in Shakespearean repertoire. It meant long hours and hard work, but I think every young actress needs just that sort of severe apprenticeship. Miss Mitchell now playing her second engagement at the Copley in "Murder on the Second Floor," finds Bruce a together delightful co-star. Jane are so lovely and their people have been so hospitable," she said. "Even in my brief stay here, I've really come to feel thoroughly at home."

Outside of her work in the theatre, Miss Mitchell's interests are music, reading (of which she does a prodigious amount), and keeping house. She finds our symphony orchestra superb.

"The only time the drama fails to satisfy me as a medium of artistic expression," Miss Mitchell confessed, "is when I find myself completely uplifted in listening to music. My mother was a concert pianist before her marriage, and when we were growing up she played to us often and taught us to know and love good music."

And as for keeping house, there's a New York apartment and an English husband who's on the stage, too. Miss Mitchell thinks cooking really is no end of fun and gets real joy a thrill out of cushions and hanging new chintz curtains as if homemaking were her only career.

Then because this is the stage that was a strictly feminine angle, the conversation drifted, of course, to homes and husbands.

Miss Mitchell decided that a most important husbandly attribute is tact. And she's observed that American men make splendid husbands, too. So you can figure out for yourself what a race of diplomats we turned out to be!

'Four Sons' Is Winner as Best Film of 1928

For the second successive year the Photoplay gold medal has been awarded to a Fox film production. The award for the best picture released during 1928 goes to "Four Sons," directed by John Ford. Last year the medal was awarded to the Fox Studios for Frank Borzage's "7th Heaven."

This latest award is the ninth since the inauguration of the Filmdom's Noble Prize as it is described by Photoplay. It has come to be regarded as the highest merit honor in the screen world, as it represents the choice of the millions of readers of this magazine throughout the world.

Victor Morris Starts Girls' Dance Contest

Girls with talent may enter the sixth annual amateur dance contest for girls which will begin on the stage of Loew's Orpheum next Monday evening. All each girl has to do is to leave her name at the office of Victor J. Morris, theater manager.

This contest will continue every Monday evening until further notice and affords a real opportunity for recognition to those with talent who have stage ambitions.

A large number, now appearing on the musical comedy and varsity stage get their start from their first appearance in this popular annual Loew's Orpheum Dance Contest.

THEME SONGS LIKE PUZZLE FOR PUBLIC

MAKING "Sunnyside Up," which today began its third week at Keith's, was just one long dress rehearsal, according to B. G. De Sylva, member of the famous DeSylva, Brown and Henderson trio. "With a show, we have just one dress rehearsal; but out in Hollywood there're nine weeks long," B. G. DeSylva grinned. He had plenty of reasons to grin, besides his capacity in regard to the recent doings in Wall Street. The music of "Sunnyside Up," according to reports from the music companies, is selling fast.

This team has turned out so many theme songs that it is now a little worried on the subject. According to Mr. De Sylva, there are altogether too many hits about town. The public cannot make up its mind between so many and the result is that none is getting a really square deal. Every picture that comes along now boasts at least one song. The market is overcrowded, he declares.

This sad situation is not really grieving Mr. De Sylva. He was not even worried by echoes from theater where an energetic chorus was attempting to sing "Sunnyside Up" for the 9th time that week and which is within earshot of his office.

Winfield Sheehan, the Fox motor director, has asked De Sylva, Brown and Henderson to return to Hollywood each summer and there write a musical film. This they will probably do.

VILLAIN GETS IT IN FILM

GIBSON GOWLAND has a characteristically villainous role as Dmitry in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's all-color, dialogue and sound adaptation of Jules Verne's "The Mysterious Island," the picture which is on the screen at Loew's State the coming week.

Born in England, Gowland has led an adventurous life. When but a mere lad, he ran away from home and first chose a life before the mast. From an ordinary sailor's rating he rose to the position of first mate, and in that capacity sailed the seven seas.

Later his seafaring career gave way to his itch to try his hand at prospecting. He next turned to the more hazardous task of big game hunting and gold and diamond digging in South Africa. Then he accepted an offer to appear on the legitimate stage. He drifted into pictures. He has appeared in "The Broken Gate," "Lord Beyond the Law," "The Fire Ambo," "Topsy and Eva," "The Isle of Forgotten Women" and "Rose-Marie."

Vaudeville Star

NAN HALPERIN

MISS HALPERIN appears on the vaudeville bill at the Keith-Albee. A shining star is she.

BIG PROGRAM AT HOWARD

THE management at the Howard will on Monday put forth a big wrestling program, in which many of the prominent wrestling stars will display their ability. Stanley Stasiak will meet all challengers at all performances and will forfeit one dollar a minute to any opponent he fails to throw in 10 minutes. Harry Mangus will also meet all comers on the same terms.

The burlesque bill will be "Original Girls." Jack LaMont is the chief funmaker. "Chubby" Drisdale will sing and dance.

Vaudeville will offer Buck and Marr and Art Spaulding. The pictures will be "The Desert Rider," "Where East Is East" and "Come to Papa"; also the Scott-Von Porat fight pictures.

SUN ALWAYS SHINES FOR DONOVAN

By HARLEIGH SCHULTZ

PICKING the winner with J. J. Fitzgibbons of Publix is picking the right men for the right place in his organization. That's why things are humming down Scollay sq. way these days and evenings. He showed that good judgment is the better part of success when he placed Al Donovan at the helm of the Scollay Theater. Manager Donovan is now a managerial kingpin in the Publix chain.

• • •

YOU have been hearing a lot about the Scollay playhouse lately. When we probe in to find why, we discover Mr. Donovan working long hours, attending to business and inaugurating new things. It would take a lot of space to name the innovations and detail the story; a few will suffice. First came that Thursday night Whoopee show, a weekly affair, which has gone big, and is going bigger. He found his able aide to handle that idea in the genial and musically Charlie Frank as master of ceremonies. Then Manager Donovan instituted another big idea, that of nightly running an added feature picture. Triumph again. The fans liked it so well that now they are asking for films; and the extra fare is a tremendous hit. So much so that other houses are adopting the plan. Further, Mr. Donovan has hit upon popular promotions, like the Boop-boop-a-boop competition, which have furnished a riot of comedy, and incidentally have started a number of youngsters on the road to stage careers.

Al Donovan

• • •

THE Scollay has done numerous other things. There is one of these worthy of a red letter. This is the establishment of a real Green Room where the vaudeville folk appearing on the program are given accommodations for recreation, and in addition are looked out for in the way of sandwiches, cakes and coffee, at all hours. Popular? We'll say the word. This idea, however, is not Mr. Donovan's; it emanated from no less than "J. J." (meaning General Director Fitzgibbons) himself.

• • •

AND the result? You read it all in the Scollay's bigger and better business. Its satisfied patrons and the striking feature of their interest in the theater in a personal way. It looks as if Manager Donovan has succeeded in personalizing his play house; he runs his show for the whole family, keeps them clean, and delights in the fact that patrons regard the theater in the sort of adjunct of their own home. Excellence is his slogan, both as to films and vaudeville; and he is doing his utmost to keep his slogan toeing the mark.

BORN Albert Thomas Donovan, this enterprising theater man passed his early years in his native Charlestown. He went to Boston College and studied three years at Suffolk Law school. After a business career, during which he was for three and a half years in official capacity with the First National corporation of the First National Bank, he entered upon his managerial life.

Eyes Ready for Lip Language

MARY BRIAN AND FREDRIC MARCH

MISS BRIAN is solely soulful for Mr. March in this scene from "The Marriage Playground" now at the Metropolitan. He starts to be best friend. Soon somebody also is his best man.

Still in the Ring

"Meteor," moving from the Hollis to the Tremont. (Third week.) The amazing story of a man's long-distance vision. The last week.

• • •

Eddie Cantor in "Whoopee" at the Colonial. (Fourth week.) Doing so well that an extra week is put on for good measure. The last week.

• • •

"Murder on the 2nd Floor" at the Copley. (Sixth week.) Mr. Clive and his players indulge in a little upstairs homicide. The last week.

• • •

"Journey's End" at the Wilbur. (Seventh week.) Terrors of the trenches turned into gripping drama. The last week.

Film Fare for the New Week

LOEW'S STATE—"The Mysterious Island," with Lionel Barrymore, Jane Daly, Lloyd Hughes, Montagu Love, Snitz Edwards. Lucien Hubbard directed. An M-G-M picture.

• • •

KEITH ALBEE—George Jessel in "Love, Live and Laugh," with Lila Lee, Kenneth McKenna, David Rollins. William K. Howard directed. A Fox picture.

• • •

SCOLLAY AND FENWAY—Dorothy Mackaill in "The Great Divide," with Creighton Hale, Lucien Littlefield, Ben Stewart, Reginald Barker directed. A First National picture.

• • •

METROPOLITAN—"The Marriage Playground," with Mary Brian, Fredric March, Little Mitzi, Lilyan Tashman, Seena Owen, Lothar Mendes directed. A Paramount picture.

• • •

NEW B. F. KEITH'S—Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell in "Sunnyside Up," with El Brendel, Marjorie White, Frank Richardson. David Butler directed. A Fox picture.

• • •

UPTOWN AND WASHINGTON ST. OLYMPIA—"Show of Shows," with whole galaxy of stars, including John Barrymore, Darryl Zanuck directed. A Warner Bros.' picture.

• • •

LOEW'S ORPHEUM—"The Locked Door," with Rod La Rocque, Barbara Stanwyck, William Boyd, Betty Bronson, George Fitzmaurice directed. A United Artists' picture.

The New Play

HOLLIS—"Wings Over Europe," second of the Theater Guild's seasonal offerings. Original New York production. Heralded as an exciting drama of the British cabinet. The authors are Robert Nichols and Maurice Browne. Included in the cast are Alexander Kirkland, Ernest Lawford, Sir John Dean, Hugh Buckler and Joseph Kilgour. Staged by Rouben Mamoulian.

Gives Wooer the Stony Stare

BARBARA STANWYCK AND ROD LA ROCQUE

MISS STANWYCK is evidently trying to stare Mr. La Rocque out of countenance in "The Locked Door" at Loew's Orpheum next week. His attentions tangle up her affairs terribly.

STAGE AND SCREEN

Yuletide Season Stirs Good Cheer to Make Variety the Spice in the Big Feast of Film Entertainment

LLOYD HUGHES AND JANE DALY
THEYRE AT the controls in "The Mysterious Island" at Lowe's State next week. Miss Daly seems to have the upper hand. Mr. Hughes looks happier later.

SUE SMITH AND LILA LEE
MISS LEE is holding her own, for Sue is supposed to be her child in "Love, Live and Laugh" at Keith-Albee.

JANET GAYNOR, SHARON LYNN AND EL BRENDEL
LOOKS HARMLESS, does that beverage, but it's assumed to be "spiked." Mr. Brendel acts the waiter in "Sunnyside Up" at Keith's. Misses Gaynor and Lynn need a little urging.

NICK LUCAS—MYRNA LOY
INVITINGLY Miss Loy looks at Mr. Lucas in "Show of Shows" at Uptown and Washington St. Olympia.

DOROTHY MACKAILL AND CREIGHTON HALE
OH, NO IT ISN'T a coffee percolator. In this scene from "The Great Divide" at the Scollay and Fenway, Mr. Hale serves Miss Mackaill first. He mixed the drinks.

SKINNER'S MASTERPIECES ARE SCHEDULED FOR TALKIES

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Universal Service Motion Picture Editor
(Copyright, 1929, Universal Service)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14—What plans Jack Warner has for First National. Jack, just back from New York, stopped long enough in his inspection tour of the First National studios to tell me that Otis Skinner will be out here May 1. The veteran actor who last year celebrated his 50th anniversary on the stage, will be starred by First National in a series of his own plays.

Perhaps the best known of the Skinner plays is "The Honor of the Family," and this may be his first Warner production. Then there is "Kismet," which was filmed with Mr. Skinner as a mere silent movie and not a very good one. But with dialogue and sound and with what the studios know of makeup and color these days it ought to be a splendid dramatic achievement as a talkie.

Louella O. Parsons

Marilyn Miller who is now appearing in a musical comedy in New York with Fred and Adele Astaire will come to Hollywood at the end of her stage season to make three more pictures for First National. Her first production, "Sally," is yet to be released, but Warner Brothers must like it else they wouldn't want Marilyn to make another musical comedy and then last but not least Jack waxed eloquent on what Warners plan doing on the stage. They hope to prepare for the stage simultaneously with their screen plays. Saves money and should be practical, Mr. Warner thinks.

* * *

IF there is any slump in the film business it isn't apparent at the various studios where there seems to be plenty of work. I listened in at Paramount and learned that Rupert Hughes' novel, "Ladies' Man," a mystery story, is to be filmed with William Powell doing the honors. Time was when Powell was supporting some of the other stars but now the very people to whom he played second fiddle are assigned to do the same thing for him. Every dog has his day they do say. While I was on the Paramount lot I happened to notice William Stack, resplendent in uniform. He is the young man who plays the prince with such charm in Pauline Frederick's stage play.

* * *

TALLULAH BANKHEAD, New York stage actress who sailed away one fine day to accept an engagement on the London stage and remained for five years, is coming home. Miss Bankhead isn't returning to Broadway but she is brought back by a tempting offer to make a screen play. My understanding is that Tallulah who happened to be the daughter of a United States senator and the granddaughter of the Southern philosophy, has been paid a fabulous sum by one of our local producers to make one picture.

* * *

STYLES in leading men change change just the same as styles in clothes or in ways of wearing one's coiffure. The most popular leading men, it has been proved, for 1930, are the he-man type like Victor McLaglen, George Bancroft and Charles Bickford. Bancroft proved just what a favorite he is with the fair sex when he was literally mobbed in London and Paris and McLaglen has more feminine admirers than a dozen handsome heroes. Bickford is probably not as well known as these two but wait until the end of 1930 and see what Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has in for him, one of these pictures, "The Sea Bat" in which Wallace Beery also plays an important part, goes into production immediately.

* * *

HERE are a few happenings in Hollywood: Barney Glazer, who travelled to Europe to take a rest, plans to return to Pathe the first of the year. Ken Maynard, after visiting Palm Springs, has decided to build a motion picture theater there. There is everything else in Palm Springs now, including a regular postoffice, so why not a movie theater. Al Rogell has just signed a new contract with Tiffany to make four pictures on the order of "Mamba." What is "Mamba?" We haven't seen the picture but we suspect it's a story of the South Seas or the jungle. Vivienne Segal is to make two more for First National.

* * *

SNAPSHOTS of Hollywood collected at random: The Ds Marco dancers from 'George White Scandals' at the Embassy Club. Hollywood's elite responding to this Embassy opening with all their best frocks, to say nothing of jewels. Leita Lodi, German star, looking Hollywood over with a one glass lorgnette. Hollywood equally interested in the newest importation, Virginia Zanuck. In a Parisian frock and Mrs. Jack Warner, chaperoning Miss Lodi. Bess Mereuyth likewise lunching with them at the Brown Derby. Colleen Moore and John McCormick, George and Diana Fitzmaurice, Corinne Griffith and Walter Morosco among the first nighters at the Embassy. Jack Warner in a purple cravat, purple shirt with handkerchief to match, admiring he did a little shopping in New York. That's all today: See you tomorrow! !

Burlesque Lass

CHUBBY DRISDALE
MISS DRISDALE is in the line-up of "Oriental Girls" at the Howard Monday.

GIRL IS PICKED SECOND TIME

TWENTY years on stage and screen and only 24 years of age, is the record of Lila Lee, leading lady in 'Love, Live and Laugh,' all talking picture in which George Jessel is starred at the Keith-Albee, today.

Jessel, curiously enough, started Miss Lee on her stage career. At the age of 10 he was leading "man" in Gus Edwards' "Kid Cabaret" in vaudeville. He disliked the little girl who played opposite him and volunteered to select a new one. Edwards, goodnaturedly, told him to go ahead. Jessel was elated.

Edwards and young Jessel were walking along a street in Union City, New Jersey, when the boy spotted Lila Lee playing with a doll. Her piquant face and big eyes attracted him and he selected her for his leading "lady." She was only four years old, but Edwards adopted her and put her in his vaudeville act.

Christened "Cuddles" by Edwards, she continued to play opposite Jessel for several years, and then was starred herself when he outgrew the kid act.

TOMBOY GOES TUNEFUL IN BATHTUB

WINNIE LIGHTNER is evidently destined to be always a tomboy. For the stella; musical comedy and variety stage star, who made her first stage appearance as a tomboy, acts a ludicrous role as the curious lady who serenades her lover from the bathtub in "Show of Shows" at Uptown and Washington St. Olympia.

Quite by accident, Winnie became a professional tomboy. Upon her first stage appearance as a young girl, she was to be a singer, but her boyish clothes and muddy shoes immediately brought gales of laughter from the audience. Since that time she has always been a tomboy playing in vaudeville as a headliner for many years and as the star of musical comedies.

Her talents were so well-suited to the demands of vaudeville that Miss Lightner toured the major vaudeville theaters for five years, snatching only short vacations whenever possible. She was a featured member of the cast of George White's "Scandals" for three more years. Subsequent engagements were the leading role in "Gay Paree" and as the star of the revue at the Kit Kat Club in London.

Miss Lightner made her first screen appearance in a Warner Bros.' singing short film. Her second was in "The Gold Diggers of Broadway." Miss Lightner is fond of outdoor games such as tennis and golf.

Original for Columbia

Gladys Lehman has written an original for Columbia under the title "Personality."

Amusements

LOEW'S STATE
The 13th CHAIR
At 12:45—3:15—5:30—7:45—10:15
M-G-M's All-Talking Mystery Sensation
Laurel-Hardy All-Talking Comedy
On the STAGE CHARLES KING Himself in Stage Success
Also: ELSIE FILGER, BUDLEY DOUG. AS A BARTS MacCRAE, JANE MILLER & Statesmen—Harry Rodgers in Daily Organ Concert at 12:15
Next "The Mysterious Island" M-G-M's All-Technicolor — Sound and Dialogue Spectacle
On the LILLIAN SHAW America's Foremost Comedienne
ORPHEUM
Week St. & Hamilton Pl.-Cont from 9:00 AM
TODAY OPENING TO 12:30 25c COMPLETE SHOW
GRETA GARBO in "THE KISS"
M-G-M's Powerful Sound Picture
Latest Lloyd Hardy All-Talking Comedy
Last Times Today Matinee Only — LEW'S GREATER VAUDEVILLE — Oklahoma Bud Abbott, Lou Costello & OTHER BIG ACTS
NEXT WEEK "THE LOCKED DOOR"
Spitzel Artists' All-Talking Drama
& Lew's Greater Vaudeville
Next Monday—Burning Contest for Girls

OLYMPIA and UPTOWN
WASHINGTON ST. at DUDLEY ST. — HUNTINGTON AVE. at ST. BOTOLPH
HAN. 5735 KEN. 3460
2nd WEEK
Warner Bros. COLOSSAL SPECTACLE
All-Talking — All-Technicolor
SHOW of SHOWS
77 STARS ~ 1000 HOLLYWOOD BEAUTIES
also PARAMOUNT SOUND NEWS and TALKING FEATURES
SHOP EARLY — ATTEND MORNING BARGAIN SHOWS AT OLYMPIA— 25c UNTIL 12:30 — SPECIAL LOW PRICED MATS. AT BOTH THEATRES.
ALDRON'S CASH SHOES
SEARS Furniture

COPLEY
Tues., Thurs. & Sat. 2:30
Evenings at 8:30
Management E. E. CLIVE
LAST 11 TIMES
MURDER ON THE 2ND FLOOR
MONDAY, DEC. 23rd
THE 'MIDDLE WATCH'
A ROLLICKING FARCE
By Ian Hay and Stephen Hall-King

JORDAN HALL, Boston
Wed. Eve., Dec. 18th, at 8:15
HANRY MELNIKOFF
Eighteen-year-old Violinist
Josef Adler at the Piano
Steinway Piano Tickets Now
Mgt. A. H. Handley

MODERN BEACON
ALL TALKING
CLARA BOW in
"THE SATURDAY NIGHT KID"
ALSO "THE MISSISSIPPI GAMBLER"
ALL TALK! WITH JOSEPH SCHILDKRAUT

THE OLD HOWARD
PUSS PUSS
MUTUAL BURLESQUE
BOSTON SANDORA, Chas. Chase, OPP HOLLIS
VAUDEVILLE & PICTURES—ALWAYS SOMETHING DOING 8 BIG ACTS
MIDNIGHT SHOW EVERY FRIDAY 11:30PM

Amusements

Metropolitan
Paramount's Delightful Innovation
"The MARRIAGE PLAYGROUND" from the Novel by Edith Wharton with
MARY BRIAN — FREDRIC MARCH
KAY FRANCIS, HUNTLEY GORDON and five adorable screen youngsters in an all-talking dramatic triumph!
GABRIEL HINES & Grand Orchestra
"Rhapsody in Color" Overture. Thrill!
ARTHUR MARTEL at the ORGAN CONSOLE
On the Stage Paula Brandt, Lou W. Holtz
"WHITE CAPS"
featuring AL MITCHELL
AL SAYS "IT'S THE BEST SHOW EVER" SUNDAY AFTERNOON CONCERT
HENRY HADLEY
Guest Conductor of the PEOPLE'S SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA in Motion Picture Presentations
AFTER THE REGULAR SHOW
MONDAY NIGHT
"THE SHEIK" Same time, same place
Jola VALENTINO with the Only Sax-o-phone Solo
VISIT Our Roof Garden
THE LOUNGE

XMAS JOY FOR ALL!
GALA HOLIDAY OFFERING
DIRECT FROM 8 MONTHS IN NEW YORK
COMING TO THE TREMONT DEC. 23 SEATS NEXT WEDNESDAY
THE SIZZLING SONG & DANCE SENSATION!
CONNIE'S HOT CHOCOLATES
A TORRID TANSKIN REVEL with ENTIRE HUDSON THEATRE, N. Y., CAST AND A HIGH-PRESSURE AGITATING DANCING CHORUS OF PEPPY BEAUTIES AND JAZZ STEPPING KINGS—10S IN ALL
THOMAS WALLER, Composer of "Ain't Misbehavin'" at the Piano
Orchestra Under Direction of Russell Wooding

GAYETY
WASH ST. near BOYLSTON ST.
MUTUAL BURLESQUE
TWICE DAILY 2:15 & 8:15
GOOD SEATS MATS. 25c-50c
EVES. Best Seats $1 (Except Sat. Night)
BEGINNING MON. MAT. DEC. 16
ANN CORIO AND HER "GIRLS IN BLUE"
THE MOST BEAUTIFUL GIRL IN BURLESQUE HIT OF HITS!
MIDNITE SHOW XMAS EVE
A #3 SHOW AT GAYETY PRICES

RKO KEITHS
3rd Joyous Week
YOU WILL SEE IT EVENTUALLY—SO SEE IT NOW
JANET GAYNOR
CHARLES FARRELL
EL BRENDEL
SUNNY SIDE UP
all TALKING-SINGING DANCING-LAUGHING
90c 50c 65c (Ex. Sat.)
9 to 1 1 to 6 After 6 (& Sun.)

RKO KEITH-ALBEE
R-K-O's Pre-Holiday Stage Treat!
NAN HALPERIN
in "Shady Ladies"
BUCK and BUBBLES
Jay Jackson—Jarvis, Harrison Co.
Adolph, Gladys and Eddie
On the Screen GEO. JESSEL in "LOVE, LIVE and LAUGH" with LILA LEE & DAVID RollINS
Show Starts—Those Attend for Show Morning, 25c. 9:30-12:30

WILBUR LAST 2 DAYS
POP. MAT. TODAY
THE PLAY THAT IS SWEEPING THE WORLD
JOURNEY'S END
By R. C. SHERRIFF

COLONIAL THEATRE
Evgs. at 8:10—Mats. WED. & SAT. at 2:10
POPULAR PRICED MATS. WED. and SAT.
ENGAGEMENT EXTENDED!
LAST WEEK
ONLY MUSICAL SHOW IN BOSTON
EDDIE CANTOR
in ZIEGFELD Production "Whoopee"
Book by Wm. Anthony McGuire
Lyrics and Music by Walter Donaldson & Gus Kahn
Dances Staged by Seymour Felix
27 100 GLORIFIED GIRLS IN THE FLESH AND BLOOD, NOT CANNED
SAT. NEXT — MR. CANTOR'S STAGE FAREWELL

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE
T. H. LOTHIAN, Mgr.
BEGINNING MONDAY
2 WEEKS
EVENINGS at 8:15. MATS. WED. & SAT. at 2:15
EXCELLENT SEATS AT BOX OFFICE
Eve. (Ex. Sat.) $1 to $3. Sat. Eve., $1 to $3.50. Wed. Mat. 50c to $2. Sat. Mat. $1 to $2.50
The Theatre Guild, Inc.,
Presents
The Third Play of the Second Guild subscription Season in Boston
AN EXCITING DRAMA IN THE BRITISH CABINET ROOM, NO. 10 DOWNING ST., LONDON
WINGS OVER EUROPE
By ROBERT NICHOLS and MAURICE BROWNE
With Original Cast Including
ERNEST LAWFORD ALEXANDER KIRKLAND
MORRIS CARNOVSKY HUGH BUCKLER
SIR JOHN DUNN ARTHUR KILGOUR
Direction ROUBEN MAMOULIAN

ONE MORE WEEK IN BOSTON
BEGINNING MONDAY AT THE TREMONT THEATRE
ONLY 6 NIGHTS—2 MATS., WED. & SAT.
Eve. (Ex. Sat.) $1 to $3. Sat. Eve., $1 to $3.85. Wed. Mat. 50c to $2. Sat. Mat. $1 to $2.50
350 Seats All Performances, $1—Pop. $2 Mat. Wed.
The Theatre Guild, Inc.,
Presents
The Theatre Guild Acting Company
METEOR
A New Play by S. N. BEHRMAN
(Author of "The Second Man" and "Serena Blandish")
Staged by Philip Moeller
With a distinguished cast
ALFRED LUNT LYNN FONTANNE
SHIRLEY O'HARA DOUGLASS MONTGOMERY
EDWARD EMERY LAWRENCE LESLIE

HOLLIS Mat. Today 2:25 Evgs. at 8:25
SUBSCRIBE AND SAVE THEATRE GUILD, INC.
Presents
A New Play by S. N. Behrman
METEOR
Alfred Lunt, Lynn Fontanne, Shirley O'Hara, Edward Emery

PARK POPULAR PRICES
DAILY MATINEE 9:30 A.M. to 12 P.M.
Sunday 3 P.M. to 11 P.M.
ALL-TALKING, SINGING AND DANCING MUSICAL COMEDY DRAMA
The BROADWAY HOOFER
with MARIE SAXON—JACK EGAN—LOUISE FAZENDA
ALL-TALKING DRAMA OF LOVE AND FINANCE
WALL STREET
with RALPH INCE and AILEEN PRINGLE

BOWDOIN VAUDEVILLE IN PERSON
"The GIRL in the SHOW" A TALKIE with ROSSI LOVE
CONSTANCE TALMADGE in "VENUS"
CHARLIE CHASE in TALKING COMEDY "GREAT GUNS"
EDDIE PELLER
NEXT WEEK—CHRISTMAS PRESENT WEEK

GLOBE
2—ALL TALKIES—2
"THE SPEEDHOUNDS" with SALLY O'NEIL
"THE SQUEALER"
ALL STAR CAST IN "HURRICANE"

STAGE AND SCREEN

WORLD PEACE DEALT WITH IN DRAMA

"WINGS Over Europe," the drama which the Theatre Guild is presenting Monday night for six weeks at the Plymouth, is a play of the present day. It deals with a scientific problem of exciting magnitude, but with the part which the world's people, its peacemakers, can be taken in view of the recent signing of the Kellogg pact to outlaw war, and the action of the Young plan which will be taken to terminate long-pending negotiations for Europe's peace. This extraordinary play by Robert Nichols and Maurice Browne rings with the clash of ideas and involves the conflict of a brilliant young scientist with the more worldly members of the British Cabinet.

The play created a sensation when first presented, due to the fact that it has not a single woman in the cast. The success proves that highly interesting drama may be staged without the aid of feminine entanglement.

"Wings Over Europe" dares to dream of international peace. It is not a propaganda play, being described as a plot which initiates controversy and carries the high tension of strong drama throughout the three acts. It was staged by Reuben Mamoulian, who also directed "Porgy" and "Marco Millions."

Alexander Kirkland, who spends his summers at the "movies" in the Berkshire Playhouse, in the Berkshire hills, has the leading role of Lightfoot, the young scientist who demands that either a new civilization be created or the world be destroyed.

Others in the cast include Ernest Lawford, of Gilbert and Sullivan fame; Morris Carnovsky, last seen in "Marco Millions"; Hugh Buckler, Joseph Kirgour, Sir

Joseph Kilgour

Whooping It Up for 'Whoopee'

EDDIE CANTOR

EDDIE CANTOR is the lustrous master of fun doing stellar work in Ziegfeld's "Whoopee," which remains at the Colonial another week. Artist Charles Schmidt pen-and-inks the comedian.

John Dunn, Charles Francis, Edwin Maxwell, Boyd Davis, Thomas Braiden, Edward Cooper, Edward Lester, Lionel Bevans, George Graham, Neal Caldwell and Charles Cardon.

Signs Arthur Lake

Arthur Lake, juvenile, has been signed on a four-year contract by Radio Pictures.

Made Fox Director

Chandler Sprague has been appointed a director for Fox.

Pictures--Variety

GLOBE—"Why Bring That Up?" and "The Mississippi Gambler" for four days; starting Thursday, "Flight" and "Woman Trap."

MODERN AND BEACON—"They Had To See Paris" and "Lucky in Love" for four days; starting Thursday, "Broadway Scandals" and "The Delightful Rogue."

BOWDOIN—"Untamed," with Joan Crawford, "Wise Girls" and an Our Gang comedy; "Bowery Ghost." As a special feature, the Scott-Von Porat fight pictures. Also vaudeville.

OPERA TENOR MONASTERY GRADUATE

IN "Die Walkuere," the famous German masterpiece which will open the fortnight of opera given by the Chicago Civic Opera Company February 3 to 15, Boston will hear Theodore Strack, German tenor for the first time.

The life of Strack has been as colorful as it has been successful. He was born in Vienna. His father was a citizen of Hungary and his mother a Viennese. While Strack was a tiny boy, his father died at the early age of 29, and Theodore was placed in a monastery to be educated for Holy Orders. It was here that he received his first vocal training, singing in the monastery choir, and showed such outstanding vocal talent that his life's plans were reshaped and it was decided that he should train for the operatic profession.

With the experience gained in the monastery choir as a basis, he began his vocal studies, and devoted himself to them so assiduously that he was able to make his operatic debut at the early age of 18. The performance was "A Masked Ball" and Strack appeared in the role of Richard, Count of Warwick and governor of Boston.

At the outbreak of the war, Herr Strack returned to Germany, where he sang in the Royal Opera, and in Dresden, Prague and Hanover. He received the title of Court Singer at Berlin, and is credited now to call himself "Kammersenger."

Movie Clock

FEATURE photoplays in the picture theaters and their starting times today are as follows:

ORPHEUM—"The Kiss"; a. m., 9:15; p. m., 12:15, 3:15, 6:15, 9:15.

NEW B. F. KEITH'S — "Sunnyside Up"; a. m., 9:15, 11:42; p. m., 2:09, 4:41, 7:13, 9:45.

FENWAY—"The Great Divide"; p. m., 1, 3:11, 5:25, 7:39, 9:53.

KEITH ALBEE—"Love, Live and Laugh"; a. m., 11:44; p. m., 2:06, 6:02, 9:21.

SCOLLAY—"The Great Divide"; p. m., 12:09, 3:11, 6:11, 9:15.

UPTOWN—"Show of Shows"; p. m., 1:37, 4:08, 6:39, 9:13.

STATE—"The Thirteenth Chair"; p. m., 12:48, 3:15, 5:31, 7:48, 10:18.

METROPOLITAN—"The Marriage Playground"; a. m., 11:30; p. m., 2:05, 4:18, 6:29, 8:42, 10:55.

WASHINGTON ST. OLYMPIA —"Show of Shows"; a. m., 9:05, 11:29; p. m., 1:55, 4:21, 6:45, 9:13.

STARLETS ARE TWINKLERS

THE best group of child actors yet seen in a photoplay are those youngsters appearing in "The Marriage Playground" at the Metropolitan. The lineup of starlets is as follows:

Philippe de Lacy is the eldest boy. He was in "The Four Feathers," "Beau Geste" and many other pictures. He is one of the best-known child actors on the screen.

Anita Louise has been judged the most beautiful child in pictures. Famous painters have used her as a model. She has blond hair and blue eyes.

Little Mitzi has the most important of the child parts in the play. She comes to the screen from vaudeville where she headlined in an act in which she imitated the Two Crows (Moran and Mack).

Billy Seay and Ruby Parsley play the twins, whose father is an Italian prince. They are dark-haired, deep-eyed youngsters with flashing smiles.

Donald Smith is the baby, nine months old. Fondled around throughout the picture, he provides a human note everyone will love.

Looking Ahead

DECEMBER 23—
Connie's "Hot Chocolates" at the Tremont.
"Rope's End" at the Wilbur.
"The Middle Watch" at the Copley.

DECEMBER 24—
"Naughty Marietta" at the Majestic.

DECEMBER 25—
Clark and McCullough in "Strike Up the Band" at the Shubert.

'GREAT DIVIDE' AT FENWAY

WILLIAM VAUGHAN MOODY'S "The Great Divide," which years ago was one of the outstanding successes of the American stage as played for several seasons with Henry Miller and Blanche Bates in the leading roles, is at the Publix Fenway and Scollay for its first showing. Dorothy Mackaill and Ian Keith are the principals. The cast includes Myrna Loy, George Fawcett, Creighton Hale, Claude Gillingwater and Jean Linzaine.

The story unfolds a rugged romance of the ranges of the West with colorful backgrounds and replete with stirring scenes.

Film Futures

DECEMBER 19—
Ruth Chatterton and Clive Brook in "The Laughing Lady" at the Metropolitan.

DECEMBER 20—
John Barrymore in "General Crack" at the Uptown and Washington St. Olympia.

DECEMBER 23—
William Haines in "Navy Blues" at Loew's State.

DECEMBER 30—
The Duncan Sisters in "It's a Great Life" at Loew's State.

TONITE AT THE GARDEN CAN-AM HOCKEY LEAGUE TIGERS VS PROVIDENCE REDS
SEATS 50c TO $2 AT BOX OFFICE

COTTON CLUB
45 LANSDOWNE ST.
DINE and DANCE
BOSTON'S GREATEST NIGHT CLUB
Entertainment De Luxe
New Year's Reservations Now
All Colored Revue
SANDY AND HIS BIG COTTON CLUB BAND
Ask for Southern Fried Chicken
Reservations B. B. 0817
Ask for "Nat"

Rothstein Life Greater Mystery Than Death, Says Inez Norton

Southern Beauty Tells of Home-Loving Gambler, Fearless, Trusting

By INEZ NORTON

Copyright, 1929, International Feature Service, Inc. Great Britain Rights Reserved.

THIS is an amazing story of Arnold Rothstein, whose murder brought to light many startling facts—and left as many startling facts unsolved. It also brought into public discussion the name of Inez Norton, a "glorified" Southern beauty, to whom the dying Rothstein attempted to will a share of his $3,000,000 estate. His "X" was not honored in probate. Inez tells here of the things he said and the things he did and reveals much about phases of life on Broadway.

ONE year ago the world lost one of its most thrilling personalities, and I lost the truest friend in Arnold Rothstein's death.

Behind him he left one of the most famous of metropolitan mysteries.

No character of fiction ever paralleled Arnold Rothstein.

With the last gesture of his feeble dying hand he attempted to scrawl his mark so that he might endow me with a portion of his millions. I cannot rob the memory of a man like that of some kindly comments, can I?

We were to have been married within a few weeks. He and Mrs. Rothstein had agreed to a divorce. She married a young man, Robert Reha, in London last July. I hope she is very happy.

Arnold spoke to me about her often. He never said an out-of-the-way word about her.

I accepted him like a school girl whispers "Yes" to a first proposal.

I knew whom I was marrying. Though I was young, 25, I had been married twice, and twice disappointed and divorced. I had been a model and a Ziegfeld show girl. I had seen high life, had been the mistress of millions, had been in military and diplomatic society, had been dead broke in New York, had luxuriated at Palm Beach, had given orders to my chauffeur in a Rolls-Royce and had walked four miles to a posing job because I didn't have subway fare. So I was no inexperienced, wide-eyed ingenue. But neither was I a hard-boiled old timer.

WHERE THEY MET

I first met Rothstein in an extremely proper place, a tea-room restaurant on Fifty-seventh st., near Fifth ave. I was with a girl who knew him. He passed our table, he bowed to her and stopped. She introduced me.

He told me he had quit gambling. And until the fatal stud poker game a few nights before he was murdered, he believe he did not break his resolution during our association.

I was living by myself, still the wife of Miles Rieser, a young son of a millionaire interior decorator and fixture manufacturer. We had been apart several months.

Arnold had a suite, 208, in the Fairfield Hotel, which he owned, made over for me. He installed me there like a queen. He suggested that I divorce Miles, which I did, and he paid the fees.

Once he asked me to his apartment at the end of the day. He opened a desk.

Before my astonished eyes I saw piles and piles of currency—"grand notes" ($1000 bills)—there must have been hundreds of them. There must have been, also, a quarter of a million dollars there. I had seen him with $50,000 in cash in his pockets frequently. But this staggering sum of actual money took my breath away.

When he finished he merely let down the top of the desk—didn't even put that fortune in a safe.

NO "BODYGUARDS"

We were alone except for his old butler. That was how fearless and unconcerned Arnold Rothstein was. The idea of anyone having the colossal nerve to think of robbing him was a laugh.

I have read stories of his "bodyguards." He never had any such thing.

We were blithely planning our honeymoon on the last evening that I saw him. Had he been under any suspicion that he was in danger he would have made provision for my future immediately.

The will which he attempted to sign as he was dying was not something new that had been hurriedly drawn after he was shot. He had framed it in contemplation of our marriage and had neglected to sign it. He was contemplating a $500,000 life insurance policy for my benefit, but let the application slide along, like other men do with such things, forgetting the precariousness of this life for us all, not to say for a man menaced by the peril that so soon afterward overtook him.

I, of course never saw any shadows hanging over him. Most of the dark activities ascribed to him in the public prints after his passing were complete surprises to me.

Arnold was wild about my boy, Junior, who was home with me from military school for vacation. He and the boy pranked and carried on. We would take my son with us on auto trips. Arnold called him "The Sweet Potato Kid," because Junior likes sweet potatoes.

CHARGE ACCOUNTS

He allowed me unlimited charge accounts in foremost shops and stores. What he gave me has been grossly exaggerated. But he was generous. I could have had anything I wanted. We never had a second's disagreement over anything that concerned money. He granted me carte blanche. Had I been a gold-digger I could have taken him for a fortune. I know a few girls who, with my chances, would have. They had no hesitancy in telling me so—then and since.

Arnold's millions are scattered and strewn about. The big things he had planned and started have been abandoned. Every known crime and turpitude has been charged against him—now that he is not here to answer and to fight.

All those who so stoutly stood with him when he had anything to other men might see how rich they were, and what they could do when they chose to.

He wasn't that way. When we went out, I usually left most of such jewels as I had at home in the hotel safe.

BEQUESTS TO AIDES

When I divorced Miles Rieser's young son of a New York millionaire, I didn't even ask one cent of alimony. When I divorced my first husband, son of a Kansas millionaire, father of my boy, whom I have supported ever since, I didn't even ask one cent of alimony. When Arnold Rothstein, by betrothed husband, millionaire, died, I didn't have a $1000 dollars in the world.

That's the kind of a gold-digger I've been.

The mystery of Arnold Rothstein's death may be solved—but no one will ever solve the mystery of his life.

It was too many-sided. No one person knew him comprehensively.

Perhaps no man alive knows more about the secrets of Arnold Rothstein's most intimate affairs than Thomas Farley, his veteran butler-valet, a faithful colored servant who spent the best years of his life ministering to the wishes and comforts and safety of his employer.

Arnold remembered Farley in his will, the one which was recognized, as he did also Sidney Stasjer, his confidential keeper of accounts and Man Friday in the business and Bert Stasjer and Farley there was little unknown that Arnold himself knew. And neither of them has ever said a word since his death to reveal one of the secrets which they held.

NEVER FEARED DEATH

His wife, the woman he gave everything to for 20 and more years, who was endowed with a major part of his estate after his death, when her divorce from him had already been granted to her, is somewhere in England. She no longer bears his name. She has another husband.

And I have—what?

The poignant remembrances, the disconcerting aftermaths—and none of the comforts, substantial or spiritual.

But I cannot complain. Had I to do it over again with the outcome unalterably doomed to be the same, I would not hold back.

Dozens of my friends had warned me that such a man would never live to die a peaceful death. He never thought that way. But all the others did.

He told me he had quit gambling. And until the fatal stud poker game a few nights before he was murdered, he believe he did not break his resolution during our association.

I was living by myself, still the wife of Miles Rieser, a young son of a millionaire interior decorator and fixture manufacturer. We had been apart several months.

Arnold had a suite, 208, in the Fairfield Hotel, which he owned, made over for me. He installed me there like a queen. He suggested that I divorce Miles, which I did, and he paid the fees.

Once he asked me to his apartment at the end of the day. He opened a desk.

Before my astonished eyes I saw piles and piles of currency—"grand notes" ($1000 bills)—there must have been hundreds of them. There must have been, also, a quarter of a million dollars there. I had seen him with $50,000 in cash in his pockets frequently. But this staggering sum of actual money took my breath away.

When he finished he merely let down the top of the desk—didn't even put that fortune in a safe.

NO "BODYGUARDS"

We were alone except for his old butler. That was how fearless and unconcerned Arnold Rothstein was. The idea of anyone having the colossal nerve to think of robbing him was a laugh.

I have read stories of his "bodyguards." He never had any such thing.

We were blithely planning our honeymoon on the last evening that I saw him. Had he been under any suspicion that he was in danger he would have made provision for my future immediately.

The will which he attempted to sign as he was dying was not something new that had been hurriedly drawn after he was shot. He had framed it in contemplation of our marriage and had neglected to sign it. He was contemplating a $500,000 life insurance policy for my benefit, but let the application slide along, like other men do with such things, forgetting the precariousness of this life for us all, not to say for a man menaced by the peril that so soon afterward overtook him.

I, of course never saw any shadows hanging over him. Most of the dark activities ascribed to him in the public prints after his passing were complete surprises to me.

Arnold was wild about my boy, Junior, who was home with me from military school for vacation. He and the boy pranked and carried on. We would take my son with us on auto trips. Arnold called him "The Sweet Potato Kid," because Junior likes sweet potatoes.

CHARGE ACCOUNTS

He allowed me unlimited charge accounts in foremost shops and stores. What he gave me has been grossly exaggerated. But he was generous. I could have had anything I wanted. We never had a second's disagreement over anything that concerned money. He granted me carte blanche. Had I been a gold-digger I could have taken him for a fortune. I know a few girls who, with my chances, would have. They had no hesitancy in telling me so—then and since.

Arnold's millions are scattered and strewn about. The big things he had planned and started have been abandoned. Every known crime and turpitude has been charged against him—now that he is not here to answer and to fight.

All those who so stoutly stood with him when he had anything to

BIG BUSINESS

Farley, a typical negro manservant, such as might have stepped out of a book, knew no hours or length of attendance. He was prepared at any time of the day or night to be awake, on his feet and on the job. And he not only waited on A. R., served to him, cooked for him on infrequent occasions, and looked after his wearing robe, but he handled huge sums of cash. It was he who made deposits each morning after the count-up.

Stasjer I met only on the several occasions when I visited Arnold in his office on Fifty-seventh st.

It was just a mighty busy beehive buzzing with talk about mortgages, percentages, insurance premiums, claims, investments, promissory notes, building plans, sewer permits and that sort of drab subject matter.

His insurance business was extensive. I have been told that it carried $150,000,000 worth of commissions. I heard, of course, that much of it came to him because of his widespread and widely-noised "connections." This bonanza has probably dissipated into thin air since his passing.

Stasjer was a genial chap. I never got to know him well, but I liked him immediately. He was not close-mouthed—but he never said anything—if you know what I mean.

TRUSTED BY ARNOLD

Arnold, I know, trusted him not only implicitly as to his character, but as to his ability. Stasjer appeared to be very efficient.

I have never heard from him since the tragedy.

I have been a professional actress, and I know of no other means to follow for a livelihood. And as a business woman I fear I would be a complete failure.

One theatrical firm actually proposed to me that I produce, with a melodrama with Arnold as the principal character and me playing myself.

Before I would do that I would hide myself again in Georgia and slave in a cotton mill. I cannot profit by the tragedy. And it is doubly tragic that, as far as I can see, no one profited from it—and I lost everything.

Says Over Supply Cuts Cotton Price

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP)—W. L. Clayton, of Houston, Clayton & Co., a Houston, Texas, cotton firm which has been charged with expressing "depressing influence on the cotton market, testified today before a Senate agriculture subcommittee that the price of cotton declined this year because the supply "temporarily was greater than the demand."

Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, a member of the committee which is inquiring into the slump in cotton prices, made the charge against the Texas firm, and also said it had a "withstanding effect on the market."

Colder Weather Forecast for Hub

A drop in temperature of about 15 degrees is expected for Greater Boston tonight. The official forecast predicts fair and colder weather tonight and Sunday, with the minimum temperature near 25 tonight.

Snow is expected tonight in New Hampshire and Vermont, and rain throughout southern New England.

Today, in the real estate columns of the Classified Ads, you will find scores of op-

Amusements

SCOLLAY Sq.
BIGGEST SHOW VALUE IN BOSTON
STARTING TODAY
AN ALL-STAR CAST, SAYING DANCE AND MUSIC OF THE GOLDEN AGES
"The GREAT DIVIDE"
with DOROTHY MACKAILL IAN KEITH MYRNA LOY
PUBLIX WONDER Vaudeville ATTRACTION
ABE REYNOLDS
AMERICA'S FOREMOST MIMIC, COMEDIAN AND CONVERSATIONALIST
FOUR OTHER ACTS
Shop Early Check Blankets Here Free
5 Hour Show From 10 a.m.
Added Feature Free, Except Evenings "Innocents of Paris"
NEW YEAR'S MIDNIGHT SHOW Seats on Sale
CHARLIE FRANK'S "WHOOPEE NIGHT" EVERY THURSDAY

Amusements

Fenway
MASS. AVE. KENMORE 1714
STARTING TODAY
First Showing in Boston
Rugged All-Talking Comedy Drama, Romance of Desert and Mountains, William Vaughan Moody's
The Great Divide
DOROTHY MACKAILL
Ian Keith, Myrna Loy, and Creighton Hale
SPECIAL WELLESLEY COLLEGE PICTURE—Feminine Fitness" EDDIE DRIBBEN in "CLANCY AT THE BAT" Paramount Sound News
Mack Sennett Comedy

Today at Your Neighborhood Theatre

ALLSTON
Publix Allston — ROAN BERRY and VIRGINIA VALLI in "ISLE OF LOST SHIPS" FRANK CRAVEN in "THE VERY IDEA" Best Week—"10 BITA" Children's Gift Mat. Coast.
Publix Capitol Comerford — Geo. Bancroft in "THE MIGHTY" Thurs. Only—Victoria and Mary Pickford in "TAMING OF THE SHREW" Henry Walthall and Paulette Goddard Fisch. Midnite Whoopee Show New Years Eve.

BRIGHTON
Keith's Egyptian — All-Talking Triumph "MR. ANTONIO" with Virginia Valli also JANET GAYNOR in "FOUR DEVILS" Exes. all seats reserved except Sun. and holidays — Big Whoopee Party New Year's Eve—Big Acts Vaudville Novelties—Favors — Special Features— Phone Now for res.—Stadium Ballroom

CAMBRIDGE
Central Sq. — ZIEGFELD'S "RIO RITA" with Bebe Daniels and John Boles Majestic Radio Show Starts Mon. Midnite Whoopee Fruit New Years Eve.
Harvard Sq. Cambridge — All Talking Program MARION DAVIES in "MARIANNE" Mary Pickford & Conrad Nagel in "THE LAST PERFORMANCE"
Porter Sq. Cambridge — "THE COCK-EYED WORLD" All Talking with Victor McLaglen, Lily Ayres & Edmund Lowe "THE EXALTED FLAPPER," with Sue Carol Con. Exes. — "HOLLYWOOD REVUE."
University Porter-Allston Harvard Sq. — ANN HARDING in "HER PRIVATE AFFAIR" "THREE LIVE GHOSTS"

CHARLESTOWN
Hollywood Theatre — Ken Maynard's First Talkie THE SAGE BRUSH MINSTREAL" Clara Bow in "Wild Party" Talkies & Comedy First Theatre in CHARLESTOWN
Eglestone Sq. — All Talking & Musical THE LAST PERFORMANCE —MARY PHILBIN HOOT GIBSON— "LONG, LONG TRAIL" Boston Premiere Exclusive at Eglestone Sq. "THE ROYAL PAIR"

CHARLESTOWN (Cont.)
Thompson Square Theatre — Mary Gordon, Chas. Morton, Harry Morton, Janet Gaynor "FOUR DEVILS." Comedy, Movietone Talking comedy, Vitaphone Acts, Paramount Sound News "KING OF KONGO."

CHELSEA
Olympia Chelsea — CLARA BOW in "Saturday Night Kid" Also Bill Talking Comedy Sunrise Paramount Sound News Talking Dally

DORCHESTER
Codman Sq. Dorchester — GLORIA SWANSON in "The Trespasser" "Girl in the Show" Children's Gift Mat.
Dorchester Theatre — All-Talking Hit COLLEEN MOORE "Smiling Irish Eyes" Also "Drake Case" Gift Nite—Fan—Prize.
Fields Cor. Dublin — GEORGE BANCROFT in "The Mighty" JOAN CRAWFORD "Untamed" Rex Vaux Exc. Midnight Show All Night
Liberty Theatre — Kerrigan Oranquist Mat. DOLORES COSTELLO in "Hearts in Exile" WM. BOYD in "Square Shoulders" Sat. Eve.—Gifts
Strand Dorchester — ZIEGFELD'S "RIO RITA" with Bebe Daniels and John Boles Five Fine Radios Given Away Midnite Whoopee Show New Year's Eve
Tetco Morton — All-Talking Love Romance JACK MULHALL & LEE in "FLIGHT" Talking Novelties 3 Shows Daily 2-7-9 Sat. Shows at 12-3-7-9

EGLESTON SQ.
Eglestone Sq. — All Talking & Musical THE LAST PERFORMANCE —MARY PHILBIN HOOT GIBSON— "LONG, LONG TRAIL" Boston Premiere Exclusive at Eglestone Sq. "THE ROYAL PAIR"

GROVE HALL
Tetco Shawmut — 100% TALKING—SINGING —DANCING— "BROADWAY" Sat. Eve., "GIFT NITE"

HYDE PARK
Everett Square — Two Talkies, CLARA BOW "Saturday Night Kid" ARE HARDING "Her Private Affair" Sat. Nite 1c Gift Nite

JAMAICA PLAIN
Tetco Jamaica — Double Feature Talkies MORAN and MACK in "Why Bring That Up" Ruth Taylor—Wm. Collier Jr. "THE COLLEGE COQUETTE" Matic. 2—Eves. 7 & 8:20

MALDEN
Granada Malden — Marion Davies Singe—Talkie—Dances in "MARIANNE" Free Parking
Strand Malden — NANCY CARROLL and JACK OAKIE in "SWEETIE" R. K. O. Vaudeville

NATICK
Tetco Colonial — All Talking CLARA BOW in "THE SATURDAY NIGHT KID" Also All Talking PHANTOM BLIND in SKIN DEEP" With Dancy Lee Seats Reserved Evenings—Make Reservations by Phone—Natick 1300

REVERE
Interstate Revere Broadway — "Gold Diggers of Broadway" Matinee 2:15 Eve. 8:00

ROXBURY
Tetco Dudley — The Two Black Crows MORAN and MACK in "Why Bring That Up"; Singing, Dancing, Talking Continuous: 1—11 P. M.
Tetco Rivoli — CLARA BOW in all talkies "Saturday Night Kid" Sun. 4 shows—2—3—7—9 Cont. 2 to 11 P. M.

ROSLINDALE
Tetco Rialto — 100% Talkie MORAN and MACK in "WHY BRING THAT UP" 100% Talkie "THE COLLEGE COQUETTE" Wm. Collier, Jr. Shows at 2—7—8:15 P. M.

SOUTH BOSTON
Broadway Southboston — WILLIAM BOYD in "High Voltage" LAURA LAPLANTE in "Hold Your Man"
Strand Southboston — "SALUTE" GEORGE O'BRIEN— HELEN CHANDLER "One Stolen Night" BETTY BRONSON— WILLIAM COLLIER, Jr.

SOMERVILLE
Interstate Capitol Broadway — "Hollywood Revue" A STANDARD ACTS VAUDEVILLE
Ball Square Theatre Central — Gift Night Tonight Also GLORIA SWANSON in "THE TRESPASSER" Publix Strand Union Square — All Talking Picture "The Drake Case" KEN MAYNARD in "Lawless Legion"

SOUTH END
National Theatre Tremont St — All Talking GEORGE O'BRIEN in "SALUTE" GERTRUDE OLMSTEAD and HUGH TRENCH in "HEY RUBE" Sound News—Talking Comedy

WALTHAM
Tetco Central Square — 100% Talkie RICHARD BARTHELMESS in "Young Nowheres" Also JASON ROBARDS in "THE ISLE OF LOST SHIPS"

WINTHROP
Tetco Embassy — MARION DAVIES in "MARIANNE" "SIDE STREET" With 3 MORE'S BIG MIDNITE SHOW NEW YEARS EVE

Miss PAT by Elenore Meherin

GREATER BOSTON NEWS

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

A HOME PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE WHO THINK

2D SECTION

BOSTON, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1929

ONE BURNED IN POSTOFFICE GAS TANK EXPLOSION

Big Christmas Shopping Crowd Fills Boston Stores

Air Romance, Better Than "Chickie"

What Has Happened

MARY PATRICIA DAWN beautiful, young brunette, meets the lad of her dreams in the person of Guy Elliott, aviator. Guy is developing a perfect airplane in the plant of old William Bryce. Happy days follow 'ith Pat and Guy in love. Then comes Barbara Bryce, young widow of Bryce's son, with her seductive lure.

Pat's father dies and Mrs. Dawn gives her life savings to Bryce to invest, but Guy gets them back. Bryce stops financing the plane factory. Suddenly three persons vanish, Guy, Pat and Mrs. Bryce's little boy. A note is received demanding $50,000 ransom for the boy. The place where the money is left is watched by the police, but is taken mysteriously, presumably by the kidnapers. Guy is found and arrested kidnaper of Bryce's grandson.

Now Read On

CHAPTER 36.

TWO bright silver planes winging upon them! Gaining! Pat kept her eyes riveted on the pursuing ships. Now they seemed larger. Getting nearer!

Now they dwindled. Losing —No! Oh, they will not!

The plane that carried her banked with insane suddenness. It shot full speed toward clouds.

Pat clung to the window, cling with eyes and spirit to the flash of distant wings.

They shot on. The motor thundered. She told herself, burning: "They're following. Oh there!"

Suddenly it grew dark; suddenly the clouds engulfed them. They tore blindly upward.

Then Pat dropped limp and cold in her corner. No pilot with less than very life at stake would follow now. The men in the cockpit were crazed; they sat motionless, stonecold, the throttle wide open and the little plane flying like a comet.

Above the clouds into a cold, dazzling sunlight. After a long while Pat drew herself again to the window. She dreaded admitting that all hope was vanished. Guy could search for her. Her mother would have the air-liners combed to the remotest star. Oh, by now, dozens, scores, hundreds of planes would be racing in all directions after this one lone fugitive of the skies—this bright, swift swallow.

But the glittering miles that Pat could see, not the smallest speck was visible. Not a thing even a drifting, beguiling cloud.

She was lost. But she sat there trying to bury her mind—deny to deny her plight. Absorbed in this when suddenly, adding horror to her misery, the bundle at her feet renewed its uneasy movements.

She drew from it. It followed. It slid down the bench when the support of her body was withdrawn.

She was overcome with revulsion. But she HAD to look. Stealthily she put out her hand and pulled the blanket back.

Pat's blood ran chill. Little sick tremors went through her. A child lay there—a beautiful boy with cheeks and swollen, his eyes frantic. Seeing Pat, he pushed his hands free and cowered down in fighting, uncontrollable terror.

She could scarcely breathe. She was livid with the disaster. Forbidding even the presence of the child gave to her flight. She leaned down and tried to calm the frightened little fellow. Doing this, she caught the unmistakable odor of chloroform. Had the child, too, lain unconscious in the cabin all night? Who was he? Why was he taken on this ghastly adventure?

He had his hands pressed against his ears, and she could tell from his wide-open mouth that he screamed in panic. He was afraid of the noise. He wanted her to make them stop—make it quiet. He grew rigid and kicked against the seat.

But he was unhurt. With tremendous relief Pat saw that he child was uninjured.

They were flying through cloudless blue. Beneath them the mountains marched in long regiments. "Oh, where are we? Pat wondered, longing to take the child in her arms; longing for some tuch of comfort. "What will they do with us?"

Suddenly as they passed a population down and Pat could make out the red roofs of houses, a crazy hope swept her. She would take her brief case, in which were her school books—take this case and drop it over the next settlement.

She wrote her name, and in big bold letters: "HELP!" She told that Pat Dawn and a little yellow-haired boy whose name she didn't know had been kidnaped, chloroformed and carried away in the night. They were now racing over valleys and mountains in what appeared to be southern California.

She dropped the case, and prayed burningly to a god who had richard's face to direct her appeal into swift, rescuing hands.

The mountain ranges of east and west were joining. They locked the land with a great swinging wall.

"This must be Tehachipi," Pat thought as they flew through a pass where the winds of all the world held embrace.

They emerged from the pass and flew above bleak, lifeless lands

Continued on Page 14, Column 6

BLAST ROCKS FINANCIAL DISTRICT

Human Torch Rescued After Tractor Tank Explodes at Old Postoffice

One man was burned and the financial district alarmed today when a gasoline tank exploded at the old Federal building.

Strabo V. Claggett, former Democratic candidate for state auditor, saved the life of Joseph McDonald, 24, of 25 Codman pk., Roxbury, by smothering the flames on his gasoline drenched clothing.

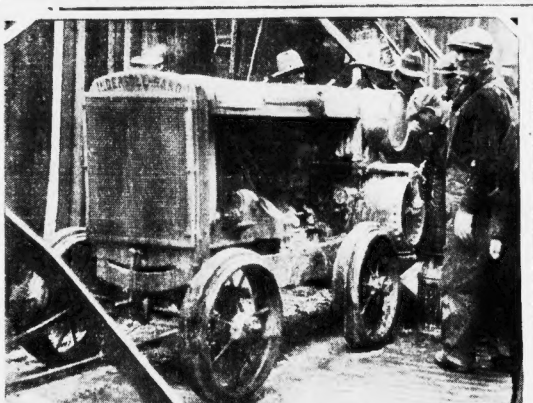
McDonald was taken to the Haymarket Relief Hospital, where he was treated for burns about the head and body.

The explosion occurred at a time when hundreds of office workers were on their way to their places of employment.

A fire alarm was turned in and apparatus from all parts of downtown Boston clanged to the scene, adding to the excitement.

The tank was attached to a tractor used in hauling from the basement parts of the walls which are being torn down

Where Post Office Tank Blew Up and Hero of Blast



Tractor whose gasoline tank exploded in the wreckage of the old Postoffice building, shaking the downtown section and setting on fire the clothing of Joseph McDonald of Roxbury. (Staff photos.)

Strabo V. Claggett, former Democratic candidate for State Auditor, saved McDonald's life by smothering the flames on his clothing.

PLAN SAFETY OF SCHOOL BUSES

Stirred by the recent death of two school children who were struck by an automobile after alighting from a school bus, the Governor's Committee on street and highway safety has made recommendations to local committees seeking to prevent a repetition of such fatalities.

The committees are asked to see to it that all school busses be marked "School Bus" in conspicuous letters on the front and rear of such vehicles and that the busses be loaded and unloaded, if possible, completely off the highways.

It is further suggested that where ever possible routes be established for picking up such children and that where it is not possible to get off the highway, the unloading and picking up be done only at the right side of the highway.

Crippled Man Denied Admission to Shrine

A paralytic since birth, Pasquale Concilla, 24, of Northeast, Pa., arrived at the Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden today, and made an ineffectual attempt to obtain admittance to pray at the new grave of Rev. Patrick J. Power.

Concilla produced a letter from the Rev. Fr. Frawley of Northeast, to Rev. Fr. Thomas F. O'Connor of the Mission Church, Roxbury, asking the local priest to do what he could to get Concilla admittance.

The cripple said he had saved up his money to make the trip, and had covered much of the journey in trucks.

A few other persons were at the gates, but made no attempt to get by the guards still on duty by order of Cardinal O'Connell.

The body of Fr. Power reposed in the new grave in front of the chapel, enclosed by a wire fence. Cemetery officials said a weeks work remains to be done on the grave. The original tombstone is to be set in a concrete base on the grave. The original tombstone is to be set in a concrete base on the grave, among other things.

Members of a funeral procession entered the cemetery, but were not permitted to approach Fr. Power's grave.

DOCTOR HELD IN FLORIDA DEALS

Charged with two counts of larceny in connection with Florida real estate deals, Dr. Charles A. Neal of Needham, also an attorney, today was arraigned in municipal court.

The case was continued until the day before Christmas and the doctor-lawyer was released under $1500 bonds furnished by his attorney, Harry A. Nickerson.

The first count charges Dr. Neal procured $625 illegally from Charles G. Tabor of Chandler st., South End, while the second lists $1250 obtained from Adelaide V. Burill of Warren ave., Boston.

Dr. Neal pleaded not guilty. He was admitted to the bar 20 years ago in the District of Columbia.

HUB MAN HELD AS 'RUNNER'

Harry Lewis of Bancroft st., Roxbury, was held in $3000 in Providence today for illegal transportation of liquor, after, it was charged, he had attempted to ride down a state trooper.

Lewis was captured when his car, registered, according to police, in the name of Mrs. Ruth McCollum, Greenview ave., Jamaica Plain, skidded and struck a tree.

The driver took to the fields, but was pursued and caught by Capt. Nolan and a trooper of the state police. They claim to have found 25 five-gallon cans of liquor in the automobile.

According to Nolan, he and the trooper were trying to warn Lewis of slippery roads, when the local man deliberately attempted to run over them.

Mail Truck Overturns

A mail truck, used in making local collections in Chelsea, skidded on the icy pavement at Shawmut and Suffolk sts., Chelsea, and toppled over. The driver, Edmond E. Smith of 53 Nichols st., escaped with only a slight injury to one arm.

Narrow Gauge to Issue New Stock

The state department of public utilities authorized the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn Railroad Company to issue 2652 shares of additional capital stock of the par value of $100 per share.

The money is for the purpose of completing the electrification of the road and making certain permanent improvements incidental to the electrification.

Dorchester Man, 65, Mourns Lost Pet

When a man reaches the age of 65 and then loses a pet of eight years' standing he feels pretty blue. That's just the way Albert E. Berry of 85 Toppan st., Dorchester, feels. So, if you happen to see his male Pekinese dog "Yen" wandering around your neighborhood get in touch with Mr. Berry and make him happy again. The dog is sable color.

Elections Held by Student A. M. A.

Elections of the Northeastern Student Branch of the American Management Association resulted as follows:

Board of directors: Charles Lynde, 30, Barre, Vt.; Dexter W. Lovell, 30, Roslindale; George H. Gould, 31, Everett; John A. Turner, 31, New Bedford; Delmer White, 31, Mansfield. Reception committee: Julian M. Moore, 30, chairman; John Corey, 20, Mansfield; Leonard Beedle, 30, Alston; Samuel Cutler, 31, North Dartmouth; John F. Vadala, 31, Boston. Malcolm C. Davis was elected faculty adviser.

Theophilus King 85, Gives Away $16,245

Seventy religious and charitable organizations today are $16,245 richer because this day and date happens to be the birthday of Theophilus King. His 85th, in fact. Every one of Quincy's churches, including all denominations, now receive $200 annually from the King family fund, a practice which Mr. King inaugurated many years ago with initial gifts of $25 each. Later, when the fund has reached the $3,000,000 mark King plans to increase these annual gifts to $200.

To Reinstate Fireman

A bill to reinstate without further examination Alfred P. Tenen of Dorchester as a member of the Boston fire department was today filed at the State House by Representative Owen Gallagher of Dorchester.

FIRST 'FROST' SMELT ON WAY

The first "natural frost" smelt of the season are due to arrive in Boston early next week, several cars are on the way from Canada.

Today's local arrivals, captured small with prices still high. Mixed cel especially, with the opening season and unfavorable fishing weather, have been bringing 14 to 20 cents wholesale.

Fish dealers say that the catch made part today should be the beginning of a big run, as the first of the season usually is. They hope that better weather may help them fill the holds.

Deer Season Closes Today; 2268 Killed

The two weeks open season on deer closes at sunset tonight. Up to noon today, hunters had reported to the State House that a total of 2268 of the animals had been shot. A year ago, the total number of deer killed in the entire season amounted to but 2261.

ALLEN WILL HEAR VETS ON GOODWIN

Reserves the Legion Protest Against Reappointment of Civil Service Commissioner

After receiving a letter from the executive committee of the American Legion of Massachusetts in protest against the reappointment of Civil Service Commissioner Elliot H. Goodwin, Governor Allen today indicated he soon would grant a hearing.

No date has been set, but the hearing probably will be held next week.

In addition to the committee's letter, the Governor has received many individual complaints from Legionnaires. The protests have been against alleged mistreatment of veterans by Goodwin.

Department Commander John J. O'Connell presided at the committee session when the letter was drawn up, but declined to give out the contents until after the governor had been informed.

Previous to the arrival of the letter the governor and the commissioner were in conference for an hour.

WHAT COOLIDGE TOLD WASHBURN

President R. M. Washburn of the Roosevelt Club, who recently attempted to smoke out former President Calvin Coolidge in regard to the senatorship nomination, today let it be known that he had received a letter from Mr. Coolidge marked personal and confidential.

Washburn, in a public communication to Mr. Coolidge, had asked the ex-President if he would assist in the unopposed nomination for Senator Gillett's seat, which he Washburn would be glad to indorse.

In commenting on the Coolidge reply, which of course must remain a secret, Washburn said:

"The investment of a two-cent stamp or a letter to Mr. Coolidge ought not be a legal investment for a Massachusetts savings bank."

Bar to Honor the Late Judge Raymond

Five members of the Boston Bar Association have been chosen to attend a memorial meeting in memory of Judge Robert E. Raymond, late of the Municipal Court, Newton Center.

Those who will represent the association at the meeting are Delmer Putnam, Frank H. Stewart

Man Arraigned in Clothing Store Theft

Arraigned in Waltham court today, William Carr, 29, of Broad st., Providence, was held in $2000 bonds on charges of breaking and entering in the night time and the larceny of $250 worth of clothing, the property of the George L. Keller Clothing Co. of Waltham. He will be given a hearing next Saturday.

EVERYBODY SPENDING MONEY

Police Have Hands Full to Keep Traffic Moving in Thronged Streets

Thousands of Christmas shoppers crowded the retail shopping district of Boston today and gave the police all they could do to handle them, even with the added crowd of the city's traffic-shopping period.

Washington st. and all thoroughfares crossing it between State and Boylston streets were densely packed with men, women and children so that it was with difficulty they moved toward their destinations.

All the congested streets were jammed with buyers, many of whom came from out of town and were making a day of it.

The most crowded spot in this vortex of swirling humanity was at the junction of Washington, Winter and Summer sts., where extra policemen, on foot and horse, did their best to keep traffic moving.

In the vicinity of the subway the sidewalks were far too narrow to accommodate the vast throng.

Time and time again motor cops, as pedestrians refused to wait for yellow and red traffic lights, did cut across Washington st.

Merchants with tired customers clinging to their hands and clothes had a hard time of it as they went from store to store to give Santa Claus the slip.

All the stores reported unusually brisk buying. Everybody seemed o have the money and what was more they were spending it.

It was the "big" Saturday of the fall to date.

Answers Curley on Memorial Building

Herbert Parker, chairman of the State Tercentenary commission, replied today to Governor Curley's suggestion that he support plans for State purchase of the land bordered by the State House, Beacon, Joy and Hancock sts. for purposes including erection of a memorial building to house the Supreme Judicial Court.

In his reply Chairman Parker simply stated that until the Legislature had had an opportunity to act on the commission's recommendations regarding the site selected erecting memorial building on the Stanley Hall property near the Charles River basin and further to the commission's plans for the tercentenary.

Three Held in Break at Brighton House

Charged with breaking and entering the home of Nicholas Malonev, 45, Newton st., Brighton, Edmund A. Fleming, 20, of Silver st., South Boston, and William Fleming, 22, of Dorchester Hill ave., Dorchester, were held in $2000 each for the Superior court in Brighton court today.

Edmund Fleming was held also with John Dwyer of East Street st., South Boston, on a charge of conspiracy to break and enter the home of Maloney.

Dwyer was alleged to have driven them in his car.

Melrose Woman Willed $204,306

Mrs. Mary B. Bowden of Melrose will receive a gift of $204,306.27 fund left by her father, the late Wm. Nelson Bowden of Swampscott, who died at his home on Ashland ave. Wednesday. Mrs. Bowden is the only child of the testator.

Other bequests are Burnham Bowden, grandson, of Melrose, $5000; William Wendell, graduate of Harvard, $5000, and the widow, who receives life annuity of $25,000.

For War Memorial

The state auditor has created a permanent memorial commission to plan the observance of the World War, has filed a preliminary report with the Legislature asking that the scope of the work be enlarged to include all wars and that the time for making the report be extended to February 1.

The domestic help problem is solved by taking a kitchenette apartment and the best are advertised daily in the For Rent column.

SKIPPY

THIS IS THE FIRST TIME IN MY LIFE I EVER TRIED LYING AN' I CAN'T SAY AS I THINK SUCH AN AWFUL LOT OF THE RACKET. BUT, THEN, I AIN'T THROUGH YET

©1929 { Percy L. Crosby, Great Britain rights reserved. King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Just Supposing

By Percy Crosby

NOW, LET ME SEE, WHERE WAS I? DID I SAY PAPA FELL OFF THE TRAIN OR A TROLLEY CAR? IF SHE ASKS ME WHERE THE TRAIN CAME FROM, OH, WELL, TRAINS COME FROM ANY PLACE; THAT'S EASY. MAYBE SHE WON'T ASK, BUT I THINK I'LL SAY CHICAGO. THAT'S A BIG CITY.
12-14

"WHAT TRAIN WAS IT?" SHE'LL ASK ME, AN' I'LL COME BACK, 'EMPIRE EXPRESS,' SHE'LL ASK MORE QUESTIONS, BUT WITH SO MANY OF THE ANSWERS I CAN GIVE HER SHE'LL GET TIRED OF THE WHOLE THING AN' LET IT DROP. BUT SUPPOSIN' SHE DOESN'T, YEH, SUPPOSIN'. ..... THEN JUST SUPPOSIN'.....OH! WHERE'S THE GUY I USED TO BE?

FIELDS-JONES BOUT O. K.---BUCKLEY

AMERICAN SPORTS SECTION

FOR SPORTS—CALL LIBERTY 4000 SATURDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1929 FOR SPORTS—CALL LIBERTY 4000

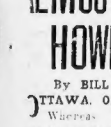
Ottawa Fans Find Little Fault With New Ice Rules

CHANGES ARE ALMOST SURE, HOWEVER

By BILL GRIMES

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 14—Whereas Montreal is heavily in favor of drastic changes in the present condition of hockey rules, up here in the capital city there are comparatively few protests in evidence.

Possibly the difference in opinions of the fans in the two cities is a measure due to the success or failure of their respective teams. Montreal Maroon players are strong for the present rules, probably because they have been able to beat them to such an extent that they are right in the midst of the battle for the playoff possession.



Bill Grimes

On the other hand, Les Canadiens seem to have little or no conception of the possibilities of plays offered, and they are sinking rapidly.

If the Bruins-Ottawa game can be taken as a criterion, the new rules, with possibly one or two exceptions, are perfect. This was one of the fastest, cleanest and most interesting game seen here in years.

From start to finish, the pace was exceptionally fast and although the fans here are not as boisterous or as outwardly enthusiastic as they are in Boston or Montreal, they were very much pleased with the hockey offered, in spite of the fact that the Senators went down to a costly defeat.

NOTICEABLE INFRINGEMENT

One infringement which was very noticeable in the Bruins-Ottawa game was the looting of Joe Lamb in the Bruins' territory. Due to the pace of the game, Lamb's illegal play went unnoticed, and it might have proved costly had the Senators gotten a break.

Just as soon as Lamb saw a teammate recover the puck in Ottawa's defending zone, he streaked at top speed for the attacking zone and attempted to slip into a position for a pass.

Manager Art Ross of the Bruins and Dave Gill and Newsey Lalonde of Ottawa held a long discussion of the rules this morning at the Chateau Laurier.

Manager Ross is strong for checking the wild rushes into the zone ahead of the puck carrier, and offered as a cure that no player be allowed to enter the attacking zone before the puck carrier has passed center ice. After a lengthy debate, Gill and Lalonde agreed with Ross.

Lalonde is of the opinion that minor infractions of the rules on any player must be called, but he feels that the teams shouldn't suffer as much because of minor penalties.

He offered as an argument that when a team is two men short under the present code, it is only a question of how many goals will be scored against it.

Newsey would appreciate the league adopting a deferred penalty system, which would prevent a team being short more than one man at a time. With one man off, and a foul detected the second player would not leave the ice until the other returned. This, of course, would apply only to minor penalties and would be in effect up to the last five minutes of a game.

Although a change will doubtless meet with strong opposition, it is very likely that at the meeting of the board of governors of the National Hockey League in Chicago next Monday, will produce some modifications.

Means will be taken to stop that end to end of the rink dashes of wings, the goaltenders will be offered better protection and the old farce of icing will be adopted. Racing across in front of goalies will be absolutely prohibited and many clubs which are at present using this illegal style of play will find their styles cramped to say the least, but it will work out to the advantage and safety of the goal minders who are at present left at the mercy of the attacking team.

PENALTIES MORE NUMEROUS

Penalties have indeed been far more numerous this season than ever in the past. With only a quarter of the schedule played, there have been just half as many penalties as were called during the entire season last year.

The fans through Canada and the United States are anxiously awaiting the results of next Monday's meeting and unless some changes are made, there will be an uprising such as will work to the disadvantage of the greatest of all indoor sports.

VERSATILE BARRY

Wood of Harvard changes athletic uniforms with the seasons. In fall, he is a grid star, in winter, he shines on the ice. Spring finds him on the diamond and summer on the tennis courts. He also plays a good game of golf.

SPRAGUE CLEGHORN'S R. I. REDS TO FACE TIGERS ON GARDEN ICE TONIGHT

SPRAGUE CLEGHORN, one of the greatest pro hockey players who ever put on skates, will lead the Providence Reds onto the Garden ice tonight for the third game of their season's series with Boston Tigers.

In two previous games the Reds, then under the management of Jimmy Gardner, were easy prey for the Tigers and succumbed, 11 to 5, and 9 to 4.

The Reds of today, however, are a far different club as was evidenced by their victory over the league-leading New Haven Eagles the day after Cleghorn took over the management.

When he came from Montreal to Providence last Tuesday he brought with him one Gordon Fraser who had been playing for the Les Canadiens.

The latter played defense against New Haven in combination with Jack McVicar who has just recovered from an infection which has handicapped him all season.

With Fraser, one of the hardest shots in hockey on defense, with Cleghorn at the helm and the injury epidemic which struck the club hard at the season's start apparently ended, the Reds are equipped to argue the league leadership with the Eagles and the Tigers.

The game of tonight has a direct bearing on leadership for victory will place the Bengals back in a tie with New Haven at the top of the standing. With a couple of days of rest behind them the Tigers are ready to give their best against the Reds.

Garden Pays Off Jackie Fields and Jones

The bout between Jackie Fields and Gorilla Jones drew a gate of $18,643 after payment of taxes. Fields received a guarantee of $7500 and Jones 15 per cent, which amounted to $2796.

The Garden at first refused to pay the boxers today, but when later informed by the Boxing Commission that Referee Joe O'Connor had not ordered any of the money held up Sheldon H. Fairbanks, general manager at the Garden, ordered the purses turned over to the two boxers.

Under the Massachusetts law the referee is the only person who has authority to deprive a boxer of any part of his purse.

Proposes "Gate" Support Athletes

Baton Rouge, La., Dec. 14 (AP)—Major W. H. McKellar, faculty chairman of athletics at Sewanee, early this morning placed before the southern conference a proposal for agreed support of athletes in southern schools from revenues from athletic contests, as a "cure for surreptitious subsidy."

He proposed that the athletes be supported by the various institutions on an open voucher basis with all expenses covered, and no other "contributions" from other sources allowed, on pain of expulsion.

COMM. BUCKLEY THINKS "NO CONTEST" RULING UNFAIR TO BOTH MEN

By JACK CONWAY

JACKIE FIELDS and Gorilla Jones will be paid for their bout at the Boston Garden which was called "no contest" by Referee Joe O'Connor in the seventh round.

When O'Connor rendered his verdict, he did not order that the purse of the boxers be held up. Perhaps he believed that his "no contest" decision in itself automatically held up the compensation of the rival mitt wielders. Such is not the case as was explained by Commissioner Eugene Buckley.

Jack Conway

"The referee must enter a special ruling if a boxer is not to be paid," said the commissioner. "And O'Connor did not do so. It is natural to expect that in a case where a "no contest" ruling is entered that at least part of a boxer's purse will be held up, but no action can be taken in the absence of a special order from the referee.

"PERSONALLY I didn't see anything wrong with the bout. Fields kept crowding Jones at all times and made it difficult for the Akron man to score with his right hand punch. It looked to me as if there was an organized effort to discredit the two boxers. The booing began as soon as the bout started and continued until the referee rendered his decision. The crowd didn't even give Fields and Jones an opportunity to get warmed up."

IT was a case of where the attitude of the crowd had a great deal to do with the decision.

The crowd was hostile from the beginning of the bout. The fact Fields and Jones are both out-of-town boxers and had previously met in a contest on the Coast led some of the so-called wise men to charge that the mill was going to be one of those things.

The echo of the opening bell had hardly died out when there were cries from the balcony of "throw them out."

The sentiment of the gang in the gallery spread down to the stadium and then to the floor sections. It didn't matter which either boxer did. The demand was "throw them out."

REFEREE JOE O'CONNOR didn't help matters in the least by warning Jones on several occasions. At the end of the third session O'Connor went to each corner and told the rival battlers they would have to fight better. His actions gave grounds for the gallery crowd to base its charges on.

Meanwhile Fields kept forcing the fighting. He pounded away at Jones' head and body with both hands. He also crashed hard punches to the body. At the end of the sixth round Jones was tired and bleeding freely from the mouth.

THE crowd had seen Jones knock out Al Mello and expected he would also stagger Fields. It didn't stop to consider that Fields is a much better boxer than Mello. Jones' only weapon of attack is a swinging right hand with which he has no license to hit a first-class boxer. Fields' left jab and hook made Jones' right hand useless.

The champion has a bobbing, weaving style and it isn't any cinch to nail such a type of boxer with right hands. If Fields could be hit by the kind of wild right hand socks Jones tosses he never would have reached the head of his boxing division.

THE crowd continued to yell "throw them out" in the seventh round. And Referee O'Connor did so and the gallery crowd, at least, was satisfied.

Fields protested the ruling of the referee strenuously to Boxing Commissioners Buckley, Niland and to everybody else at the ringside who would give him an audience.

JONES has been a slow starter in all of his bouts. Even on the night when he knocked out Mello the crowd was booing him up to the time he put the big smash over. This writer also listened to a New York crowd boo Jones for his defensive tactics the night he gave Mello a drubbing in the New York Garden.

Fields' title was not at stake. He entered the ring at 147½ pounds, while Jones scaled 149 pounds.

BUSTER BROWN of Baltimore won from Frankie Moore of Medford in the semifinal of eight rounds.

Joe Mack of Manchester disposed of Al Linzi of Italy in four heats. Izzy Hyman of England upset Nick Madonna of Lexington in four frames.

Young Lefty of Fall River won from Tommy Harper of the North End in four stanzas.

Al Delgado of the North End came through with a victory over Jimmy Hoag of Syracuse in four rounds.

Al Rackow of Winthrop carried too many guns for Harry Slahine of the West End in a four-round event.

40 BOUTS ON ST. JOE CARD

The New England golden glove elimination will be continued tonight in Mechanics Building under auspices of St. Joseph's T. A. S., when more than 60 amateur boxers, the greatest entry list in the whole history of amateur boxing in New England, will fight in eight classes that range from fly-weight to heavyweight.

So tremendous is the entry list that "Father Bill" Cuddy, director of the show, will start the proceedings promptly at 7:30, in order that the show may be finished by midnight.

"In all my experience, I have never seen anything like it," said Father Bill. "We have entries from all over New England, and I think that the fans will see the best show St. Joseph's T. A. S. has ever staged."

Despite the fact that more than 60 bouts will be presented, the same popular prices will prevail, and a section has been reserved for ladies, with or without escorts.

Every class is crowded with entries. The 109-pound class has six. The 125-pound class has eight. The 126-pound class has eleven. Every other class is jammed with amateurs of note.

Reservations for the show may be made with William H. Cuddy 333 Washington st.

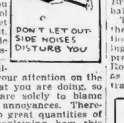
Rhode Island Lifts Ban on Sonnenberg

Providence, Dec. 14—Gus Sonnenberg, heavyweight wrestling champion, was reinstated by the Rhode Island Athletic Commission, according to the announcement made by the commission chairman, Edward C. Foster.

GOOD GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON
Golf's Greatest Teacher

There are baseball players who can perform before yelling mobs of tens of thousands of fans, but put a golf stick in their hands and they become supreme annoyance if even a leaf turns red or brown while they prepare to shoot. A lot of you golfers have this complex in some degree, and to become a tip top golfer you should school yourself to get rid of the habit. It is not side noises that disturb you at all—it is your failure to center your attention on the ball, or on what you are doing, so after all you are solely to blame for your own annoyances. Therefore, to use up great quantities of conversation explaining how this or that disturbance, which others know to be things of the slightest consequence, ruined your shot, is merely to announce to better golfers that you have not yet learned how to center your own attention. Put your attention on the spot on the ball where you intend to hit it, and the world could come to an end during your swing without your being conscious of it. I could give you no better suggestion than this for golfing improvement.



Copyright, John F. Dille Co.

SHIKAT TO TAKE ON HAGEN

Dick Shikat will show his wares for the second time in a Boston ring at Mechanics Building next Thursday night opposed to that sensational "bone-crusher" from Brooklyn, George Hagen, the man who fought such a spectacular duel with Jim McMillen here last Wednesday.

Hagen, unquestionably one of the outstanding contenders for Shikat's crown, was selected to battle Gus Sonnenberg's rival by Promoter Billy Avery. The Brooklyn strong man was given the preference over McMillen because Avery thought him to be a more worthy challenger for the giant German, whom mat critics term a second Frank Gotch.

Four other all-star matches have been arranged by Avery. In the semifinal, George Caiza, the Italian champion, will take on Charley Blackstock, the brilliant Texas University graduate, in a finish match. The third bout brings together Hans Steinke, the German, and Joe "Bull" Komar.

All Quiet Again on Brooklyn Front

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—The Evening Post today says an armistice assuring peace for at least two years has been agreed upon by the warring officials of the Brooklyn National League Baseball Club.

The compromise agreement, says the newspaper, will result in election of Frank B. York, representing the McKeever interests, as president and retention of Wilbert Robinson, now president-manager, as manager on a two-year contract.

Fights Last Night

By the Associated Press

New York—Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver, B. C., knocked out Ruby Goldstein, New York (2); Louis (Kid) Kaplan, Meriden, Ct., outpointed Andy Callahan, Lawrence, Mass. (10); Canada Lee outpointed Andy Di Vedi, New York (10); Danny Davis, Allentown, Pa., outpointed Tommy (Tuffy) McGinnis, Scotland (10).

Detroit—Leo Sexton, Buffalo, N. Y., defeated George Courtney, Oklahoma City, Okla., foul (5).

St. Joseph, Mo.—Ray Alfano, St. Louis, outpointed Chet Wilkins, Omaha, Neb. (10); John Senogles, Omaha, Neb., knocked out Frankie Krall, St. Louis (3).

TWO SOCCER GAMES TODAY

Pawtucket or New Bedford will be the Meca today for those dyed-in-the-wool soccer fans who must see their favorite sport played every week. The Mill City eleven will take on Bethlehem and the Whalers will entertain Brooklyn.

Either game is well worth going to see and quite a number of Hub rooters will make the trip to see one or the other.

Two former Hub stars, Jock McArthur and Bob Fleming, are playing for the Mill City eleven and Billy Gibson, another former Boston player, is on the Bethlehem eleven.

Tommy Martyn, ex-Fall River star, has taken over the Pawtucket eleven backed by local business men and a revised eleven will oppose the Steelworkers in today's game.

The Whalers with Dave McEachren playing in the attack should bag full points against the Agawites from Brooklyn, although the latter have been coming along strong of late.

The status of the Woodsies will be learned after the meeting of the Atlantic Coast League in New York tonight. Jimmy Robertson of Jamaica Plain will be on hand to answer questions on his request to have the franchise transferred from the former owners and if the request is granted, Hub fans will be happy once more.

Pitcher Carmen Hill Goes in Bankruptcy

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 14—Carmen Hill, pitcher, who finished the 1929 season with the Cardinals, filed a petition in bankruptcy in federal court, listing liabilities of $2283 and assets of $695. Most of the debts, according to Hill, resulted in a business partnership with Newton W. Lewis in a local garage.

Barry Wood Is Most Versatile Athlete

SPRING, summer, fall or winter, it's all the same to Barry Wood, Harvard's most versatile athlete.

A sport for every season is the Crimson sophomore's program.

Never in Harvard's history has there been an equal to Wood as an all-around athletic performer. Football, baseball, hockey, tennis and golf, he plays 'em all any well.

In his brief career at Cambridge, young Wood has already won his letter in varsity football. Also his numerals in freshman football, freshman baseball and freshman hockey. Now he is looking for further wending to conquer.

WOOD came to Harvard in 1928 from Milton academy, where he had been the best all-around athlete in his class. While at prep school, he starred his gridiron game under the watchful eye of Harvard's never-to-be-forgotten quarterback, Charlie Buell. For two years, Barry barked signals for undefeated Milton elevens.

He also played on the Milton nine in 1925-26-27 and made a name for himself as a shortstop and a hitter. At Harvard he won his berth at short on the freshman team and was known as the home run king of the outfit. He hit over .400.

While two major sports would seem to be enough for any one player, Wood is more athletically ambitious. The minute after the football season ended with a 10-to-6 victory over Yale, young Barry started thinking about hockey. He was among the first to report to Coach Joe Stubbs for a spot on the varsity six, and is looks now as though he would make a wing spot on the sextet this winter.

If he does, it will be his fourth season on the ice. He was a team mate of Elliot Putnam on Milton's ice sextet, and expects to be Putties running mate again this season.

NOT content with being a member of Harvard's tennis team, Barry goes further on the courts until his latest achievement has caused him to be named a member of the Davis Cup squad. As in the case of all his other sports, his tennis days began back in Milton Academy. He is now 17th on the national ranking list.

He is also one of the best junior golfers in the land. He shows his vocation in the links.

Wood is certainly not without companions in his exploits. He was on the same baseball team with Ben Ticknor, Harvard's All-America center, and Sam Batchelder, Harvard's defense man. The three were one on the same eleven at Milton.

He is considered by Harvard trainers to be as physically perfect as any Harvard athlete has ever been. Wood is now 19 years old, stands 6 feet 1, and weights a shade over 175.

He has tremendous strength in his shoulder muscles which make it possible for him to get off those famous fifty-yard forward passes.

Aside from being a leading athlete, Wood has also devoted enough time to his studies to maintain an exceptionally high standing scholastically, being on the Dean's honor list. He is also president of the class of 1932.

3 HARD GAMES FOR BRUINS

The Bruins, still maintaining their world championship clip, are in New York today, ready for a first meeting there tomorrow night with the New York Americans. They return to Boston on Monday to look forward to a Tuesday meeting with the Senators, whom they defeated in a sensational game in Ottawa on Thursday night.

With a quarter of the schedule behind them, and having won nine of their first eleven starts, the Bruins have broken away in a manner which more than justifies the pre-season hopes of the Boston fans.

Fortunate, too, for the world champions, that they have been able to set and maintain such a furious clip because Chicago and the Rangers have played fine hockey and the Rossmen have been forced to consistently fast starting clip to stay out in first place.

Seldom have the Bruins won a game which gave their followers greater satisfaction than was the case in their 3-2 triumph over Ottawa. The Boston team was forced to come from behind twice to prevail on a team which has been playing far and away the best hockey of the Canadian division and which has been the leading scoring team of the entire National League.

It was impossible for the Bruins to keep King Clancy from scoring a goal but they did successfully tie up Hector Hurrican Kilres and Frank Finnegan who have been running wild against other league opponents.

The game between Ottawa and the Bruins will be one of two rare treats to be afforded Boston fans next week.

La Coste Retires From Tennis Court

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Rene La Coste of France has played his last international tennis in the opinion of Pierre Etchebadier, world's court tennis champion.

Etchebadier, who arrived here yesterday to become court tennis instructor for three months at the Racquet and Tennis Club, said LaCoste's definitely through as a championship player.

"La Coste will never play in the championships again," said the little Basque who dethroned G. F. Covey of England as world's court tennis champion last year. "He is to be married soon and he will be occupied with his business affairs to give his time seriously to tennis any more."

Billy Townsend Wins Canadian Title

Vancouver, B. C., Dec. 14 (AP)—The lightweight boxing championship of Canada was held today by Billy Townsend of Vancouver as the result of a 12-round decision over Al Foreman of Montreal here last night. Foreman was recognized by the Canadian Boxing Federation. Townsend weighed 134¾, Foreman 130.

The domestic help problem is solved by taking a kitchenette apartment and the best are advertised daily in the For Rent columns.

Carnegie Tech Tackles So. California on Coast

EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS

BITTER GRID BATTLE IS EXPECTED

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13—[illegible] Southern California Trojans here [illegible]

And the Trojan will not be idle then, being due to face Pittsburgh on Jan 1 at the Tournament of Roses.

The Skibos, under Coaches Sutton and Waddell, are in shape to give their best in the hard game with the Trojan

FIRST MEETING.

With Carnegie Tech and Southern California standing each at the team's ranking of their respective sections, today's battle between them in the Los Angeles Coliseum is expected to be the best intersectional game of the nation's post season card.

It will be the initial meeting between the two schools and will mark the second time that a Carnegie Tech eleven will have played on the Pacific coast.

The other occasion was in 1925 when the Tartans were held to 14 to 14 tie by the Oregon Aggies of Corvallis. One World comment from Trojan headquarters today on the clash with Tech will be the annual homecoming game for Southern California alumni and a capacity crowd is expected to pack the big Los Angeles Coliseum.

Carnegie's season was somewhat of a disappointment, due mainly to injuries and sickness. Two of the biggest games on the Tech schedule were lost, Notre Dame licked out a 7 to 0 triumph and Pittsburgh later rose to great heights to win from the Tartans by a 6-touchdown margin that gave the Panthers the Smoky City championship, which the Skibos carried off last year.

However both Notre Dame and Pittsburgh top the list of teams in the running for the mythical national title, and in losing to them Carnegie was not disgraced. In fact, Jordan supported Tech's claim to this title that the outcome of those two battles might have been different had Tech's full strength been available when Notre Dame and Pitt were played.

Tech's many followers were also cheered by the play of [illegible] Carnegie made in [illegible] Yale. Tech's [illegible] Yale's [illegible] the latter [illegible] collectively, and [illegible] season of 1929 [illegible]

The Yale [illegible] Tech [illegible] against [illegible] Yale [illegible] gave rise to the [illegible] here that [illegible] upward movement which started in that game will carry the Tartans on to [illegible] victory in their final game with the Trojans.

GOOD BALL CARRIER

The greatest individual [illegible] so was in the work of Harry McCrady at quarterback. The Tech field general was the most outstanding player in the Yankee [illegible] and received much praise by the New York [illegible] writers. McCrady directed the Skibo attack [illegible] and [illegible] pounted well, carried the ball for good gains and put up a spectacular exhibition of blocking and receiving forward passes.

Howard Eyth and Thayer Fountain are expected to be at the halfback posts against the Trojans. Both are good ball carriers and are equally adept at running or starting passes. Armentrout, who excels at running the ball off tackle and around the ends, will be available for relief work behind the line and as Tech's greatest threat as a pass runner.

Dick Hanley Too Fast for Traffic Cop

Chicago, Dec 14 (INS)—Coach Dick Hanley of Northwestern University's football team, explained today how it feels to be arrested for speeding by a policeman who is not a football fan.

Hanley was hauled to the Wilmette, Ill, police station last night after he stopped while whirling through town.

"Never ever heard of you," was the officer's terse response to Hanley's explanations

Pond Medal Goes to Brackley

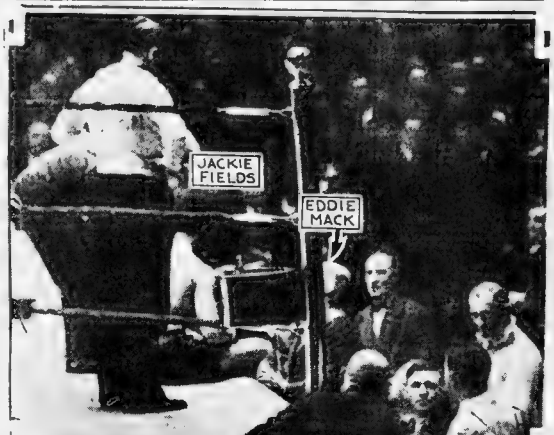
Amherst, Dec 14—The Allan Leon Pond Memorial medal in football was presented to Floyd B. Brackley of Strong, Me., at an insignia chapel at Massachusetts Agricultural College this morning. The [illegible] an annual award in memory of Allan Leon Pond of the class of 1920, a World War veteran, a fine all-around athlete and a "typical Aggie man," who died

Hit .461

In the playoff series for the Sally league championship Waddey of Knoxville batted 461 for the five games.

Get a good piece of real estate, buy it wisely; pay for it, keep it, and later it will keep you. See the sound values listed today in the real estate columns of the Classified Ads.

'HONEST, EDDIE, I DID MY BEST'



Jackie Fields, welterweight champion, is shown protesting to Matchmaker Eddie Mack of the Garden about action of Referee Joe O'Connor, who threw him and Gorilla Jones, his opponent, out of the ring on the grounds that they weren't trying.

Pres. Veeck Opposes Shires-Wilson Bout

Continued from First Page

[illegible] We have permitted fights [illegible] on a Wrigley Field and will continue to do so. However we [illegible] our managers and players to [illegible] to boxing during the off season. It might cause hard feelings as a result in injuries that would keep them out of baseball for the [illegible] season. If Wilson wants to fight Shires we can and have no objection permission, but we can't [illegible] through with it.

President Veeck regards the proposed fight as silly and a slap [illegible]

"Let Them Fight!" Says Commissioner Landis

Chicago, Dec. 14 (AP)—"Let baseball players fight," was the reply of Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis today when he was asked to [illegible] action against the proposed professional boxing bout between Jimmy Wilson of the Cubs and Arthur Shires of the White Sox in Chicago next January.

Wilson to Get $10,000 to Fight Art Shires

Chicago, Dec 14 (AP)—A four-round boxing match between two baseball players whose pugilistic reputations lately rest on their accomplishments in extemporaneous, not-for-profit fighting, is causing much excitement than championship battles recently staged in Chicago.

Promoter Jim Mullen has signed Charles Arthur (The Great) Shires of the Chicago White Sox exuberant first baseman, and Lewis (Hack) Wilson slugging center fielder for the National League champion Chicago Cubs, for a city series match next January.

Shires is interested in the fight and Mullen today was negotiating with Chicago stadium officials for use of the local arena when he brings the American and National League battlers together.

$10,000 FOR WILSON.

Wilson, at his home in Martinsburg, W. Va., yesterday agreed to fight the cocky White Sox infielder when Mullen met his price of $10,000, and $1000 for training expenses, a record sum for a first engagement. Shires is under contract to fight for Mullen on a percentage basis.

Shires made his bow in formal boxing competition last Monday night, and scored a sensational 21-second knockout over dangerous Dan Daly, a Cleveland youth said to have been imported for the purpose of avenging Lena Blackburne, former manager of the White Sox, twice conquered by Shires in free-hand bouts.

Wilson's record includes a win over Edward Young, a milkman, who made remarks about the pudgy outfielder during a game at Wrigley Field; a no-decision bout with Ray Kolp, Cincinnati Red hurler at Wrigley Field, and a victory over Pete Donohue, another Cincinnati pitcher, at the Union station, Chicago.

Shires also has two victories over Lena Blackburne and claims a collective triumph over Block Buttle, Lou Harbour traveling secretary of the White Sox, and a couple of house detectives in a Philadelphia hotel room battle last summer.

"Hack will think he is looking into the sun again, when I start throwing them at him," said Shires. "The fact that he belongs to the National League, which really is a minor league, doesn't [illegible] proud my major league pedigree.

The club slugger immediately began planning his training campaign and mentioned Tommy Loughran as his choice for an [illegible] sparring partner.

George Trafton, 220-pound center of the Chicago Bears, who will be Shires' opponent at White City Monday night issued a warning to Charles Arthur.

Tell Shires to forget about this Wilson fight until he gets by me," which he won't. I think I'll put a stop to this racket also," Shires Wilson fight, I'm going to the guy Monday night.

DRASTIC FOUL RULE PASSED

New York, Dec. 14—Launching [illegible] most famous offensive in the history of the boxing game to [illegible] the New York boxing commission went on record to [illegible] a fighter only for the actual number of rounds he has worked in bouts that end in disqualification from fouls.

It is expected that this latest [illegible] rule will result in the [illegible] elimination of fouls.

The action of the Empire State [illegible] public was the direct aftermath [illegible] recent welterweight contest [illegible] when Phil Scott of England [illegible] Otto Von Porat of Norway, which [illegible] ended with the first gong. [illegible] second when Von Porat [illegible] planted a low blow [illegible] Scott that sent the Briton writhing [illegible] floor in agony.

Referee Jack Dempsey [illegible] disqualified Von Porat, although he [illegible] Scott drew down [illegible] the purse of $12,500, while Scott collected his end of $12,500.

All metropolitan clubs were notified today by the boxing commission that the new rule [illegible] effect immediately.

The commission also stated [illegible] this [illegible] legislation will not prove permanent and they promised [illegible] more drastic legislation after the problem has been thoroughly [illegible] considered.

M'Larnin Says Ruby Goldstein Is Game

By SID MERCER

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—In triumph Jimmy McLarnin is soft [illegible] as he [illegible] and should [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] Ruby, he replied [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS

SOMERVILLE CUBS TO JOIN CIRCUIT

WHILE the big leagues were

ANOTHER EX-KING

"Sic Transit Gloria." So passes the glory that was once Joe Walcott, known as the "Barbadoes Demon," from 1901 to 1904, the welterweight champion of the world. Little Joe, now 57 years of age, is shown in the ring at Madison Sq. Garden, far beyond the comeback age. The mops he uses when fulfilling his duties as porter in the huge edifice dedicated to sport are shown scattered around him. (International Newsreel photo.)

RAWSON CHOICE OVER DE GLANE

RACE RAMBLES

Keeney Park Entries

MONDAY, DEC. 16

Oriental Park Entries

MONDAY, DEC. 16

W. G. A. Golf Tourney Awarded to Detroit

Roxbury Legion to Have Court Team

The Roxbury Legion has voted handle a professional basketball am for this season. The Boston ros will wear the legion colors and will bring to the courts a trong and experienced aggregation.

The Roxbury outfit is a traveling club and deserves meeting the trongest teams in New England.

The team is under the manageent of Wm Crahan, who may be reached at the legion rooms or at 8 Rexent et., Roxbury. S Malley will captain the legionnaires.

Leo Lermond to Race in Australia

San Francisco, Dec. 14 (AP)—Leo Lermond of Winthrop, Mass., Olympic track star and holder of the national one-mile outdoor and two-mile indoor titles, sailed yesterday aboard the Sonoma for Australia, where he will run in several exhibitions.

MACK APPEALS TO COLLEGES FOR HELP

Connie Mack, manager of the world champion Athletics, blames yearround discussion of and interest in football for waning interest in baseball among university undergraduates, according to an interview with the Princetonian, student publication, published today.

Mr. Mack further pointed out that professional baseball's general decline among ball players is due to fear of the same thing that the players would begin to treat baseball as a game, but golf, as a real business of golf, he added, counts only to keg fatigue, which comes overnoon.

The seven time winner of the American League pennant said the Princetonian that a large measure of success in baseball lies in the fact that the game, at its height in the late 90's, began to [illegible] quality.

[illegible] and universities to be the best possible college as the first step in reviving interest in baseball on the campus. An improved game would [illegible] the spring sport to [illegible] with year-round football.

Mr. Mack backing of the [illegible] baseball players lack spirit. The [illegible] said, help college baseball greatly.

He is not in favor of signing a college baseball player for professional ball until he has been graduated. He states, for the boy who leaves the college and begins his professional career after receiving his diploma."

RAWSON READY FOR FRIEDMAN

Larry "Big Boy" Rawson will finish heavy training today at Wonnest for his 10-round battle with Al Friedman of Roslindale at the Arena Monday night.

Rawson will box with Archie Skinner and Eddie Callahan as the finishing move in a training program that has put him in the best condition of his career. He weighs 142 pounds today, and expects to step into the ring against Friedman weighing 140.

The Jewish heavyweight has been fighting on an average of once a week throughout all over the country. He has been beaten Lodge Hayman, German champion; Bud Gorman and a flock of lesser lights in the last three months, and will return to a local ring confident of making a victory over Rawson.

The pair will probably lengthen before ringtime and it would be no surprise if Friedman should be a 10 to 7 favorite when he puts up his fists against Rawson.

The semi-final bout between Joe Monte and Harry Allen is also expected to be a sensational slugging affair. Monte and Allen are former amateur stars and both are from Brockton, so that their tilt will be for the heavyweight championship of the Shoe City. The two heavyweights will attract hundreds of customers from the South Shore.

Another heavyweight bout will precede the Allen-Monte war, a six-rounder between Tom McNeeley of Cambridge and Archie Skinner of Scituate, and five fast curtainers will complete the card. Eddie Baker, Watertown ex K. O. Eddie Sail River; Joe O'Donnell Roxbury vs. Ed Pierson, Roxbury; Jack Brown, Canton vs. Paul Gallant, South Boston; Joe Dow, Roxbury vs. Pete Herman, Roxbury, and Gus Russo, Quincy vs. Charley Manning, Dorchester.

Reservations for the show may be made at the Arena A. C., 333 Washington st.

Polish Track Star Arrives

New York, Dec 11—Stanislaw Petkiewicz, of Poland, who can claim the distinction of having once beaten Paavo Nurmi, will not lack opportunity to show his speed while in this country.

Petkiewicz is here and although he has received no invitations to compete in any American meets, various sports promoters had no trouble in finding at least one pair of spiked shoes and a pair of running trunks.

Coast Guard Eleven to Play 7 Games

New London, Ct., Dec. 14 (AP)—The U. S. Coast Guard Academy football team will play seven games, instead of the customary six in 1930, according to the schedule announced today by Lieut. H. H. Pierce, athletic manager of athletics. The schedule:

October 5 and 6, Trinity at Vermont at Burlington; 19, Norwich University at Northfield, Vt.; 25 Rhode Island State at Kingston.

November 1, Colgate; 8 Brooklyn C. C. N. Y.; 15, Long Island University at Brooklyn; 22, Cooper Union.

N. E. Clowns Seek Court Opponents

The New England Clowns basketball team is looking for games with any of the leading semipro teams throughout New England. Manager O'Neil is seeking a good attraction for Christmas Day.

Last season the Clowns met such fine teams as the Pere Marquette, Sacred Hearts of Lawrence, Dunnelson, Ct., and other good teams of similar calibre. Teams seeking games get in touch with R. F. O'Neil, 89 Clement ave., West Roxbury, or phone Parkway 2159-M.

Cotton Exchange to Hold Up Trading in Mill Stocks

Members of New York Cotton Exchange were advised that at a meeting of the securities committee, which had in hand the project for dealing on the exchange in cotton-mill and kindred securities, it was decided it would be inadvisable at this time to inaugurate trading because of recent unsettlement of the stock market. Committee will hold the matter in abeyance.

RUSSELL TOBEY TO WED SMITH COLLEGE GRAD

Manchester, N. H., Dec. 14 (AP)—Mr and Mrs. Felix K. Dahlberg today announced the engagement of their daughter, Charlotte, to Russell Benjamin Tobey, son of Professor and Mrs. Charles W Tobey of this city.

Miss Dahlberg is a graduate of Manchester Central high school. She studied at Rogers Hall, Lowell, and at Smith College, where she was graduated in 1927.

At Smith she was accompanist of the Smith College Glee Club and a member of the Alpha Xi.

Tobey is a graduate of the Central high school and of Deerfield Academy. He is now associated with his father in the investment banking business.

Many Reservations at the Cotton Club

Nat Clark, manager of the Cotton Club, Lansdowne st., announced that a large number of reservations are being received for the Christmas Eve and New Year Eve celebrations at this popular Back Bay night club.

Mr. Clark announces Southern fried chicken as one of the feature dishes served each evening. An all-colored review, assisted by an all colored jazz band, provide an excellent evening of entertainment.

Once Child Prodigy to Be Clergyman

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—Edward Reche Hardy, Jr., who was a child prodigy, is to be an Episcopalian minister. He spoke four languages at the age of five and received the degree of A. B. from Columbia at the age of 15.

When in college he would frequented the theater. He has ringed smoked.

U. S. Financier Found Dead

La Rochelle, France, Dec. 14 (AP)—John Morrison Hansen, American business man, was found dead in his room at the Hotel de France today. Physicians said death was due to apoplexy. He was a stockholder in the Societe des Enterprises Industrielles Charentaises of La Rochelle.

Shipping News

Port of Boston

ARRIVED TODAY

Yarmouth, Crosby, Yarmouth, N. S., with merchandise and passengers to Harris & Lord, Inc. Docked at Long Wharf.

Evangeline, Cox, Digby, N. S., with herring to Boston Fish Market Corp. Docked at Commercial Point.

Middlesex, Pommerleau, Newport News, with coal for Boston & Maine R. R. Co. Vessel is under Transportation Corp. Docked at Mystic wharf.

Ontario, Murphy, Philadelphia, with merchandise to Merchants & Miners Transportation Co. Docked at Pier 2, south Boston.

Robert E. Lee, Cuming, New York with merchandise and passengers to Eastern S. S. Lines, Inc. Docked at Central wharf.

SAILED TODAY

Alleghany, Baltimore via Norfolk

City of Chattanooga, New York and Savannah.

Eastern Crown, Newport News.

Hemsley, Iber, London via Baltimore

Nefisk and Hvidbjorn, N. S.

Ocean, Philadelphia.

Greenman, Philadelphia and New York.

Ontario, Philadelphia and Portland, Me.

Robert F. Lee, New York

Sea Thrush, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Seattle and Tacoma via New York.

Skamokin, New York.

Diedrica, Norfolk.

Lemuel Burgess, Hampton Roads

Rhael Lance (Br.), Newport News.

Robert Wright (Nor.), Norfolk.

Sch. Frank Brainard, Blue Harbor, Me.

Observation Points at 8 A. M.

Inner Island Light—Wind west, light, cloudy, thick fog. No vessels passed since lights three 32 sea smooth.

Outer Island Light—Wind west, 8 miles thick fog, thick 40, sea smooth.

Cuttyhunk—Wind S W., light, cloudy, ther 30 min 25, bar 29.96.

Nantucket—Wind E E, light breeze, dense fog and rain ther 38, min. 36, bar 29.88.

Portland—Wind E, light breeze, cloudy, dense fog, ther. 32, min. 30, bar 29.96.

Nantucket—Wind west, 14 miles, cloudy, dense fog ther 42, min 42 bar 29.96.

Block Island—Wind west, 20 miles, dense fog, ther 42, min 40, bar 29.96.

New York—Wind west, light breeze, cloudy, ther 40, min 36, bar 30.04.

Philadelphia—Wind west, 12 miles, partly cloudy, ther 40 min 40, bar 30.14.

Norfolk—Wind S W., light breeze, clear, ther 52, min 42, bar 30.22.

Hatteras—Wind east, light breeze, cloudy, ther 52, min 48, bar 30.56.

Key West—Wind S E., light breeze, dense fog, and rain, ther. 76, min. 72, bar 30.00.

Sydney C H.—Wind south, light breeze with fog, ther 32 min 32 bar 30.00.

Sable Island—Wind S. E. 32 m ps, dense fog, ther 40, min. 36, bar 29.96.

WIRELESS REPORTS

Str. Fairport Rickers, from Providence, 12th, 900 miles from Boston Light; weather and conditions good; expects to arrive Boston Tuesday; has four passengers and town long cargo for Boston docks Pier 4, New Haven docks South Boston.

Str. Beaconlight, Boston for Galveston, Texas, 67 miles S. W. Nantucket, 12th.

Str. City of St. Louis, Savannah for New York and Boston, 123 miles north of Overfalls light vessel (no reported) 13th.

Str. City of Atlanta, Boston and New York for Savannah, 33 miles S. W. Frying Pan light vessel 13th.

Str. Evangeline, Boston for Norfolk, 46 miles south Pine Island.

Str. Everett Norfolk for Boston 12 miles N. E. Five Fathom Bank light vessel.

Str. Lewis Luckenbach, Boston for Norfolk, 12 miles south Cape Henry light vessel 14th.

Incoming Ships

DUE TOMORROW

BREEDEN (Dutch), Songsjoer, 464.

CITY OF ST. LOUIS, Savannah, Dec. 11, via New York, docks p. m., pier 42, Boston, Charlestown.

GEORGE WASHINGTON, New York, docks 8 m. Central wharf.

MUNALBO, Norfolk.

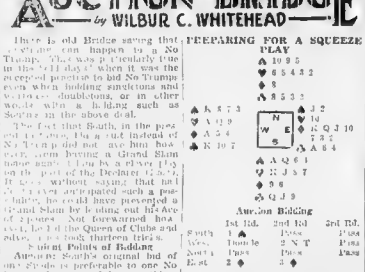
Off for the Balmy South

Photo shows Miss Hattie Edson of Worcester on board the City of Chattanooga of the Savannah line. Miss Edson is happy at leaving the cold, blustery winter for a stay at St. Augustine, Fla. (Staff photo.)

AUCTION BRIDGE

by WILBUR C. WHITEHEAD

PREPARING FOR A SQUEEZE PLAY



Auction Bidding

South	1st Bid. 1 ♣	2nd Bid Pass	3rd Bid. Pass
West	Double	2 N T	Pass
North	Pass	Pass	Pass
East	2 ♦	Pass

Contract Bidding

	1st Bid.	2nd Bid
South	1 ♣	Pass
West	Double	Pass
North	1 ♥	1 N T
East	2 ♦	Pass

There is old Bridge saying that "strange things happen in a No Trump." The saying is peculiarly true in the 'all-day' when it was the accepted practice to bid No Trumps even when bidding singletons and with two doubletons, or in other words, with a hand such as South is dealt in the above deal.

The fact that South, in the present instance, has a suit headed by Ace-Queen-Ten and not Ace-King-Queen seems to be the only reason why he should not have opened with a No Trump. It is certainly anticipated such a position, he could have prevented a Grand Slam by bidding out his Ace and Queen without forcing his partner to bid the Queen of Clubs and subsequently thirteen tricks.

South's original bid of one Spade is preferable to one No Trump because of his worthless holding in Diamonds.

West doubles promptly, also in preference to a bid of No Trumps as his hand is well fitted to support any response his partner and as for the Ace-King holding, if any, can only give him actual information should he finally elect to play the hand as No Trumps.

North's pressing. Don't take out the double with two Diamonds which are practically worthless but rely on your own two No Trumps preferring the short suit bid on account of the long one in the weak Diamonds.

East, however, is not satisfied with No Trumps, his missed values and his extreme suit type of hand almost necessitating a re-bid of Spades. West does not disturb this bid, as his partner's re-bid indicates a strong desire to play the hand in Spades rather than at No Trumps.

On third No Trump bid is cut short by Contract by East's bid of four Diamonds showing at once both the character and strength of his hand.

Both of West does attempt a slam following partner's preemptive response which he expects to result in based on missed and not distributed values.

The Play

South leads initially the Queen of Clubs which East wins with the Ace on own hand to hold the King. Ten in Dummy as a tenace over the Jack, which he infers South to hold because of his lead of the Queen.

East now stops to count the hand assuming the Jack of Clubs as a third in South's hand. East can count as positive three Club tricks, seven Diamonds and one Heart, and can count as almost sure one Spade trick with the King, assuming South who led Spades to hold the Ace. Thus East figures on 12 tricks in all.

There is decidedly no chance, therefore, of failure to make his contract, except the remote possibility that South opened from the Queen-Jack-Small of Clubs. East takes advantage of the Queen of Clubs opening to try for a Grand Slam.

A necessary preparation for this attempt is to first exhaust the Clubs from his own and Dummy's hand. To all appearances, plays the Club 4 thereon the 9 which holds and leads a small Diamond. South takes Dummy's Ace of Diamonds which by the Diamond 4 which he has seen hand with the King. East now lays down his remaining Diamonds, leaving him with the Jack and 2 of Spades and 10 of Hearts.

At the play of the last Diamond, South is down to the Ace and Queen of Spades and the King and Lack of Hearts, one of which he must unguard. Dummy is down to the King of Spades and the Ace-Queen 9 of Hearts. Consequently, whichever South discards Declarer must make the remaining tricks. A Grand Slam is thus made by reason of the Squeeze on South, a possibility which presented itself immediately following the initial lead and the exposure of the Dummy.

Mr. Whitehead will answer questions concerning your bridge problems. Write to him, care of this paper, inclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(c) 1929, by Bell Syndicate, Inc.

2 Reporters Held Guilty of Contempt

Jackson, Miss., Dec 14 (AP)—Thomas M Hedeman, publisher of the Jackson Clarion Ledger, and Craddock Goins, a reporter for the paper, were found guilty of contempt of court here today by Circuit Judge W. H. Potter. The contempt charge was based on a news story in the Clarion Ledger, forecasting indictments by the Hinds County grand jury.

VETS LAUD BAN ON FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Lowell, Dec. 14 (AP)—Harold F. Howe, general secretary of the Lowell Y. M. C. A., today was commended by war veterans and clergy for his recent order banning the use of any language other than English in the association building.

Howe was notified that the local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars had unanimously declared his attitude "100 per cent American."

Rev Appleton Grant, rector of St. Anne's Episcopal Church, and Rev Leslie C Bowles, pastor of the Church of All Nations, both announced their support of Howe's edict.

Opposition to the language restriction has been voiced by the Foreign Language Publishers' Association of America which contend it acted in curb "the right of free speech in this country" and "constitutes a grave menace to our national ideals."

Howe today amplified his previous statement on the question saying that the chief difficulty had been in the boy's department where the insistency on speaking Greek by boys of that extraction had compelled the ban.

Deluxe Luncheon Proving Popular

The de luxe luncheon with dancing from 11 30 to 2 30, providing opportunity for unescorted women bound for the matinee to plan a pleasant hour or two before the theater, is proving popular at The Stella.

The food, service and entertainment at The Stella is attracting hundreds of new patrons weekly and especially pleasing to the management is the fact that the newcomers become regular patrons. The management urges its clients to make early reservations for New Year's Eve celebration.

Works and Plays With His Violin

Jacques Renard, dispenser of music at the Cocoanut Grove and head of the orchestra that bears his name, is a versatile man when he is playing his favorite violin. In fact, one would think Jacques had enough of playing during working hours but not so, for he whiles away considerable of his time during leisure hours at his favorite instrument.

This season at Boston's smartest restaurant Jacques and his band of musicians have introduced a new twist to dance music which is proving very popular with the patrons.

The domestic help problem is solved by taking a suburban apartment and the best are advertised daily in the For Rent columns.

Medbury Says--

By JOHN P. MEDBURY

TIMES must be pretty good in this country when our poorhouses are showing a profit.

Ideal Dumbbells

The correspondence school detective who sat up all night trying to catch a case of vanishing cream making it a getaway.

Financial Note

Woolworth got his start with one of Rockefeller's dimes.

Take It or Leave It

Some husbands have dens, but most of them growl all over the house.

Efficiency Experts

The forgotten men who moved to southern California because the weather there agreed with him more.

Auto-Suggestion

Carrying a hunting dog on your running board to retrieve pedestrians.

Social Accomplishments

Opening a charge account and giving your bank's bank as reference.

Null and Void

The fellow who claims that his great - great - grandmother was hostess at the Boston Tea Party.

Momentous Moments

When a contortionist tries to sit on his own lap.

Our Own Vaudeville

Teacher: The trouble with you is that you have no culture.

Student: I don't need one, I haven't any cattle.

(c) 1929, NEA Features Serv., Inc.

NOW-is the time
TO HEAR THE Latest Majestic Radio in Our Radio Show Rooms
Buy Your Majestic on the Most Liberal Terms in Boston
WALLEY'S
16 BRATTLE ST.
CAPITOL 2430 CASH or TERMS

THE THIMBLE THEATER

By Segar

I KNOW WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH YA, CAP'N OYL — YA GOT SEA FEVOK YOU'RE OUTTER YOUR HEAD
POPEYE, I'M IN MY RIGHT MIND — AND I'M TELLING YOU I HEARD A VOICE BLOW ME DOWN, YA GONE NUTTY!
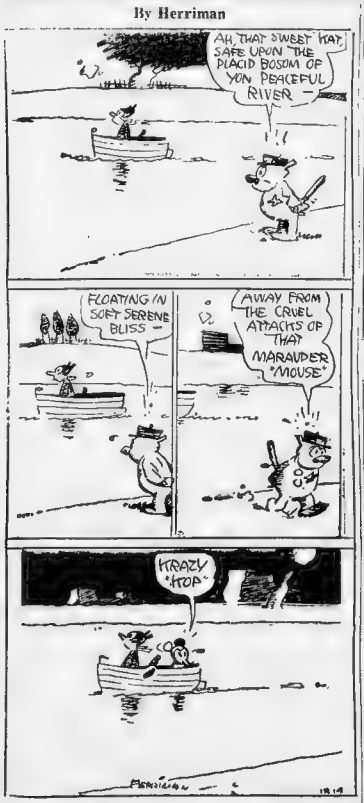
YA DON'T HEAR VOICES ON THE HIGH SEAS; IT AIN'T NATURAL!
I WON'T ARGUE WITH YOU — BUT I KNOW WHAT I KNOW!
HEY, THERE! YOU'RE UNDER ARREST! DON'T TRY NO TRICKS AND DONTCHA HIT ME NEITHER

KRAZY KAT

By Herriman



AH, THAT SWEET KAT, SAFE UPON THE PLACID BOSOM OF YON PEACEFUL RIVER
FLOATING IN SOFT SERENE BLISS —
AWAY FROM THE CRUEL ATTACKS OF THAT MARAUDER "MOUSE"
KRAZY "KAT"

Kabibble Kabaret—By Hershfield

Registered U. S. Patent Office—Copyright, 1929, International Feature Service, Inc.

DEAR MR. KABIBBLE, ARE THERE MORE DIVORCES IN SUMMER THAN IN WINTER? — L. O.

YES — THE CAUSES ARE MORE OPEN 12-14

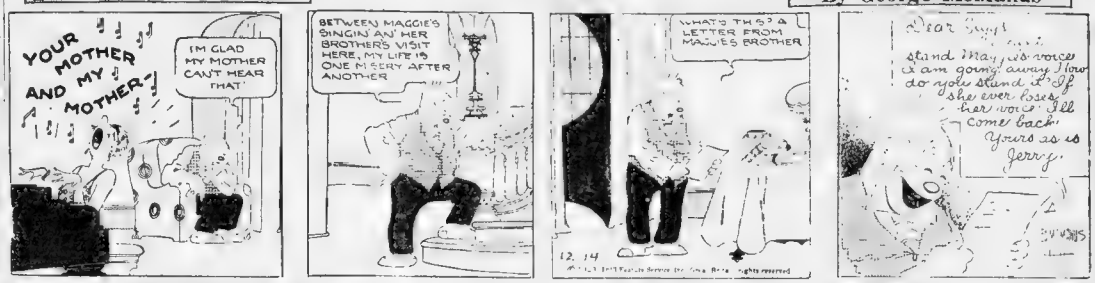
BRINGING UP FATHER

Some Good After All

By George McManus



YOUR MOTHER AND MY MOTHER—
I'M GLAD MY MOTHER CAN'T HEAR THAT BETWEEN MAGGIE'S SINGIN' AN' HER BROTHER'S VISIT HERE, MY LIFE IS ONE MISERY AFTER ANOTHER
WHAT'S THIS? A LETTER FROM MAGGIE'S BROTHER
12. 14
Dear Jiggs! I stand Mary, as voices I am going away I how do you stand it? If she ever loses her voice I'll come back. Yours as ever Jerry.

POLLY AND HER PALS

Familiarity Breeds Contempt

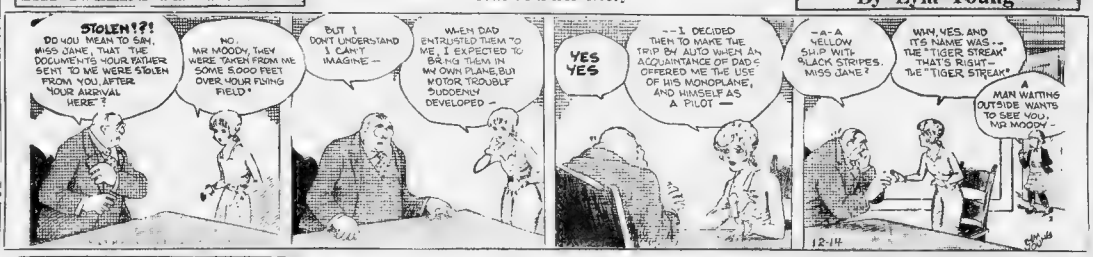
By Cliff Sterrett

HEY GERTIE, LOOKIT THE PRETTY PITCHER OF SANTY CLAUS!
HEY GERTIE! P-ST! OH, GERTIE!
MY STARS, S'TER! BE YOU DEAF!
DECIDEDLY NOT! BUT THE CHILD ANSWERS ONLY TO HER OWN NAME, —
W-H-O-O-I-S G-E-R-T-R-U-D-E-? NOT GERTIE!
CLIFF STERRETT. 12 14

TIM TYLER'S FLYING LUCK

Jane Tells Her Story

By Lym Young



STOLEN?! DO YOU MEAN TO SAY, MISS JANE, THAT THE DOCUMENTS YOUR FATHER SENT TO ME WERE STOLEN FROM YOU AFTER YOUR ARRIVAL HERE?
NO, MR MOODY, THEY WERE TAKEN FROM ME SOME 5,000 FEET OVER YOUR FLYING FIELD!
BUT I DON'T UNDERSTAND I CAN'T IMAGINE — WHEN DAD ENTRUSTED THEM TO ME, I EXPECTED TO BRING THEM IN MY OWN PLANE, BUT MOTOR TROUBLE SUDDENLY DEVELOPED —
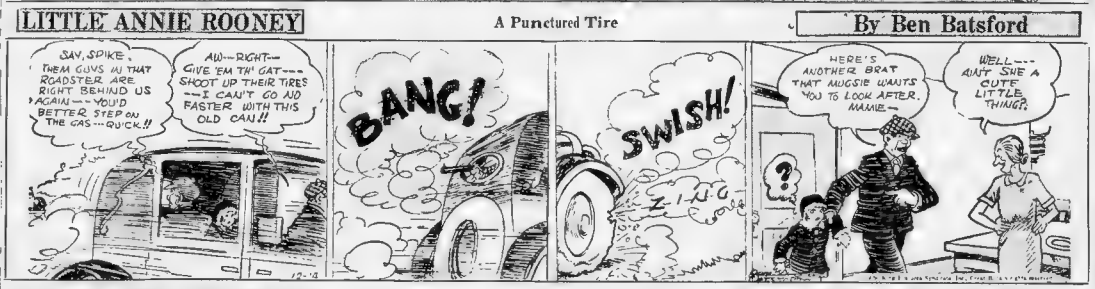
YES YES
— I DECIDED THEM TO MAKE THE TRIP BY AUTO WHEN AN ACQUAINTANCE OF DAD'S OFFERED ME THE USE OF HIS MONOPLANE, AND HIMSELF AS A PILOT —
—A-A YELLOW SHIP WITH BLACK STRIPES, MISS JANE?
WHY, YES, AND ITS NAME WAS — THE "TIGER STREAK" THAT'S RIGHT — THE "TIGER STREAK"
A MAN WAITING OUTSIDE WANTS TO SEE YOU, MR MOODY
12-14

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

A Punctured Tire

By Ben Batsford



SAY, SPIKE, THEM GUYS IN THAT ROADSTER ARE RIGHT BEHIND US AGAIN — YOU'D BETTER STEP ON THE GAS — QUICK!!
ALL — RIGHT — GIVE 'EM TH' GAT — SHOOT UP THEIR TIRES — I CAN'T GO NO FASTER WITH THIS OLD CAN!!
BANG!
SWISH!
HERE'S ANOTHER BRAT THAT MUGSIE WANTS YOU TO LOOK AFTER, MAMIE — WELL — AIN'T SHE A CUTE LITTLE THING?
12-14

BARNEY GOOGLE

A Mysterious Shot

By De Beck

THAT WAS A CLOSE CALL BARNEY HAD — HE OWES HIS LIFE TO THAT SCOTLAND YARD DICK —
I'D LIKE TO KNOW WHY THAT BASEN O MAGREE OR WHATEVER YA CALL 'EM WANTS TO KNOCK BARNEY OFF FOR! HE AIN'T SAFE OUT IN PUBLIC IF I WUZ HIM I'D GO AN' HAVE MY FACE LIFTED SO MEBBE IT WOULD BE UNDER MY HAT I'DA BEEN A GONER ONLY FOR YOU, SURELY.
I THINK IT'S PERFECTLY SAFE FOR YOU TO VENTURE OUT NOW MR GOOGLE I DON'T THINK ANY MORE ATTEMPTS WILL BE MADE ON YOUR LIFE BOY! WHAT A POLICE DOG YOU'D MAKE! WHAT? WHAT WHAT?
GEE — HOW GOOD IT SEEMS TO KNOW THAT — YEX TREE POIPER
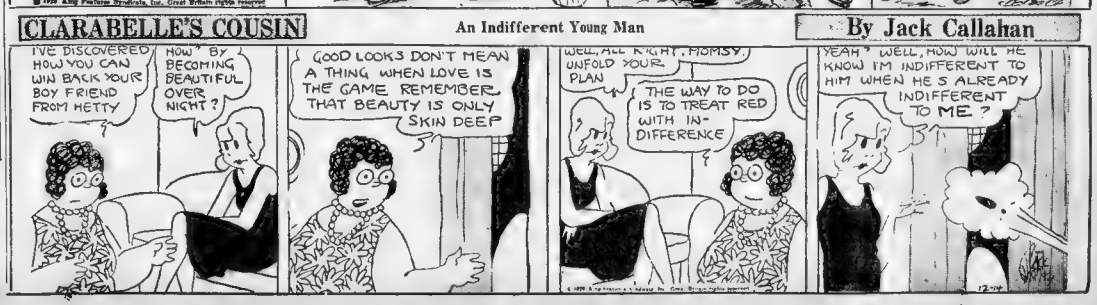
ALLA BOUTA BIG MOIDER
12 14

CLARABELLE'S COUSIN

An Indifferent Young Man

By Jack Callahan



I'VE DISCOVERED HOW YOU CAN WIN BACK YOUR BOY FRIEND FROM HETTY
HOW? BY BECOMING BEAUTIFUL OVER NIGHT?
GOOD LOOKS DON'T MEAN A THING WHEN LOVE IS THE GAME. REMEMBER, THAT BEAUTY IS ONLY SKIN DEEP
WELL, ALL RIGHT, MOMSY. UNFOLD YOUR PLAN
THE WAY TO DO IS TO TREAT RED WITH INDIFFERENCE
YEAH? WELL, HOW WILL HE KNOW I'M INDIFFERENT TO HIM WHEN HE'S ALREADY INDIFFERENT TO ME?
12-14

Magazine and Fiction Page

Dr. Bisch's Daily Health Hint

CATHARTIC waters such as salts are more beneficial if taken warm and, before breakfast. The constant use of cathartics of whatever nature is strongly to be advised against. Consult your doctor if you are depending too much on catharties.

This Day in Our History

ON December 11, 1860, about one-half of the senators and representatives from eight southern states issued an address calling for the establishment of a Southern Confedecy. This was the start of the rebellion. Fort Sumter was fired upon.

DOES LOVE LEAN ON POSSESSION OF MONEY?

Part Played by the Purse in Modern Romance

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

DOES love lean on money? Is it true that the sweetest romance must have a purse? Is romance a matter of dollars and cents? Just how much has a girl to do with money?

Nothing at all.

I can hear readers exclaim that do we care about money. Two people who live and love simply as one another don't worry about money.

Beatrice Fairfax

Perhaps they don't, but they should. Love can survive on emotion alone. Emotion wears itself out and must rest. During these intervals nothing holds a husband and wife together in such close bonds of interest as business. Then they have to work out together the financial budget can be a shocking as a game of puzzle and two heads together usually find the right answer.

Do not let either lack of money or too much money blight your romance. The things most worth while such as love, air, sunshine, work, hope, trust, love again. Free of charge to persons for money's buy. Keep your love simple, sincere and unselfish. Even though you have build beautiful castles in the clouds and dwell there in love's bliss, don't forget you will have to keep your feet firmly planted on the earth and busy with clothing, food and shelter.

Will who marries a man whom he is rich or poor, is going to unhappiness. Many a man, however poor, who can and will take care of you; then do you part for the sake of him and your home. Make a budget with your income. Work it out carefully and live within the budget come what may.

Don't be afraid to say, "I can't afford it!" Be proud, instead, because you are living within your income. Save with your dearest for sunny days to come because life brings over with "fair weather" for husband and wife who love each other wisely and well.

Copyright, 1929 International Feature Service, Inc.

The Truth

ABOUT PERFECT HEALTH

By ELINOR GLYN

N place of the time-honored whiskey, once used to flush kids, we your friendly drug store man what ingredient he can supply you with that will cause heat reaction, exhilaration and stimulation.

Elinor Glyn

The point being to pep up your resistance to cold. It is wise during the winter to keep some small inhaler in your vanity bag, ready to sniff the moment you sneeze.

I have known girls who lost some the chances of their lives by having unsightly colds in the head at the wrong moment!

I am only warning you so seriously about all this because of my own unsightliness and sufferings. I realize how, if I were a young girl with the same unattractive symptoms, I would put off any advice!

Gracie and Maude, try not to lose your boy friends when you know that you are looking ugly, because the subconscious mind of man is sensitive to the impressions convey d to the eye.

There are very few young men who could be as adoring during a sneezy interview as they could be one moonlight with their Gracie in perfect health.

About forty years ago it was thought "genteel" to look delicate.

Now, thank heaven! — blooming youth is the fashion, so I want my girls always to remain up to the standard.

Copyright, 1929, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Result of Too Many Toys

By CONSTANCE CAMERON

MOST of our disappointments and problems with children arise from the fact that many of us expect too much of a child in relation to his age.

Recently a mother invited another mother and her two-and-a-half-year-old son over to spend the afternoon with her and her daughter, aged two.

Constance Cameron.

The mother got out a profusion of toys, got down on the floor and showed them how to play with the toy train, how to build a play station with blocks and so on, got up, straightened her dress and set the child down for a good long chat with her friend.

But the chat wasn't of long duration. There were difficulties of opinion on the floor. Each child wanted the train and nothing else would do. Now why couldn't they play with it together? asked the mother. Surely her children had never been selfish. Well, surely the small boy hadn't, and promptly loudly polite but indignant voices were interchanged between the mothers.

Of course neither child was selfish, but each was too young for anything but INDIVIDUAL play.

A tiny child is interested in the spread out over many pink things without engendering a sense of confusion and lessening his enjoyment and profit in play.

A two-year-old can have a glorious time with a large ball, rolling it, bouncing it, catching it, squealing with delight when he retrieves it from under a table. Not until perhaps another year will he demand a target to try to hit. Then he is ready for two or more toys, a small ball to toss into a basket or a set of beanbags to throw into a box or "catch" of some kind.

Just after Christmas is a trying time to the mothers of toddlers unless they understand this "one-toy at-a-time" theory.

Put away some of the playthings, to be brought out as a treat on rainy days. Save out five or six for the one at a time until the toddler has become acquainted with them, has tried out and discovered all their possibilities. Leave a child learn to concentrate (thinking about a great many things and little about one thing is the best way that I know of to ruin his budding powers of concentration. Ever buy five or six magazines and a new book at once? Result, you skimmed through all of them, eager to read all, but you ended up by not really reading ANY, didn't you? It's the same principle.

Copyright, 1929 International Feature Service, Inc.

SMART SAYINGS OF CLEVER CHILDREN

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for parents' smart sayings. Address "Smart Sayings, Boston Evening American.

Little Bobby—"Say Uncle, what are you going to play football again?"

The Rich Uncle—"When am I going to play football? What makes you ask that question?"

Bobby: "Well, pop says that when you kick off we're going to get a new automobile and a house."

MARY STANTON.
10 Nebrop st., Dorchester.

They Were Saying "No Trace of Pat!"

There was no clue, no hope? All this sped through her mind.

Abbreviations Indicate Haste

By MRS. BEECKMAN
(AMY MRS. BEECKMAN

Is it correct to write "Xmas" instead of "Christmas" on Christmas cards?

A friend of mine said that she thought she remembered seeing this in your column that in doing that you advised against "Xmas." Did you?

2 When addressing an envelope, is it necessary to use commas or other marks of punctuation at the ends of the lines of the address?

E. T. S.

MOST enthusiastically and vociferously do I suggest the writing out of the wondrous word Christmas. It is such a beautiful word, so full of sublime suggestion of the sacred and holy season that I see no reason for abbreviating it. If you are a writer of my column you will realize that always I am against abbreviations, and especially so when they take from the word th flavor that should be in it.

Of course I realize that the X has the old significance of the cross and the general idea of Christianity. The haste that is evident generally when people write "Xmas," does not register correctly, to my mind.

And the same charming habit of non-abbreviation extends, too, to the word "and" in the union of Christmas and New Year's. Instead of writing the sign of "and" (&), it is vastly better to spell out the word. Therefore, send "Greetings for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

2 No usually nowadays we see "open punctuation" on envelopes; that is, no marks of punctuation at the ends of the lines of the address. And really, this is most sensible, for there is no real reason why we should put commas at the ends of the lines. So we now find only periods after words that are abbreviated—such as "Mr." "Mrs." And practically no other words should be abbreviated.

(Mrs. Beeckman will be glad to answer questions on etiquette submitted by readers.)

Copyright, 1929, by Premier Syndicate, Inc.

Nancy Page Quilt Club -:- -:- -:-

By FLORENCE LA GANKE

BACK BLOCKS SUPPLIED

In the event you have missed any of the Alphabet Quilt blocks previously published in the Boston American, please send 5 cents for each block missing. Also enclose stamped, addressed envelope. Address Nancy Page, Boston American, P. O. Box 185, Boston, Mass.

ALPHABET QUILT — BLOCK 11 — THE KING

THERE was some question in the minds of all the quilt club members when they saw the eleventh block in the alphabet quilt pieces. Was this a king or was it Humpty Dumpty himself? Nancy said, "'Tis the king himself sure!" Make obeisance to your ruler!" She told them that they were really quite unobserving, since no egg and as round a face as this king. Joan wanted to know whether this was the king who counted out his money, and she asked for the queen who ate the bread and honey. Nancy told her the queen might come into the picture later.

The newspaper square was cut from the paper. A square of soft white gingham was cut one-quarter inch larger on all sides than paper square. The cloth was laid on top of the paper and the two were held flat against the window pane. With a sharp pointed, hard lead pencil the letter and the pattern was outlined.

Nancy did not draw the features of the face nor the diagonal lines in the ruff, since they would be covered up anyway by the appliqued pieces of material. She planned to use the paper picture to show her where to put these stitches later.

The paper square was pasted on to a piece of lightweight cardboard or tag board and dried under pressure.

Nancy who can sing, pale gray, fast color calico, and cotton to outline the letter "K."

She used a fine outline stitch, although some of the members chose a fine chain stitch instead. They felt it gave more solidity to the letter.

She chose brilliant yellow for the crown, pale lavender for the ruff and pale pink gingham for the face and cuff. Of course these pieces were all of fast color washable material.

She might have used a figured material for the ruff, but then the diagonal stitching would not have shown so plainly. It really needed, she felt, that stitchers to give the effect of a ruff.

The paper square when thoroughly dry was used as a pattern in cutting the pieces of cloth she allowed one-quarter inch extra on all sides for turning under. The ears were cut apart from the face. This gave her five pieces, a crown, a ruff, a face, and two ears.

After turning under the edges she basted them down and pressed the pieces. Then she laid them in place, pinning them and later basting them. She put the ears on first, then the crown, then the face and last the ruff.

The hair was worked in brown using a running stitch. The eyebrows were in outline stitch in same shade of brown. The nose and mouth were in pink embroidery cotton. She used a fine outline stitch.

He was a brave and gallant king when finished.

Block 12 will appear on this page in next Wednesday's Boston American.

Copyright, 1929, Publishers Syndicate.

A DIRECTION LEAFLET that will aid in making the Alphabet Quilt will be sent free to any reader sending a stamped, addressed envelope to Nancy Page, Boston American. P. O. Box 185, Boston, Mass.

Miss Pat -:- Thrilling Romance of Airways

Continued from Page 1, 2nd Sec.

with dry gulches wandering in the cracked earth. Sand cliffs rose out of sage brush, then the sage brush rolled on in endless, flat dreary levels.

They circled about the desert and they were going to land in the wind, forsaken waste.

Pat could not utter eyes for the first time admitting utter doom. No one would find them here! Not Gay though he rode in enchanted planes. Not her own mother; not even the anxious spirit of her father whom she fancied watching and guarding would save her now.

Her hand reached along the bench till it touched the child's fingers. These soft, silky fingers immediately closed on hers. Pat could give sobbed.

She looked in the little boy's eyes. He said, nestling against her and turning on her a limpid brown gaze—a gaze full of trust: "Will you give me something to eat? I want something to eat." His lips formed precisely over the unheard sounds.

Pat nodded and pointed to the men in the cockpit. One of them now rose. It was he who had sat at the wheel. He re-entered the cabin and put the tubes in his ears. He noticed neither Pat nor the child.

She touched his arm, motioned to the boy and shouted: "Give him something to eat!"

The man was stunned by her imperious gesture, by the sudden flash that had come to Pat's face. She repeated in reckless indignation "He's HUNGRY!"

The faintest ironical smile touched the man's thin lips. He pulled a package from his pocket and tossed it to Pat.

At the sight of two large sandwiches, child laughed. He sat up, legs dangling, and put the bread to his hands.

Pat, too was faint with hunger. She hadn't eaten yesterday she had eaten nothing. And it was now nearing 4 o'clock. She ate slowly, her eyes fastened on the man at the table. Had they counted on such a long flight? Had they brought food for four people? How long were they going to keep their two prisoners hidden?

The child, too, was a captive. Pat was certain of this. The little boy looked with dread on the tall, thin fellow opposite. Suddenly he pulled Pat down and shouted between sobs. "He's bad! I'm afraid of him!"

Fearfully Pat's own heart echoed the cry. She sat forward, her blue eyes and eyes on man's cold, impersonal face. He listened with rapt concentration. Now his eyes filled with triumph now they hardened with scorn. He liked the messages he heard.

They were saying that no trace of Pat—is Dawn and a child had been found? There were no clues there was no hope?

Suddenly, as in the morning the man tore the tubes from his ears Suddenly he bolted to the cockpit

The next instant they banked so sharply that Pat and the boy were hurled from the seat.

She pulled the little fellow to her, held him with all her might. She said aloud, but not knowing it. They've found us! They're coming again. Oh, God—save us — —

And with the little boy hugged in a frantic embrace, Pat shouted a stormy plea that by the time the rescue planes would win

Thy tore upward through the sky. Looking from the window Pat saw onrushing specks—growing larger, growing definite—the planes——

Their ship now careened like a thing upon nails. Like a comet let loose upon the world. It swooped up down

The lulled lands beneath them completely lost to sight. Pat saw only two specks that her hope forced into two planes that gained, that were the hope of life and sweetness.

Saw only these and not the black looming clouds into which they were riding. In which they were swallowed!

Still she pressed her face to the window still her lips moved against the child's hair.

Unconsciously Pat raised a hand and called. "Hurry—oh hurry!"

Then the world went blind. Stark, encompassing darkness swirled over and under and all about them. They were tossed and bumped in it. For a moment a forked arrow of lightning illumined the dark with a weird blue radiance. Then the clouds above them sealed tight, and for vast plunging moments they were buffeted like a twig on billows.

"We're lost," Pat's lip now murred in terror. "We'll perish!" And she felt now that it was ordained all written and unchangeable.

Oh this wind that swept them over the rolling roads! It came awoning like a wild balloning giant and twirled them little plane. It caught the wings and dizzied them madly about. They could not get free of the clouds. And they could not cut through the wind.

They could only go on until they were battered to pieces. The child almost strangled her with his arms about her neck and his head burrowed on her shoulder. She held him tight and waited.

Now it was abysmally dark—darker than before. The pilot maneuvered with half loops and half rolls to reverse this direction. He slowed up for a stall.

Suddenly, with afflicting suddenness, they saw objects rushing past like mountain-tops, like trees. They were free from the clouds!

They came from their high altitude A scene of unearthly majesty spread out before them. They looked upon vast coliseums out in purple stone; upon castle like structures hewn in colossal proportions. These rose from titanic depths and climbed ledge upon brown and purple ledge to the very skies.

The wind swept them across these terrific canyons; back and forth it shot them between these labyrinthian gorges. Now here that one taught land! And the light was fast vanishing—the light was almost gone.

They swooped lower; they saw a plateau. This hurtled toward this. It spread out like a table between two mighty caverns. They circled above it.

Pat looked down. She thought with the despairing clutch at hope—a flat land, O dear God, let us not land here.

The coast of the plane eddied. It sank to a throttled murmur. They cut down across the wind. They were landing!

Just as the wheels touched the earth the wind veered about. It caught the light plane in dopping sideways—turned it with a crashed wing head down to the rock.

Pat's appalling inevitable imprisonment began

Copyright, 1929, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

To Be Continued Monday.

Listen, World!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

DR. WATSON has been telling the world how children's lives can be molded by putting them in the right environment . . . and some good people think it's all nonsense. The little foxes of the Santa Barbara islands can testify that it isn't nonsense.

Elsie Robinson

Long ago, in pleistocene age —and I use that word as I guess as to how many thousands of years ago it was, that was as much as good as the scientists—California was a wider land than it is now. And the little foxes roamed all over the land, chasing the gray rabbits, that were then almost as big as a fox is.

Then along came a terrific convulsion and the rim of the continent tumbled into the sea, leaving only points protruding here and there as islands. On two of those islands, off that place which is now called Santa Barbara, some small foxes huddled, looking wistfully back to the mainland, which they were never to reach again. It had been a land of plenty, but here on these barren strips there was never a rabbit—only great swarms of insects, an occasional tiny bird, a stray fish cast up on the beach. Slim pickings for foxes, but it's wonderful how creatures can get along if they are put to it.

The foxes got along 2 ways—learned to eat insects and fish—survived and bred.

That was vague thousands of years ago. Still the little foxes live on Santa Barbara Islands, just a few miles off the shore, but their environment has changed hardly know them now.

They were fat, husky beasts when they were set adrift, lean strong, hunting legs and fierce, chewing jaws. Ancient skeletons prove that. But stay—despite of the chase and the strong, tough meat—they have shrunk to tiny creatures, no size for protection. Their teeth are delicate as pins, fitted to fly fare or soft flesh of fish. Their jaw bones have become frail—their leg bones are as weak and delicate as a bird's.

But back on the main land their brothers, who continued to hunt and gorge, have become as powerful and swift as little wolves.

That isn't all. There were elephants in the land in those days. Some of the elephants, like the foxes, were marooned on the islands They are finding the skeletons now, and, at the same time, unearthing the remains of the mainland elephants from the great asphalt pit near Carpenteria. The mainland elephants were huge brutes, fifteen feet high at the shoulder, bigger than any circus elephant today. But the island elephants, before they vanished, had dwindled to dwarfs scarce eight feet high.

That's what environment will do to an animal, human or otherwise. You AREN'T what you're born. You're what your food and climate and associations make you

Copyright, 1929 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Unusual Meat Dishes

MEATS belong to the cold season, since their suggestion of heartiness is welcome, to say nothing of the appetizing odor of a savory roast, or the crispy brownness of a broiled chop. How delicious these things are! During this season we demand meats at least once a day, and in many instances we should have them, since meat makes the blood richer and the body warmer.

Martha Lee

But meat is a highly concentrated food, and we can easily eat too much of it to the exclusion of other foods which should accompany it. The housewife preparing the meat for dinner should see to it that there are plenty of green vegetables to accompany it, a salad which is principally greens or fruit, and a normal amount of energy food such as rice, or potatoes or bread, to balance the meal properly.

One of the best ways, and certainly a very delectable one, to serve fruit with meat is to actually cook it with the meat. This is an evolution of the newer ides in dietetics, though fruits have been served with meats, usually in fresh form, ever since the wanderings of Ulysses.

Below are some new ways to cook fruits with meats, which are guaranteed just as good as they sound.

FRIED HAM WITH APRICOTS

Fry ham in the usual way, remove to a hot platter. Drain a can of apricots well, dip in flour and saute a nice brown in the ham fat. Arrange around the ham. Make a sauce by caramelizing 2 tbsps. sugar and 3-3 cup apricot syrup and cooking till smooth. Add 3 tbsps orange juice, then 2 tsps. flour smoothed with 2 tbsps. cold water. Cook till slightly thick and serve with the ham and apricots.

Faithfully yours, I

Martha Lee

BEST JOKE I EVER HEARD

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for "Best Joke" published. Address "Best Joke," Boston Evening American.

A Scotchman was left a large fortune and as usual was pestered by letters appealing for donations.

One letter particularly interested him He replied, enclosing a check, stating, "Herewith check for five hundred dollars. As I wish to remain anonymous, you will observe that I have not signed it."

JIM BLACK.
17 Cutter st., Somerville.

News and Gossip of Society; Forecasts of Events in Greater Boston

3 DEBUTANTES AT BRILLIANT TEAS TODAY

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT H. STEVENSON are announcing their niece, Miss Elizabeth Thomas, Boston Junior League and Vincent Club member, at a tea at their Beacon st residence today. Miss Thomas is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Douglas H. Thomas, Jr., of Baltimore. Mrs. Stevenson and her niece but recently returned to Boston after a visit of about a week in Baltimore, where Miss Thomas was presented at the Bachelors' Cotillion, and where she also shared honors with Miss Elizabeth Whitredge Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Marsden Smith of that city Thanksgiving Eve. She will again be in the Oriole City December 30 for the ball being given in honor of Miss Catherine Morris Whitredge

FOR HER BOSTON "COMING OUT" PARTY this afternoon, Miss Thomas is wearing a picture dress of pale green chiffon with a fichu, a belt of green and yellow velvet ribbons tied with a bow in front, and a ruffled skirt. With this charming costume she is carrying an old-fashioned bouquet of yellow roses set in a silver handle that had belonged to her grandmother Her aunt is gowned in tan chiffon with suits of orange. Miss Edith Wolcott of Readville is head pourer and those serving at the tables are Miss Hope Richardson, Miss Margaret Lang, Miss Frances Burnett, Miss Alice Dalton, Miss Ruth Lovering, Miss Alson Haughton, Miss Mary Lovering, Miss Anne Houghton, Miss Elizabeth Saltonstall, Miss Anna Tuckerman, Miss Catherine Olney, Miss Ethel Grew, Miss Esther Grew, Miss Helen Warren, Miss Elizabeth Hamlin, Miss Lucita Orlandini, Miss Edith Gray, Miss Elsie Brewer and Miss Elizabeth Jackson of Beacon st

THE WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB has been chosen by Mr. and Mrs Louis E. Voss of Charles River sq. and Dr. and Mrs. William H. Boos of Beacon st. for the tea they are giving in honor of their respective daughters, Miss Phyllis Voss and Miss Anne Marshall Boos, this afternoon. Mrs. Voss is wearing a dress of dahlia colored chiffon and Mrs. Boos' gown is of black velvet. The two debutantes are to be attired in similar models of crepe de chine, fashioned with net flounces. Miss Voss's frock is turquoise blue, while Miss Boos' costume is of yellow. The group of pourers is in charge of Mrs. Guy Warren Walker, the former Miss Nancy Voss, and Miss Mimi Eskrid Boos, sisters of the youthful hostesses.

ASSISTING AT THE TABLES are Miss Margaret Smith, Miss Virginia Beaty, Miss Vivian Sears, Miss Vivian Kendall, Miss Elinor Coues, Miss Helen Johnson, Miss Henrietta Wells, Miss Harriet Guild, Miss Catherine Brown, Miss Marian Duane, Miss Alice Burrage, Miss Lois Smith, Miss Madeline Nichols Miss Mary Elizabeth Lowe, Miss Mary Elizabeth Bird, Miss Katharine Carter and Miss Eleanor Edson In the evening Dr. and Mrs. Boos are entertaining those who are pouring at a dinner dance at their residence. About 40 have been bidden to this affair.

THE FIRST OF THE SENIOR supper-dances last evening came up to the expectations of the most enthusiastic. The women were all charmingly gowned in the most brilliant of colors. Mrs B. H. Bristow Draper, hostess of a party of 14, wore an unusual and striking gown of green and brown chiffon, studded with rhinestones. Mrs. J. Cushing Goodhue had chosen a frock of shell pink. Mrs. Henry Howard Fay was gowned in black net, while another wearing black was Mrs. B. Davis Crowell, whose dress of chiffon was finished with rhinestones.

RED CONTINUES TO BE the choice of many in its varying hues. This was the color of Mrs. George Lyman's lace dress, while a moire of salmon pink shade was Mrs. Robert Storer's choice in frocks. Mrs. Henry C. Everett, Jr., was attired in a white satin gown and red velvet slippers. Another white was Mrs. Howland Sebury. Mrs. William De Ford Beal, who wore a lovely corsage on her black satin dress, had entertained with Mr. Beal at dinner at their home in Chestnut Hill, and Mrs. Charles B. Hodges, Jr., Mr and Mrs Thomas P Beal, Mr. and Mrs Livingston Davis, the Gelston Kings and the George Abbots. Over her salmon lace dress Mrs Gardiner Fiske had thrown an exquisite shawl of the same tone, shading into a deeper red. Mrs. Edward Hoar Warren was charmingly gowned in brilliant red chiffon

Geoffrey Hodson Mrs. Catherine Gardner Mrs. Geoffrey Hodson

Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Hodson and Mrs. Catherine Gardner having tea in the home of Mrs. Gardner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Peabody Gardner. This was one of the events arranged for the visit of Mr. Hodson, famous English oculist.

AMONG THOSE WHO HAVE shown great interest in the Christmas Sale of the Christopher Shop, 535 Boylston st, which will continue until December 21, inclusive, are. Mrs George C. Warren, Mrs Frederick Cunningham, Mrs Hunnewell, Mrs. George Swinnerton Parker and her daughter, Miss Sally, Mrs. William S Youngman, Mrs Arthur Whitcomb, Mrs. H. L. Bigelow, Miss Betty Spalding Mrs. Charles A. Proctor Miss Barbara Horton, Mrs Lloyd K. Horton, Mrs. Joseph S. Draper, Mrs. Carlyle Pope, Mrs. Norman Greeley, Mrs. George E Clement, and many others. There are many interesting gifts to be found in the "Carry On Room, all very appropriate to the season. Tired Christmas Shoppers can sip a cup of tea or coffee with a bit of a sandwich and a delicious cookie any hour of the day from 11 to 5 30

MRS HENRY F COLL, Mrs Francis Parkman and Miss Alice A Thorp of Cambridge, and Mrs. Augustus W Soule of Brookline will pour at a tea which Mrs James Garfield is to give in her home, Hubbard pk, Cambridge on Monday, in the interest of the Nursery Training School of Boston Mrs Garfield is a member of the corporation of this pioneer institution on Ruggles st, Boston, and with the assistance of Miss Gladys Cotton, a graduate of the school, and other helpers carries on a nursery school in her home for her own children and the children of some of her neighbors Mrs Garfield was Miss Edith Townsend of Cooperstown, N. Y Mrs Garfield and Mrs. Colt have together been in charge of the Cambridge "spoke" of the Golden Wheel, by means of which the Nursery Training School is raising a considerable part of its budget this winter

MRS. WILLIAM W. HOBBS of Boston and her children are in Pebble Beach, Calif., for the winter The children, William, Jean and Sturtevant, are attending the Douglas School in the Del Monte Forest.

Miss Juliet Green of Common wealth ave, who has worked in a department store for some time has recently taken a position in a book shop.

MRS WHITEHOUSE WALKER, formerly of Boston, is at Mill Cottage, Bedford Hills, N Y, where she is planning to remain throughout the winter, Mrs. Hall Herrick has taken an apartment on Commonwealth ave for the winter

MISS ALICE SUTTON OF Cambridge, who made her debut a few seasons ago while she attended Radcliffe, is at the present time studying at the Museum of Fine Arts

Mr. and Mrs J Otis Wardwell of Boston, are staying at the St Regis in N Y

Betty Alden

BULGING GIFT STOCKINGS FOR VETS

[illegible] by Mrs Edmonia [illegible] Mr George H Wood chairman of the purchasing and packing committee [illegible] Other workers [illegible] Mr Thomas J [illegible] Mr H F Muncil [illegible] Mr A H McLellan [illegible] Mr H F Muncil

[illegible] each of the veterans with the exception of a number of special cases, will receive in addition to a well knit pair of woolen stockings, one white shirt, a necktie, two packages of cigarettes one package of sweets, one book of two cent stamps a Christmas handkerchief and a Christmas card from Governor Frank G Allen

The Disabled Veterans Christmas Remembrance Committee represents in this work the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Red Cross Knights of Columbus and ten other Massachusetts service organizations

Although the articles for the stocking have been purchased at a large expense the[y] are not [illegible] and unless the people of Massachusetts respond as [illegible] as they have in [illegible] the members of the [illegible] charge will be [illegible] to purchase them personally

AIDED 500 NEEDY CASES

During the past year the committee through its welfare department gave financial and other assistance to more than 500 needy cases Some of the cases were assisted for periods of several months duration

The committee operates practically without overhead With the exception of a part-time secretary there are no paid employees Its headquarters is donated by the Disabled Veterans Hospitality Service, another organization furnishes skilled investigators James J. Phelan presided the clerical expense, the radio stations, newspapers and other mediums provide free advertising space with which to raise the funds and a small group of patriotic men and women meet weekly throughout the year and supervise its affairs

Each stocking sent to the veterans will cost at least $2.50. Contribution should be sent to Treasurer James J Phelan, 60 Congress st, Boston

This Modern World

Edited by ANN ARDEN

A Department Devoted to Fashions, Decoration and Social Customs

Black and White Is Appropriate for Holiday Wear

[illegible] A COMPLETE costume [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

EVENING AMERICAN MARKETS

New York Stocks — News of Street

BULLARD AND FISHER HEAD COTTON MEN

By FRANK H. MALOON,
Financial Editor.

W. Irving Bullard, treasurer of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers for the past 12 years, was re-appointed to that position and also to the executive committee at the annual meeting of the Board of Government. Mr. Bullard is among the best known men in the industry in this section of the country. His business connections are varied and he is widely known both for his commercial activities and extensive travels. He is director and officer of the Quinebaug Cotton Mills, Danielson, Ct., Connecticut Mills, Danielson, Ct., and Wauregan Cotton Mills Wauregan Ct. He is treasurer of the E. H. Jacobs Manufacturing Company, which produces equipment for weaving looms, and which they ship to all of the cotton manufacturing countries of the world.

RUSSELL T. FISHER

* * *

Mr Fisher, who has been secretary of the association since 1925 is a well known writer and assistant manager of the National Council of American Cotton Manufacturers. He joined the National Association staff in 1922 to create a technical service department for its members. He is a graduate of Lowell Textile Institute in 1922 with a degree of Bachelor of Textile Engineering was conferred upon him. He is a captain in the Air Reserve Corps was formerly connected with the U. S. Bureau of Standards and has had considerable experience both in manufacturing and merchandising of textiles. He has served as secretary and vice-chairman of Committee D-13, Textile Committee of the American Society for Testing Materials, and is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

* * *

That W. C. Durant, former Boston "auto wizard," is still one of the foremost stock market figures was pictorially demonstrated in yesterday's financial and stock market news when it was rumored he had returned with Radio Corp. as his special pet. Thousands of shares were churned over, with wild fluctuations. If Mr Durant is riding "Big" with Radio the act marks his initial entry in the market since the big crash. Wall and State Street insiders declare.

William C. Durant

Loans on stocks and bonds to brokers and dealers by reporting Federal Reserve member banks in New York City during the week ended December 11 increased $23,600,000 to $3,425,900,000. Those who like to study figures by comparison will be interested to learn that these loans are now approximately four times the size of the total dealers by reporting our girls and women beautified." We accept a Washington wire regarding the amount involved but as sufficiently accurate for rough comparison.

* * *

Massachusetts receives $1,090,022 as her share of the $73,125,000 federal aid fund for road construction apportioned by Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde One State at a broker offers the original suggestion that the Bay State, well able to take care of her own highways through taxes imposed upon motorists, does not need the fund He argues that Massachusetts has to pay the money to the federal government in the first place via taxes, since she receives no more than her proportionate share. He finds that subtracted from what the Bay State pays must be not only the cost of collection, but also the cost of distribution. That's surely a way to keep a number of people more or less actively employed.

New York Stock Exchange

	Sales	High	Low	Close	Net Chg
A
Adv Rumely (7)	2	2	2	2
Air Reduc (4g)	2	2	2	2
Alaska Prod	1	1	1	1
Allied Chem (6)	1	1	1	1
Allied Chem pf	1	1	1	1
Am Can (7)	1	1	1	1
Am Car & Fdy (7)	1	1	1	1
Am Chain (2)	1	1	1	1
Am Cyan B (2)	1	1	1	1
Am Locomotive	1	1	1	1
Am Metal Co	1	1	1	1
Am Rad & St San	1	1	1	1
Am Smelting (4)	1	1	1	1
Am Steel Fdy (2)	1	1	1	1
Am Sugar (4)	1	1	1	1
Am Tel & Tel (9)	1	1	1	1
Am Tob B (6)	1	1	1	1
Am Water Wks (2)	1	1	1	1
Anaconda (3)	1	1	1	1
Atlantic Corp Del	1	1	1	1
B
Baldwin Loco (1¾)	21	22¾	21¾	22¾	+1¾
Bald & Ohio (3)	1	1	1	1
Bangor & Ar (2½)	20	62¾	60¼	60¼	-1¾
Barnsdall A (2½)	70	19¾	19¼	19¼	-¼
Beech-Nut Co	1	1	1	1
Beatrice Cream	1	1	1	1
Bendix Aviat (3)	1	1	1	1
Bethlehem	1	1	1	1
Bigelow Sanf	1	1	1	1
Bohn Alum (15)	1	1	1	1
Borden Co (2)	1	1	1	1
Brklyn Man Tr (4)	1	1	1	1
Briggs Mfg	1	1	1	1
Briggs & Stra (7)	1	1	1	1
Brooklyn Un Gas (5)	1	1	1	1
Bucyrus-Erie (2)	1	1	1	1
Burns Bros (10)	1	1	1	1
Burroughs Add M	1	1	1	1
Butte Copp (4g)	1	1	1	1
Butte & Sup (2)	1	1	1	1
Butterick	1	1	1	1
Byers A M (7)	1	1	1	1
By-Prod Coke (3)	1	1	1	1
C
Calumet & Ar (10)	1	1	1	1
Cal & Hecla (8)	1	1	1	1
Canada Dry (2)	1	1	1	1
Canadian Pac (10)	1	1	1	1
Cannon M (2.50)	1	1	1	1
Capital Ad	1	1	1	1
Case J I (6)	1	1	1	1
Caterpillar Tr	1	1	1	1
Central Alloy (2)	1	1	1	1
C Ill of N Mex	1	1	1	1
Cerro de Pasco (5)	1	1	1	1
Certain-teed P	1	1	1	1
Chesapk Corp (1)	1	1	1	1
Ches & Ohio (4)	1	1	1	1
Chile & Alton	1	1	1	1
Chile Copper	1	1	1	1
Chi Great West	1	1	1	1
Chi Grt W pf	1	1	1	1
C M St P & P	1	1	1	1
C M St P & Pa	1	1	1	1
Chi & N W pf (5)	1	1	1	1
Chi Pneumatic	1	1	1	1
C Rock I & P (7)	1	1	1	1
Chi & P Pac pf (7)	1	1	1	1
Chi Yellow Cab	1	1	1	1
Chile Copper	1	1	1	1
Chrysler (5)	1	1	1	1
City Store	1	1	1	1
Clark Equip (2)	1	1	1	1
Coca-Cola A (2)	1	1	1	1
Colgate P (4)	1	1	1	1
Col Fuel & Ir	1	1	1	1
Colo Fuel & Ir (4)	1	1	1	1
Col Carbon (4g)	1	1	1	1
Columbia Gas (2)	1	1	1	1
Columbian Carb (4)	1	1	1	1
Com Credit (2)	1	1	1	1
Com Cr A (2)	1	1	1	1
Comm Inv Tr (1.65)	1	1	1	1
Com Solvent (1)	1	1	1	1
Comm Solv pf	1	1	1	1
Consol Coal	1	1	1	1
Consol Cigar (7)	1	1	1	1
Cons Film (2)	1	1	1	1
Cons Film pf (2)	1	1	1	1
Consol Oil (4)	1	1	1	1
Consol Gas of (3)	1	1	1	1
ConsRR of C pf (6)	1	1	1	1
Consol Textile	1	1	1	1
Container A (1.50)	1	1	1	1
Container B	1	1	1	1
Cont Baking A	1	1	1	1
Cont Baking B	1	1	1	1
Cont Bak pf (5)	1	1	1	1
Cont Bank (1.20)	1	1	1	1
Cont Can (2½)	1	1	1	1
Cont Insur (2)	1	1	1	1
Cont Motors (1)	1	1	1	1
Continental Oil	1	1	1	1
Cora Prod (1)	1	1	1	1
Cream of W (2½b)	1	1	1	1
Curtis Pub (2.50)	1	1	1	1
Crosley Radio (1d)	1	1	1	1
Cuba Can Su	1	1	1	1
Cuba C S pf	1	1	1	1
Cuba Co	1	1	1	1
Cub-Am Sug	1	1	1	1
Cudahy P 8	1	1	1	1
Cudahy Packg (4)	1	1	1	1
Curtis Wright	1	1	1	1
Curtis Wright cl	1	1	1	1
Cuyamel Fruit	1	1	1	1
D
Deere & Co (2)	1	1	1	1
Del & Hud (4)	1	1	1	1
Del Lack & W (5)	1	1	1	1
Denver & R G	1	1	1	1
Detroit Edison	1	1	1	1
Detroit Mot Bus	1	1	1	1
Detroit Steel	1	1	1	1
Devoe & Ray A	1	1	1	1
Diamond Match	1	1	1	1
Dodge Bros A	1	1	1	1
Dodge Bros B	1	1	1	1
Dome Mines (3)	1	1	1	1
Dominion Stores	1	1	1	1
Douglas Aircraft	1	1	1	1
Dunhill Intl	1	1	1	1
Du Pont de N (5)	1	1	1	1
Du Pont de N pf	1	1	1	1
Durham Hos (2)	1	1	1	1
E
Eastman Kod (5)	1	1	1	1
Eaton Axle (2)	1	1	1	1
Edison Bros (2)	1	1	1	1
Elec Auto-Lite (2)	1	1	1	1
Elec Boat	1	1	1	1
Elec Pow & Lt (2)	1	1	1	1
Elec Storage B (3)	1	1	1	1
Elk Horn Coal (3)	1	1	1	1
Endicott Johns (3)	1	1	1	1
Erie	1	1	1	1
Erie 1st pf	1	1	1	1
Erie & Pitts (7)	1	1	1	1
Eureka Vac (3)	1	1	1	1
Evans Prod	1	1	1	1
Exchange Buff	1	1	1	1
Exide Batt (2)	1	1	1	1
F
Fajardo Sug (3)	1	1	1	1
Fed Lt & Trac	1	1	1	1
Fed Mining & S	1	1	1	1
Fed Mining & S pf	1	1	1	1
Fed Motor (2)	1	1	1	1
Fed Phos (2)	1	1	1	1
Fidelity Phen (4)	1	1	1	1
Fifth Ave Bus (3)	1	1	1	1
Fisk Rubber	1	1	1	1
Fisk Rub 1st pf	1	1	1	1
Fleischmann (2)	1	1	1	1
Florsheim Shoe	1	1	1	1
Foundation Co	1	1	1	1
Fox Film A (2)	1	1	1	1
Fox Film B	1	1	1	1
Fox Theatres A	1	1	1	1
Freeport Tex (2)	1	1	1	1
Freeport Tex pf (7)	1	1	1	1
Fuller Brush A	1	1	1	1
Fuller Brush B	1	1	1	1
Fuller Co (4)	1	1	1	1
Fuller Co pf (6)	1	1	1	1
Fullerton Oil	1	1	1	1
Fullerton Oil pf	1	1	1	1
G
Gabriel Snub A	1	1	1	1
Gamewell (2)	1	1	1	1
Gardner Motor	1	1	1	1
Gen Am Tank (3)	1	1	1	1
Gen Asphalt (2)	1	1	1	1
Gen Baking (1)	1	1	1	1
Gen Cable A (4)	1	1	1	1
Gen Cable B	1	1	1	1
Gen Electric (3)	1	1	1	1
Gen Foods (3)	1	1	1	1
Gen Motors (5)	1	1	1	1
Gen Motors pf (7)	1	1	1	1
Gen Outdoor Adv	1	1	1	1
Gen Outdoor Adv A	1	1	1	1
Gen Outdoor Adv B	1	1	1	1
Gen Ry Sig (3)	1	1	1	1
Gen Refract (2)	1	1	1	1
Gen Theatres Eq	1	1	1	1
Gillette Saf R (3)	1	1	1	1
Gimbel Bros	1	1	1	1
Gimbel Bros pf (7)	1	1	1	1
Glidden Co (2)	1	1	1	1
Gobel Adolf	1	1	1	1
Goldman Sachs	1	1	1	1
Goodrich B F (4)	1	1	1	1
Goodyear T & R (2)	1	1	1	1
Goodyear T & R pf	1	1	1	1
Gotham Silk Hos	1	1	1	1
Graham-Paige	1	1	1	1
Granby Con (2)	1	1	1	1
Grand Un (1.60)	1	1	1	1
Granite City S	1	1	1	1
Grant W T (2)	1	1	1	1
Graton & Knight	1	1	1	1
Graton & Knight pf	1	1	1	1
Great A & P Tea	1	1	1	1
Great A & P Tea pf	1	1	1	1
Great Nor pf (2½)	1	1	1	1
Great Nor Ore (2)	1	1	1	1
Great West Sug (2)	1	1	1	1
Greene Cananea	1	1	1	1
Greyhound Corp	1	1	1	1
Grigsby-Grunow	1	1	1	1
Gruen Watch (2)	1	1	1	1
Gruen Watch pf (7)	1	1	1	1
Gulf States St (7)	1	1	1	1
Gulf States St pf	1	1	1	1
H
Hahn Dept St	1	1	1	1
Hall Print (2)	1	1	1	1
Hall Print pf (7)	1	1	1	1
Hanover Fire (8)	1	1	1	1
Hayes Body (2)	1	1	1	1
Hecker H-O (2)	1	1	1	1
Hercules Mot (2)	1	1	1	1
Hershey Choc (3)	1	1	1	1
Hershey Choc pf	1	1	1	1
Hoe R & Co (2)	1	1	1	1
Holland Furn (2)	1	1	1	1
Holly Sug (2)	1	1	1	1
Homestake Min (4)	1	1	1	1
Houdaille-H (1.75)	1	1	1	1
Houdaille-H A (1.75)	1	1	1	1
Household Fin	1	1	1	1
Household Fin pf	1	1	1	1
Howe Sound (2)	1	1	1	1
Howe Sound pf	1	1	1	1
Howe Sound rts	1	1	1	1
Hudson Motor (3)	1	1	1	1
Hudson Motor pf	1	1	1	1
Hupp Motor (1)	1	1	1	1
Hupp Motor pf	1	1	1	1
Hupp Motor rts	1	1	1	1
Hurley Mach (2)	1	1	1	1
Hydraulic Steel	1	1	1	1
I
Illinois Central	1	1	1	1
Indian Motorcycle	1	1	1	1
Indian Refining	1	1	1	1
Indust Rayon (2)	1	1	1	1
Ingersoll-Rand	1	1	1	1
Inspiration Cop	1	1	1	1
Insuranshares	1	1	1	1
Int Combus Eng	1	1	1	1
Int Comb Eng rts	1	1	1	1
Int Harvester (3)	1	1	1	1
Int Hydro-E A (1)	1	1	1	1
Int Match pf (4)	1	1	1	1
Int Mer Mar (6)	1	1	1	1
Int Mer Mar pf (7)	1	1	1	1
Int Nickel (1)	1	1	1	1
Int Paper & Pow	1	1	1	1
Int Paper & Pow pf	1	1	1	1
Int T & T (3)	1	1	1	1
Intertype Corp (2)	1	1	1	1
Investors Equity	1	1	1	1
Iron Prod (2)	1	1	1	1
Island Creek Coal	1	1	1	1
Island Creek pf	1	1	1	1
Ivar Kreuger (2)	1	1	1	1
J
Jones Mercan (3)	1	1	1	1
Jordan Motor (2)	1	1	1	1
K
Kan City S pf (4)	1	1	1	1
Kansas City Pwr	1	1	1	1
Kansas City Pwr pf	1	1	1	1
Kansas Gulf (1)	1	1	1	1
Kayser Julius (4)	1	1	1	1
Kelly-Spring	1	1	1	1
Kelsey Hayes (2)	1	1	1	1
Kelvinator	1	1	1	1
Kendall Ref	1	1	1	1
Kennecott (2)	1	1	1	1
Keystone Steel (2)	1	1	1	1
Kimberly-Clark	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R (2)	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf (8)	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf B	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf C	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf D	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf E	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf F	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf G	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf H	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf I	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf J	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf K	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf L	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf M	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf N	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf O	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf P	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf Q	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf R	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf S	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf T	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf U	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf V	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf W	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf X	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf Y	1	1	1	1
Kinney G R pf Z	1	1	1	1
Kresge S S (2)	1	1	1	1
Kresge S S pf (5)	1	1	1	1
Kresge D L (2)	1	1	1	1
Kresge D L pf (6)	1	1	1	1
Kroger Groc (2)	1	1	1	1
Kroger Groc pf (6)	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B (2)	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf (6)	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf A	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf B	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf C	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf D	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf E	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf F	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf G	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf H	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf I	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf J	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf K	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf L	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf M	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf N	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf O	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf P	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf Q	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf R	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf S	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf T	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf U	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf V	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf W	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf X	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf Y	1	1	1	1
Kroger G & B pf Z	1	1	1	1
L
Lambert Co (3)	1	1	1	1
Lehigh Val (2½)	1	1	1	1
Lehigh Val rts	1	1	1	1
Liggett & Myers (4)	1	1	1	1
Liggett & Myers B (4)	1	1	1	1
Lima Loco	1	1	1	1
Lima Loco pf (5)	1	1	1	1
Lindsay Light (1)	1	1	1	1
Liquid Carb (2)	1	1	1	1
Loew's Inc (3)	1	1	1	1
Loew's Inc pf (6)	1	1	1	1
Lorillard (7)	1	1	1	1
Louisville Gas A	1	1	1	1
Louisville G & E	1	1	1	1
Louisville G & E pf	1	1	1	1
Ludlum Steel (2)	1	1	1	1
Lyon & Healy (4)	1	1	1	1
M
Mack Trucks (4)	1	1	1	1
Macys Sp Gar (1.60)	1	1	1	1
Madison Sq Gar (1½)	1	1	1	1
Magma Cop (2)	1	1	1	1
Mandel Bros	1	1	1	1
Manh El Sup	1	1	1	1
Manh Ry Sug (2.50)	1	1	1	1
Manh Ry Sug pf (4)	1	1	1	1
Marmon Mot (4)	1	1	1	1
Martin Parry	1	1	1	1
Matheson Alk (3)	1	1	1	1
Maw D Str (2d)	1	1	1	1
Mc Keesp & R (3)	1	1	1	1
McK & R 1st pf	1	1	1	1
McKeesp T P (4)	1	1	1	1
McLellan St (1.20)	1	1	1	1
Melville Sh (1.60)	1	1	1	1
Menel Co (2)	1	1	1	1
Mex Seaboard	1	1	1	1
Miami Copper (4)	1	1	1	1
Mid Sts Oil (3)	1	1	1	1
Midvale Co	1	1	1	1
Mid-Cont Pet (2)	1	1	1	1
Miller Rubber	1	1	1	1
Minn Mo Pw	1	1	1	1
Mo Kan & T	1	1	1	1
Missouri Pac	1	1	1	1
Mo Pac pf (5)	1	1	1	1
Mohawk Carp	1	1	1	1
Monsanto Chem	1	1	1	1
Montgomery W (3)	1	1	1	1
Moon Motors	1	1	1	1
Morrell & Co	1	1	1	1
Mother Lode (40)	1	1	1	1
Moto Me G & E	1	1	1	1
N
Nash Motors (4)	1	1	1	1
Nat Air Trans	1	1	1	1
Nat Belias H (1d)	1	1	1	1
Nat Cash R A (1d)	1	1	1	1
Nat Dairy Pr (2d)	1	1	1	1
Nat Distillers	1	1	1	1
Nat Lead	1	1	1	1
Nat Lead pf A (7)	1	1	1	1
Nat Radiator	1	1	1	1
Nat Surety (3)	1	1	1	1
National Tea (2)	1	1	1	1
Nevada Cons (2)	1	1	1	1
Newport (2)	1	1	1	1
Newton Steel (2)	1	1	1	1
N Y Air Brake (3)	1	1	1	1
N Y Central (8)	1	1	1	1
N Y C & St L (6)	1	1	1	1
N Y C & St L pf (5)	1	1	1	1
N Y & Harlem (5)	1	1	1	1
N Y N H & H (6)	1	1	1	1
N Y Out & W	1	1	1	1
N Y Stm 7 pf A	1	1	1	1
N Y & S A (1)	1	1	1	1
No American (8a)	1	1	1	1
No Am E pf (6)	1	1	1	1
No Ger L (2.41)	1	1	1	1
Northern Pac (3)	1	1	1	1
No Pac rts (3)	1	1	1	1
O
Ohio Oil Co	1	1	1	1
Ohio Oil M & S pf (7)	1	1	1	1
Oliver Farm Eq	1	1	1	1
Omnibus Corp	1	1	1	1
Otis Elevator (4g)	1	1	1	1
Otis Steel (2½)	1	1	1	1
Outlet Co (4)	1	1	1	1
Owen Bl Glass (4)	1	1	1	1
P
Pac Gas & E (2)	1	1	1	1
Pacific Light (3)	1	1	1	1
Pac Oil	1	1	1	1
Pa Sard M (3)	1	1	1	1
Pan Amer B	1	1	1	1
Paramount B	1	1	1	1
Park & Tilf (4)	1	1	1	1
Parmelee (1½)	1	1	1	1
Park Utah C	1	1	1	1
Pathe Exch	1	1	1	1
Pathe Fir B (1)	1	1	1	1
Patino Mines (3)	1	1	1	1
Pennock & Ford	1	1	1	1
Penn Dix Cem	1	1	1	1
Penney Co	1	1	1	1
Penn R R (4)	1	1	1	1
Pere Marquette (5)	1	1	1	1
Pere Marq pf	1	1	1	1
Phelps Dodge (2)	1	1	1	1
Phila R C & I	1	1	1	1
Philip Morris (1)	1	1	1	1
Phillips Petr (2)	1	1	1	1
Pierce Oil	1	1	1	1
Pierce Pet	1	1	1	1
Pillsbury F (2½b)	1	1	1	1
Pirelli Co (2.55)	1	1	1	1
Pitts & W Va (4)	1	1	1	1
Poor & Co B (2)	1	1	1	1
Porto R T B	1	1	1	1
Postal T & C pf (7)	1	1	1	1
Prairie O&G (2d)	1	1	1	1
Prairie P L (3½b)	1	1	1	1
Pressed St Car	1	1	1	1
Procter & Gam (2)	1	1	1	1
Producers & R	1	1	1	1
Pub Ser N J (2.40)	1	1	1	1
Pub S NJ 6pc (6)	1	1	1	1
Pullman Inc (4)	1	1	1	1
Pure Oil (1½)	1	1	1	1
Purity Bak (4)	1	1	1	1
R
Radio Corp	1	1	1	1
Radio pf B (5)	1	1	1	1
Radio Keith	1	1	1	1
Railway Steel	1	1	1	1
Reading (4)	1	1	1	1
Real Silk Hos (1)	1	1	1	1
Remington R (2)	1	1	1	1
Rep Motor (1.50)	1	1	1	1
Raybestos M (2.80)	1	1	1	1
Republic I&S (4)	1	1	1	1
Reynolds Spr	1	1	1	1
Reynolds Met (2)	1	1	1	1
Reynolds Tob (3)	1	1	1	1
Richfield Oil (2)	1	1	1	1
Rio Grande O (2d)	1	1	1	1
Rossia Insur (2.20)	1	1	1	1
Royal D N Y (2.20)	1	1	1	1
S
Safeway Stores (5)	1	1	1	1
Safew S Spc pf (6)	1

NEWS of BOSTON MARKETS

Trends of the Day | Leaders' Views

Spreading Work Is Better Than Laying Men Off

Workers Entitled to First Consideration; Some Humane Acts

By B. C. Forbes

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—Instead of laying off workers, employers should distribute the work among them.

Would the need of reducing the total payroll? Fewer hours are better than no pay.

By spreading the work in this way instead of throwing men into the street, employers will demonstrate that they have real considération for their workfolks. Naturally, most employers would prefer to maintain their full force working full hours, because profits are largest under such circumstances. To any curtailment becomes absolutely unavoidable, the greatest pains should be taken to lay the whole facts before the workers, so that they will clearly understand that the action taken is forced by stern necessity.

• • •

There is urgent need for ABC education of this kind in order to remove misconception among many workers concerning what they regard as the "heartlessness" of employers in "firing" men without apparently troubling one into about what may become of them and their needy families.

As emphasized in this column a few days ago, numbers of concerns have been followed by their dismissal of many employes, especially older workers; and this, along with the grouping of workers by other corporations for one reason or another, has fostered a more discontent and bitterness among workers than is generally understood.

• • •

It is deeply regrettable, from every point of view, that more of our eighty-odd billion dollars of American corporation executives have not taken adequate time and trouble to "sell" themselves and their humane humanness to wage earners and the general public. For, after all, the same employers whom workers realize are anxious to do the right thing.

• • •

Consider a few recent happenings.

Several large employers have come to the rescue of employes who found themselves in financial trouble.

Announcement after announcement has come to employees making out generous insurance for their workers either at no cost or nominal cost to the men and women benefited.

Pension plans have been instituted by some companies, and others have made improvements on existing pension plans.

When demand for steel fell off a few weeks ago, the work was divided equitably among all the workers, whereas in the old days men were promptly dropped when output had to be curtailed.

Engineers were summoned to Washington by President Hoover, unhesitatingly pledged themselves not to cut wages, a pledge which it would have been considered ridiculous to ask for in the past.

Thus we have companies than ever before have granted all their workers vacations with pay.

Profit sharing has been in eliminating the seven-day work-week and in reducing long workday hours. In fact, some half-a-million workers, mostly in the building trades, are now on a regular five-day week.

President Willard states that since the Baltimore & Ohio Cooperative Plan with its employes took effect, more than 24,000 betterment suggestions have been made by them—illustrating their keen interest in the well-being of the company.

One large employer, George I. Cochran, president of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co. of California, addressing the association of Life Insurance Presidents in New York yesterday said:

"I think if it were carefully investigated, we would find that a small part of the population supports all the rest. This position is composed of the hard working, thrifty, industrious and constructive business and working men and women of the nation, and I think these people are entitled to every one of them, not only to a living wage sufficient to provide for the needs of necessities of life, but also for enough to provide for disability in case of sickness or old age and life insurance and other protection for their families and also the means to get their share of the pleasures of life."

• • •

It still remains true, however, that American industry has not yet sufficiently shouldered responsibility for doing everything within its power, through nation-wide co-operation and co-ordination, to bring about more steady employment. Until industrial and other leaders get together and work earnestly and co-ordinately towards the end, the whole economic problem confronting the nation will remain unsolved.

Unless President Hoover's activities lead towards this end, in a permanent way, they will fail short of what should be their supreme objective.

• • •

Man doesn't exist for industry. Industry exists for man.

Copyright, 1929, by B. C. Forbes

B. & M. TO AID SANTA CLAUS THIS YEAR

Santa Claus has joined with the Boston and Maine Railroad to speed his Christmas mail and gift packages through the New North Station his year, and the railroad announced that it would be able to put a sack of mail from the street to the sorting rooms in 45 seconds, and have the letters and packages on the way to Christmas destinations promptly.

The flood of Christmas mail at the North Station began to reach appreciable proportions today, much earlier than usual, and officials of the Boston and Maine well organized to handle the season's offerings.

The new system will eliminate all manual handling between the street floor and the third-floor sorting room. A carrier with a sack of mail or a parcel post bundle from the street to the third floor in 45 seconds. The results in the handling and sorting being almost twice as fast as the old system and results in mail being dispatched on earlier trains.

More than 1,500,000 sacks of mail and parcel post packages will be handled at the North Station in the week preceding Christmas, it is estimated. The Christmas mail rush in and out of the North Station this year is starting earlier than ever before, and the indications from the early start are that the peak will be reached 10 to 20 per cent larger than last year, which was the largest on record.

Eight special all-mail trains will be operated daily from December 15 to 24 to take care of the mail rush over the Boston & Maine on all parts of the system. These trains will operate from Boston to Dover, N. H., and return; from Boston to Rochester, N. H., and return; from Boston to White River Junction, Vt., and return, and from Boston to Portland, Me., and return.

The normal staff of 75 men who handle mail at the North station will be increased daily and within a week a force of 250 men will be at work. Many of them will be college football stars, rushing mail sacks instead of a pigskin. They will have trailer trucks and 10 gasoline tractors, operating in and about the Boston & Maine's new terminal to handle the mail.

Mail coming to and from the North station from and from New Hampshire, Maine, Massachusetts, Vermont, Nova Scotia and especially the Provinces.

The hundreds of thousands of passengers who will pass in and out of the North station during the Christmas season will have little confusion, for the entire layout of the great rush of mail, so efficient is the new handling system. The mail will be trucked over their heads on covered ramps as the gasoline driven tractors haul each mail truck loaded to capacity, to and from the tracks and the sorting rooms.

CURB MARKET GAINS MADE.

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—The curb market made substantial progress in today's abbreviated session, as yesterday's rally was continued with sufficient momentum to absorb the week-end liquidation. The market advanced along a broad front, a wide assortment of industrials and utilities closing a point or two higher.

Commonwealth Edison mounted about 10 points, and such utilities as American Superpower, Allied Power & Light, American & Foreign Power warrants, Middle West Utilities and Insull pref. A, also closed a point or two higher. Electric Bond & Share failed to participate in the upward movement, but was firm and closed ½ point higher. Associated Gas & was an isolated easy spot, closing nearly 1 point lower.

A number of low-priced industrials and specialties made substantial headway. Pressure appeared to have been lifted from Theaters A, and it closed nearly a point higher. Dubilier Condenser was again in demand, ended a few high for the movement at 14, and closing at 13¾ up ½. American Gypsum and B, Ford of Canada A, and Zonite were among shares moving up a point or so. Great Atlantic & Pacific continued to fluctuate over a wide range in a light turnover. It shot up 25 points, and closed up 20.

Holders of 'Phone Stock Over 467,000

American Telephone & Telegraph Co. now has more than 467,000 stockholders of record. This is the largest figure in the history of the company and makes a decided contrast with the 7535 recorded shareholders in 1900. Including those who are acquiring American Telephone stock on the installment basis there are easily more than a half million shareholders.

Odd-lot buying of American Telephone for cash has been one of the features of the past month's market. Every day certificates for round lots of the stock are coming into the transfer office to be broken up into smaller lots to fill the increasing demand from small investors.

New York Curb Markets

	High	Low	Close
A
Aero Ind war	1¾	1¾	1¾
Aero Underwr	15	15	15
Air Inv cvt pf	11½	11½	11½
Alexander Duk A	2	2	2
Allie Av war	1	1	1
Allied Mills	12¼	12	12
Allied P & L	38⅜	36¾	38⅜
Allied P & Lt 1 pf	75	74½	75
Allied P & Lt pf	42½	42¼	42½
Am Bakeries A	40	40	40
Am Cities Pwr A	49	49	49
Am Cities Pwr B	18	18	18
Am Commw Pow	24¾	24¼	24¾
Am Comm P ww	4¾	4	4
Am Cyan B	28⅜	27½	28
Am Gas & Elec	4¾	4¾	4¾
Am Equities	17	16⅜	17
Am F Pw ww	73	69¾	72
Am Gas & El	121⅛	119	119¾
Am Invest Inc B	12¾	12¾	12¾
do ww	7¾	7¾	7¾
Am L & T	225	225	225
Am Maracaibo	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
Am Nat Gas	10	10	10
Am Superpow B A	20½	20½	20½
Am Superpower	26⅜	25⅜	26⅜
do st pf	95	95	95
Am Tobacco B	28⅜	28⅜	28⅜
do new	6	5⅝	6
Amrad Corp	30	29⅜	30
Amrad Mun Fence	15	14¾	15
Anglo Am V COD	16⅜	16¼	16¾
Ariz Globe	⅛	1-16
Art Metal Rad	11⅛	11	11⅛
Ark Nati Gas	10	9⅞	9⅞
Ark Nati Gas A	10⅛	10	10⅛
Ark Nati Gas pf	8¾	8¼	8¾
Ark Pr & Lt pf	105	105	105
Asso Dye & Prt	3¼	3¼	3¼
Asso Gas & El	41	40⅝	40⅝
Asso Gas dbR	9¾	8⅝	8⅝
Asso Rayon pf	48	48	48
Atl Fruit & Sug	¾	¾	¾
Atlas Plywood	24⅞	24¾	24¾
Atlas Pwr Com	35½	35¼	35½
Aviation Cred	13¾	13⅛	13⅛
B
Bancumit n	48½	48	48½
Bellanca Aire	6	5¾	5¾
Bliss Corp	24⅜	23	24⅜
Blue Ridge	8⅞	8	8¼
Blue Ridge pfd	36⅜	35¾	36
Blumenthal S	32½	32¼	32¼
Bowman Bilt H com	2¾	2⅝	2⅝
Brazil Tract	41	40⅜	41
Brill B	3	3	3
Buff N E P pf	25	24¾	24¾
Burma Corp	3⅞	3⅞	3⅞
Butler Bros	20¾	20¼	20¾
Bwana M K	5⅝	5½	5⅝
C
Cables & W A	3½	3½	3½
Cable & W B	1¾	1¾	1¾
Cam Co	4	4	4
Cana Marconi	4¾	4½	4½
Carib Synd	13¾	13¼	13¼
Carnation Milk	31	31	31
Central & SW U	23⅞	23½	23⅝
Cent Pub S Md A	36	35½	36
Cent Sta El	23⅝	23½	23⅝
Chain Stores	12½	12¼	12½
Chesa & Ohio	64½	64	64½
Ches & Ohio new	64⅝	64¼	64⅝
Cities Serv	28⅜	28⅛	28⅜
do B	28¾	28⅜	28⅝
Clark Light A	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
Colgate Palm	58	57½	58
Commonwealth Edison	262½	261½	262½
Comnwl & S Op	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
Community Wat	13½	13⅜	13⅜
Conn Gas & El	4	4	4
Cons Gas Balt	89⅞	89⅞	89⅞
Cons Gas.Ut	23¾	23	23
Cons Gas Sys	4¾	4¾	4¾
Con Laund	10⅝	10½	10⅝
Cons Retail	12	12	12
Coon Wht	24¾	24½	24¾
Cord Corp	14½	13½	13½
Corron de Rey	17¼	17¼	17¼
Cowles Oil cv	82½	82½	82½
Creole Petrol	6⅝	6⅝	6⅝
Crocker Wheeler	23	23	23
Crowley Milner	31½	31½	31½
Crown Cent Pet	⅝	⅝	⅝
Cuiet Mex	2	2	2
Curtiss Wright ww	2¾	2¾	2¾
D
Darby Petrol	9⅛	9⅛	9⅛
Decca Record Co	½	½	½
Del Pow & Lt	6⅝	6	6
Derby Oil & R	5	4¾	4¾
Det Aircraft	7⅝	8	8
Douglas Aircr	35⅛	35⅛	35⅛
Draper Corp	66	66	66
Dresser Mfg A	33	33	33
Dubilier Cond	14½	13¾	13¾
Duke Power	149¼	144	149¼
E
Earl Radio	½	½	½
East Gas & F	25½	25½	25¾
East Gas & F pf	103	103	103
Elder Elect	15¾	14¾	15⅝
Elec B & S	87¾	85⅝	86⅝
Elec B & S pf	103	103	103
Elec Pwr Assn	28	26½	27
Elec Pwr & Lt	34⅝	34¼	34⅜
El Pwr&Lt Op war	27	25¾	27
Elec Shareho	18	18	18
El Sh Un pf ww	43½	42¾	43½
Empire Powr	39½	39¾	39¾
Empire Pub Serv A	23	23	23
Empire Pub Serv	23¼	23¼	23¼
Eng P S W	16⅛	16	16
Evans Wallo	4¾	4¼	4¾
F
Fairey Av Ltd	3⅛	3⅛	3⅛
Falcon Lead	¼	¼	¼
Fed Screw	34¾	34½	34¾
Financial Inv	7¾	7	7
Florida P&L $7pf	100	100	100
Fokker Aircra	17⅛	17⅛	17⅛
Ford of Canada A	32¾	31½	32¼
Ford of Can A	32¾	31½	32¼
Foremost Dairy	10	10	10
do pref	16¼	16¼	16¼
Foundation (Fr) A	4¼	4¼	4¼
Fox Film A	43	42	43
Fourth Nat Inv	35½	34¾	34¾
G
Garlock Pack	21¼	21	21¼
Gens Forging	3	3	3
Gen Am Inves	101½	101	101½
Gen Baking	37⅜	37	37⅜
do pref	35½	35½	35½
Gen El Ger	36¾	36⅛	36⅛
Gen Elec Ltd	11⅞	11⅛	11⅛
Gen El Elec A	15¾	15¾	15¾
Gen Laundry	11⅛	10⅝	11
Gen Realty Ut	11⅜	11⅛	11⅜
Gen Theatres	19¾	19½	19¾
Gen Th Eq vt	31⅝	30¼	31⅜
Globe Und Ex	14¾	14¼	14¾
Gobel Adolf	5¾	5¼	5¼
Goldman Sachs Tr	44⅞	43⅝	44⅝
Gramaphone Rec	22	22	22
Gt & Agr Tea	275	269	270
Grocery St Prod	14	14	14
Gulf Oil	103⅝	103	103¾
H
Hall Lamp	13⅞	13½	13½
Happiness Candy	1¼	1¼	1¼
Haygart Corp	39¾	39¼	39¾
Helena Rubinstein	7¾	7½	7¾
Horn & Hardart	41¼	40¾	40¾
Hudson Bay	8¾	8¾	8¾
Humble Oil	89¾	89¾	89¾
Hydro Elec Sec	41¾	40¼	41¾

	High	Low	Close
I
Illinois Pipe L	301	300	300
Indian Ter Oil	22⅜	21⅛	22⅛
Indiana Pipe L N	41¾	41¾	41¾
Ind of N A	70	66¾	70
Insull Ut Inv	66	62	65¾
Interconti Pet	1¼	1	1¼
Inter Perfume	8¾	8⅜	8⅜
Inter Pet new	22⅜	22½	22⅜
Int Superior	36⅛	36	36
Int Utilities B	7¾	7¼	7¾
Insul Util p pf	83¼	83¼	83¼
Inter Equities	14¾	14¼	14¾
Italian Sup deb rts	6⅝	5⅝	6
J
Johnson Motor Co	2¼	2¼	2¼
K
Kolster-Brandes Ltd	1½	1½	1½
L
Lake Superior	3	3	3
Lehigh C & Nav	114	114	114
Lehman	76⅞	76⅜	76⅞
Leonard Oil	2	2	2
Lily Tulip Cup	18¾	18⅜	18¾
Louisiana Land	3⅝	3⅜	3⅝
M
Mapes Con Mfg	41	41	41
Mangel Stores	18	18	18
Marine Mid	37⅞	36⅝	36⅝
Mavis Bottl	14⅜	14	14⅛
Memphis N G	11⅝	11½	11½
Mid Cont Laund A	15	15	15
Mid Royalty pf	18⅜	18	18⅜
Middle W Util	28	26⅝	28
do A ww	3	3	3
do B ww	4¼	4¼	4¼
Milgrim Bros	11⅜	10⅜	11⅜
Missouri Pr	19½	19¼	19½
Mo Portland	22¾	22¼	22¾
Mohawk Min	48⅞	48⅝	48⅞
Moody's Pf cv	42⅝	42	42⅝
Mountain Pro	9¼	9¼	9¼
Municipal Ser	10½	10½	10½
N
Nachman Spring	9⅞	9⅜	9⅜
Nat Aviation	10¾	9¾	10¾
Nat El Pwr A	29	29	29
Nat Fuel	35¼	35	35¼
Nat Pw&L pf	107	107	107
Nat Pub S A	24¾	24¾	24¾
Nat Rubber M	22	22	22
Nat Steel	55	55	55
Nat Sug Ref	33	33	33
Nat Disc Pr	73⅝	73⅛	73⅝
Nat Tea Co	7¼	7¼	7¼
Nat Transit	22⅜	22⅛	22⅜
Nat Union	4	4	4
Nevada Cal Ed	58⅞	58⅞	58
New Bread Oil	3	3	3
N E Pwr pf	94½	93½	94½
Newmont Min	120	119	120
Newport ris	¼	¼	¼
N Y Air Invest	24¼	24⅛	24⅛
do war	1¼	1	1¼
N Y Petrol m	16⅛	16⅛	16⅛
N Y Rio & B L	10⅜	10	10
Niag Hud Pow	13⅜	12⅞	13⅜
do A	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
do B	6⅞	6⅝	6⅞
Nipissing Electric	3¼	3¼	3¼
Noranda Mines	34½	34¼	34½
Na Am Aviation	5	5	5
Nor Ind Pub Ser	9	9	9
Novadel Agen	22⅜	22⅛	22⅛
O
Otis El n	70½	66¼	70½
Ohio Oil new	68⅜	67⅝	68⅜
Oklahom G&E pf	106¾	106¼	106¾
Olistocks Lt A	10	9⅝	10
Outboard A	12¾	12⅜	12¾
Outboard B	4¾	4⅜	4¾
P
Pacific W Oil	15	15	15
Pantepec Oil	11-16	11-16	11-16
Pantepec Oil	3¼	3¼	3¼
Paramat Cab	15	14	15
Penn Coal & C	44¾	44	44¾
Pennroad vic	15¾	14⅝	15¾
Petrol Co l pf	22	21⅝	22
Petrol Corp	½	½	½
Phil Beach Part pf	14	14	14
Pressed Metals	24⅜	24⅛	24⅜
Prima Co A	21⅞	21⅜	21⅞
Pitney Bowes	10¾	10¼	10¾
Polymet Mfg	16⅜	16	16⅜
Pow Sec	17	17	17
Pow Sec pf	47	46⅞	47
Prince & Whitley	11⅜	11	11⅜
Prince Whitley pf	38	38	38
Prudential In	16	16⅛	15⅜
Puget Sound pf	99¾	99¾	99¾
Pub Uti	17⅞	16½	17⅞
R
Radio Prod	20	20	20
Rainbow Lu A	15¼	12⅜	13⅜
Ralnb L P B	3¼	3¼	3¼
Reliance Man	18⅞	18⅞	18⅞
Reliance Mgt	19¾	19½	19¾
Reynolds Bros	6	6	6
Reynolds mt pf B	24⅞	23⅞	24⅞
Reynolds Spr	3	3	3
Rike Kumbler	30	29	30
Roan Antelope	28	28	28
Rosenctz Fid Inc	3¾	3¾	3¾
Ross Stores	2¼	2¼	2¼
S
St Regis Paper	21	20¾	21
St Regis Paper pf	114¼	114	114¼
Schulte United	3⅜	3⅛	3⅜
Seeman Bros	43	42⅜	43
Selected Ind	7	6⅞	6⅞
Select Ind 2nd pf	67⅛	67	67⅛
Sentry Control	6⅝	6⅝	6⅝
Shawinigan W	73¼	73	73¼
Sheaffer Pen	53	53	53
Shenandoah Corp	10⅛	10⅛	10⅛
Shenand cv pf	34	33⅜	33⅞
Sierra cv	3	3	3
Silica Gel VTC	19⅜	19⅛	19⅜
Smith A O	165½	165	165
Soc Brit El	34	34	34
Sonora Prod	2¼	2¼	2¼
South Penn Oil	41⅜	41	41
So Cal Ed Pw pf C	101¼	101¼	101¼
South Corp	5½	5½	5½
Southland Roy	12⅜	12⅛	12⅜
S W Bell Tel	117	117	117
Spanish & G rc	1¼	1¼	1¼
St Oil of Ind	53⅝	53	53⅝
St Oil of Kan	35⅝	35⅜	35⅝
St Oil of Ohio	85⅝	85⅝	85⅝
Stand Pw&L	125	125	125
Stand Pw&L pf	101¼	101¼	101¼
Standard Oil Exp	96	96	96
Standard Oil Lead	7	7	7
Starrett pf	37⅜	37⅛	37⅜
Stein Cosmet	10⅞	10⅞	10⅞
Stutz Motor	3¼	3	3¼
Sunray Oil (Del)	2	2	2
Sun Inv pf	40	40	40
Sun Investmac	33¾	33¾	33¾
Swift & Co	134	134	134
Syracuse W B	9¼	9¼	9¼
T
Taggart Corp	21¾	21¾	21¾
Tampa Elect	52	52	52
Thermoid Co	22⅞	22⅜	22⅞
Third Nat Inv	31¾	31½	31¾
Starrett	8½	8½	8½
Todd Shipyards	46	46	46
Trans Air	8¼	8¼	8¼
Trans Lux	5½	5½	5½
Trans America	43¾	44⅛	45
Tri Cont Allied	58	57⅛	58
Tri Cont	13⅞	13⅝	13⅝
do pref	86	86	86
Tung S Stat	28¼	28¼	28¼
Tubize A Stk	160	158	160

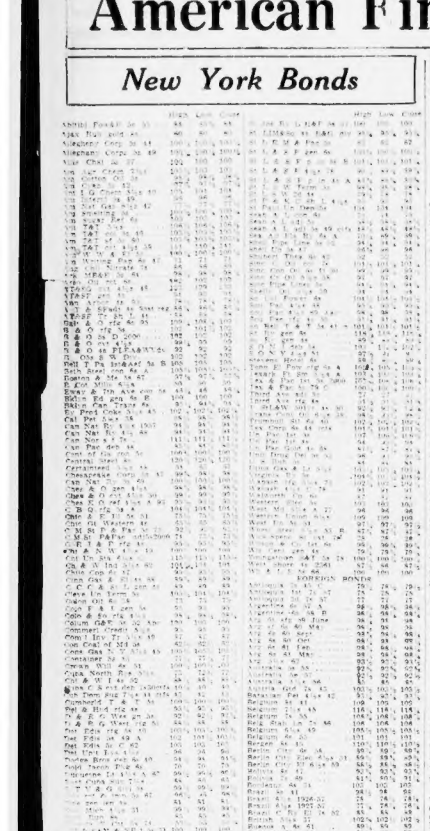
	High	Low	Close
U
Union Tobacco	13½	13⅛	13⅜
Un Carr Fast	17	17	17
Un Corp Dist	10	10	10
Un Gas Co	22⅜	21⅜	22
Un L & P A	27⅞	27¼	27¼
do cv pref	100½	100½	100½
U S Dairy Pr A	52⅝	52½	52⅝
U S Finishing	23¾	23¼	23¾
U S Foil B	20	19½	20
U S Financial	7¾	7¾	7¾
Un Verde Ext	12⅛	12⅛	12⅛
Utility Equit	12½	12½	12½
Util P & L n	16⅜	16⅛	16⅛
Util P & L cl A	22⅜	22⅛	22⅜
Util & Ind pf	27¾	27¼	27¼
V
Vacuum Oil	100¼	100	100¼
Van Camp Pck	15	13	15
Van Camp Pk pf	19¾	19¾	19¾
Venez Pet	2⅜	2¼	2⅜
Vick Financial	7¾	7¾	7¾
W
Walgreen Co	59¾	58½	59⅜
Walgreen war	30½	30	30
Walker H	12½	12¼	12½
W Va Water	1¼	1¼	1¼
Wenden Copp	11-16	11-16	11-16
Willow Caf	9	9	9
Winter Beach	5½	5¼	5¼
Z
Zonite Prods	21¾	20¾	20¾

New York Curb Bonds

	High	Low	Close
Alab Pow 4½s 67	100⅛	100	100⅛
Alumin Co 5s52	101¼	101¼	101¼
Am Agcrcy 8s43	88	88	88
Am Commw Pw 6s57	103⅞	103⅞	103⅞
Am G & E 5s2028	96⅝	96⅝	96⅝
Am P&L 6s2016	103½	103½	103½
Am Roll Mill5s48	105½	105½	105½
Appalach Pow 5s56	97½	97½	97½
Ark P&L5s56	96¾	96¾	96¾
Assn G&E 5½s47	102½	102	102
Atl F & Sug 8s	3	3	3
Asso Tel Util 5½s	102¼	102	102¼
Bell T of Can 5s55	101¼	101¼	101¼
Cent Sts El 5s 48	75	73	75
Cent Sts El 5½s 54	94½	94	94½
Cent Sts P&L 5½s	89¾	89¾	89¾
Childs Co 5s 43	82	82	82
Cities Sts Assn 5½	72¾	72¾	72¾
Cities Serv 5s 66	84¾	84¼	84¾
Cities S G Pl 6s	82½	82½	82½
C S G Pl 5½s52	89	87½	89
Clev Term 6s41	90	90	90
Con G&E L&P 5s F	103	103	103
Consol Text 6s41	94	94	94
Cont G&E 5s A	86½	86¼	86½
Det City Gas 6s B	99¾	99¼	99¼
Det C G 6s A 57	99¾	99¾	99¾
Detroit Edison 5s	101¼	101¼	101¼
Dixie Gulf G 6½s A	64	62	62
El Paso N G 6½s A	99½	99½	99½
Empire G & F 5½s	86	86	86
Fed Wat Rup 5½s	92¾	92½	92½
First Cst Milk 5s	91¼	91¼	91¼
Florida P & L 5s	84¾	83¾	83¾
Gatineau Pw 5s 56	92½	92¼	92¼
Georgia Pow 5s 67	98	97¾	98
Grand Trk 6½s 36	106¾	106¾	106¾
Gulf States 5s 56	96	95	95
HoustonGulfG6sA43	73	70	70¾
HoustnGG&I4s3ww	67	66¾	66¾
IndianaSoGas6s49	65	65	65
Indep Oil&Gas6s39	102¾	102½	102½
Indiana P&L 5s 57	101¾	101¾	101¾
Int PowSecTs E 57	93¾	93½	93½
Intern Sec 5s 47	83¾	83¾	83¾
Iowa No&LtPw5sA57	93	93	93
Kelvinator 6s36 ww	69¾	69¾	69¾
Laclede Gas 5½s 53	99	99	99
Lgh P Sec8s2028A	103	103	103
Libby McN&L 5s 42	92	92	92
Met P&L 6s Ser C	97	97	97
Mass Gas 5½s 46	102	102	102
Mont L H & P 5sA	99¾	99¾	99¾
Nat Pw&L 6s2026	106¼	106¼	106¼
New Eng G&S 5s	91	91	91
NY Pow&L 4½s 67	93¾	93¾	93¾
Niag Falls P 5s 30	106¼	106¼	106¼
Nor Ind Pub 5s 57	97½	97½	97½
Nor St P 6½s g n	102¾	102¾	102¾
PWOri 6½s 43 ww	86	86	86
Penn DW 6s 49 ww	94	94	94
PennOGG 5½s B 59	92¾	92¼	92¾
Pa 6s 59 ww	100	99¾	99¾
Penn P&L 5s D 53-101	101	101	101
Phila El 5s 66	102	102	102
PhilaElPow 5½s 72	105¾	105¾	105¾
Rem Arms 5½s 30	99¾	99¾	99¾
Roch C Pw 5s A 53	79	79	79
Roch G&E 5s B 54	85	85	85
Scripps EW 5½s 43	88	88	88
Shawsheen M 7s 36	96¾	96¾	96¾
Shell U Oil 5s47ww	98¾	98¾	98¾
Southeast P L 6sA 03	103¾	103¾	103¾
South Cal Ed 5s 44	101¾	101¾	101¾
South Cal Ed 5s 55	100¾	100¾	100¾
South Cal Gas 5s 37	90¼	90¼	90¼
Staley Mfg 6s 42	89	89	89
Stand P&L 6s 57	96¾	96	96¾
Texas P&L 5s 56	97½	97½	97½
Tim & Co 6s 44	87¾	87¾	87¾
Un Lt & R 6s A 52	100	100	100
U B Rub 6½s 31	96¾	96¾	96¾
U B Rub 6½s 36	94	94	94
U B Rub 6½s 38	95	95	95
Util P&L 5s ww	84¼	83¾	84¼
Utah P&L 5s	93¾	93¾	93¾
Buenos Aires 5s 52	97½	97½	97½
Ct B Germ 6s B 58	77¾	77¼	77¾
C C Mn Ln 7s A60	87	87	87
Cm & P Bk 5½s 37	83¾	83¾	83¾
Danish Munic 5s 53	97½	97½	97½
Den Munic 5½s 53	98	97¾	98
Ercole Marli 6½s58	80	80	80
Finld Rs MtgB6s61	73½	73¼	73¾
Frankf 7s ext 50	47	47	47
Hambg El 7s 35	99	99	99
Hamb Est6½s§s38	85	85	85
Hanvo Hyd 7s 52A	85	85	85
Italian Supwr 6s63	71	71	71
Ital Super 6s 63 ww	83¼	83¼	83¼
Medellin 7s 51	84	84	84
Para (Brazil) 7s58	75	75	75
Prussia 6s 52	93¾	93¾	93¾
Prussia 6½s 51	89¾	89¾	89¾
Ruhr Gas 6½s A 53	89½	89½	89½
Russia 5½s 21	23	23	23
Russia 6½s 19 cod	5¾	5¾	5¾
Sauda Falls 5s 53 A	98¾	98¾	98¾
Stinnes H 7s 35 w s	80¾	80¾	80¾
Stinnes 7s 46 ww	87¾

American Financial News

New York Bonds



BARNET PLANS NEW BAY STATE CORPORATION

New York, Dec. 14 (AP)—A special meeting of stockholders of Farnet Leather Co. has been called for December 23 to vote on a proposal to form a new corporation under Massachusetts laws to acquire, own and operate the plant at Woburn, Mass., which is now leased by the company.

An increase of 12 per cent in gas sales for October, 1929, over the corresponding month of the preceding year, is indicated by reports to the American Gas Association from companies representing approximately 50 per cent of the industry. On October 31, companies of this group aggregated 9,607,000, an increase of 9.2 per cent over the number on October 31, 1928.

During the month of November construction contracts were awarded to the extent of $391,042,500 in the 37 states east of the Rocky Mountains, according to F. W. Dodge Corporation. These states include about 91 per cent of the total construction volume of the country.

The decline from the October total ($440,642,300) was a little more than $54,000,000, or 12 per cent. The decrease from the November, 1928, total of $471,482,300 was about $80,000,000 or 17 per cent. The New York, Northern New Jersey and Northwest districts were the only ones showing increases over the October, 1929, and November, 1928, totals.

The Johns Manville Corporation has formed the Johns-Manville Sales Corp. in Delaware as the first step in what it announces as the simplification of its corporate structure.

Rail Gains

FRED W. SARGENT
President of Chicago & Northwestern, reporting earnings on common will be about $9 a share for 1929 against $6.62 in 1928. Portrait by Blank-Stoller, Inc., from Int. Newsreel.

No Naval Clemency

Portsmouth, N. H., Dec. 14—For the first time in a number of years there will be no Christmas holiday leave for the naval prison this year.

Textile Mill Sets Example in Saner Labor Relations

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER

NEW YORK, Dec. 14—President Hoover's part in effecting a truce between capital and labor during the present transition in business emphasized the progress that has been made in reducing the habit of striking.

It is perhaps timely to inquire whether strikes, which have become less frequent, are also becoming obsolete. Of course, unless new civilized machinery is substituted for industrial conflict, the change may represent a mere surrender on the part of labor. Happily, some companies are now operation with forward-looking trades unions. Are currently working out a new technique for sensible co-operation between capital and labor.

* * *

The new attitude represents a relinquishment of the old theory that capital and labor were natural enemies. The experiment in co-operation at the Naumkeag Steam Cotton Co. at Salem, Mass., is especially significant because it is taking place in a more or less depressed industry rather than one flushed with high profits. Back in 1927, the company and the union—the United Textile Workers of America—made a peace pact which has of late been tested because the company felt that the higher wages paid was proving a competitive disadvantage. When the company expressed a desire to reorganize and reduce the working staff, the union insisted on more scientific data concerning conditions and prospects than the company then had available.

Accordingly, both sides agreed upon joint research, and called in Francis Gooding, consulting industrial engineer, as chief technician. Progress has been made in safeguarding the interests of the workers without retarding the prosperity of the business. "Any company desiring to adopt the genuine co-operation of its employes must safeguard their jobs," Mr. Goodell pointed out, "and this safeguard is the larger meaning of the experiment. I will venture the guess that no group of American workmen will co-operate in any but a passive manner while the threat of unemployment hangs over every suggested change. In our agreement we have always required that, but not yet demandings an unemployment fund.

"Every company hires people to do something. It is usually granted that it has the inherent privileges to state what they want done. But strangely enough the research department often has considerable difficulty in getting a company to see its own objective clearly.

"Now it is impossible for any body of executives below the rank of the chief executive habitually and automatically to have in mind the genuine welfare of his company unless he is in some way rebuked unless in some way the interests are secured and allied to those of the company. For this reason joint research asks that the organization be structurally correct, that is, that each job should have one individual responsible for its performance, week in and week out, until he is convinced that his own interests are only thus secured and related to the company's."

* * *

John P. O'Connell, secretary and business agent of the United Textile Workers of America, declared that the part played by labor was not a 60 days' breathing spell. In return the employer covenanted to "use every effort to maintain good working conditions, fair wages and continual employment." Machinery was set up for conferences on the part of representatives of the employer and the employee to carry out the program of co-operation. A similar program has been carried on for a number of years by a group of railroads, led by the Baltimore & Ohio.

This industry too has its Kellogg peace pacts, and the absence of any necessary friction is a major factor contributing toward fuller long term prosperity.

* * *

The occurrence of the speculative rally on the Christmas holidays will help fill the stockings of employes of Wall Street firms. Although a few companies indicated intentions to cut bonuses to employes a fuller canvas of the Street indicates that the tendency on the part to make special distributions equal to, if not exceeding, last year's bonus payments. Disbursements will run from 10 per cent to 100 per cent the annual salary. For the most part, however, every suggested change will pay a bonus out of its own funds, instead of out of member contributions, distributing 10 per cent of the salary of employes.

The bonus system which fluctuates somewhat with prosperity and depression, has come really to be figured as part of the inducement for working for Wall Street houses, although employers retain the sole right to determine the amount of the distribution. In spite of the late October-early November debacle, 1929 has been a year of unprecedentedly large brokerage commissions. Those houses which escaped the speculative losses, will close a record breaking year.

Though sometimes posing as the capital of hard facts and brass tacks, Wall Street is really a temple of sentiment. Nowhere are ous brokerage firms before the end of the year will give annual get together parties for their employes. The Stock Exchange itself has a yearly Christmas party, at which floorboys and messengers dance days thrown back to their boyhood days.

Senator Howell has underestimated to precipitate a fight of the relative of [illegible] and [illegible] court's joint resolution he would sought to undo the court's opinion [illegible] which upheld the Interstate Commerce Commission's system of valuations. It is unlikely that Congress and the judiciary will in the last analysis sustain Howell's position which is tantamount to putting the railroads in a less favorable status in respect to property rights than the public utility companies.

New York Produce Exchange Dealings

(Quotations furnished by E. A. Gallagher & Co.)

	High	Low	Last
A C F	29	28	28
A G E	7¾	7½	7½
A G E pf	50	50	50
A G E scrip	122	120	122
All American	14	13	13¾
Amer Fgrs			1
Bagdad	2¾	2½	2¾
Basic Refr	25	24	24
Chatham Phenix	27	25	25
Cities Service	94	91	91
Cities Service pf	91	91	91
Dixon	15¾	15	15¾
East Util A com	42	42	42
Elec Bond & Share	92	92	92
H. Rubenstein	21	20½	20½
Int. Carriers	5	5	5
Ir Trust	56	56	56
Hunting Inv			1
Im Term Tel	10	10	10
Jenkins			3
Lambert			1
Landreau			1
Manhattan new	1	1	1
Pet Coal	1¾	1¾	1¾
Radio new	1¾	1¾	1¾
Railroad shs			1
Shepard Stores	1	1	1
Saldorf	1	1	1
Seaboard	7	7	7
Seaboard Util war			1
Seaboard Fire	15¾	15¼	15¾
Shell	1¾	1¾	1¾
Sheldon	1	1	1
Tri Cont. new	32	30½	31
Tri Cont warr w i	5	5	5
Trans. prussed	1¾	1¾	1¾
Union Fuel	1¾	1¾	1¾
Xenia Gold	1¾	1¾	1¾

AT THE DIAL

BY THE RADIO EDITOR

FAVORITE selections from the lighter classics will be broadcast by the Gold Spot ensemble over WBZ and the NBC system at 6:30 tonight. Harry Hecht directs the orchestra in the following program: Charmaine, orchestra; Thais, and flute's garden, tenor solo; Serenade in G Sharp Minor, two pianos; Love's Old Sweet Song, orchestra; When I Dream of Old Ireland, tenor solo; Ida Moore Shore, orchestra; Country Dance, two pianos; Just Before Roses, tenor solo; Gems from "Sweethearts," orchestra.

TEA for Two with Eunice Taylor and Fred Waldner is a supplementary date will be on the air tomorrow at 4:30 p. m. Eunice and Jackie prepared to be heard from Chicago through WEEI at 9:30 o'clock. Josef Koestner and his orchestra will also be heard in a program of unusual orchestral arrangements of the latest popular composition.

DIXIE ECHOES provide a program of negro spirituals and songs of the plantation, including "I'm a Rollin' Thro' an Unfriendly World," "O Rocks, Don't Fall on Me," and "Sambo Says to Dinah Does You Love Me," in its broadcast over station WNAC and the Columbia System at 8:30 this evening.

WALTER DAMROSCH and the General Electric Orchestra will play in its eighth Glazounow's Symphony broadcast over WEEI and the NBC Coast-to-Coast System at 9 o'clock. The details of the symphony follow: Symphony No. 5, Glazounow. 1 Moderato: Maestoso; 2, Scherzo Allegro; 3 Andante. 4 Allegro Maestoso.

THE SECOND act of Gounod's Faust, performed for the first time this season by the Chicago Civic Opera will be presented by the NBC Blue System from Chicago at 8 o'clock. Edith Mason will appear as Marguerite, Virgilio Lazzari as Mephistopheles and Rene Maison as Faust. The second act includes, among other arias the ballad of Thule," the two duets "Let Me Gaze Upon Thy Beauty and "Oh, Night of Love, Oh Sing to Sky" and "Ah! Hasten Thy Return, My Beloved.

HON. JOHN F. FITZGERALD, E. E. Cive, the Weymouth Post band and a group of stage stars will be heard before the microphone in the Santa Claus broadcast by Crosscup-Pishon Post, American Legion, tonight at 11:00 from WBZ-WBZA. The Legionnaires' midnight broadcast will be of unusual interest as members of families of needy veterans. The Crosscup-Pishons each year during the Christmas season make a drive for gifts of toys, candy, food and funds for their less fortunate buddies and their families. Former Governor Alvan T. Fuller will sing "Silent Night." The Weymouth Post band will play many of the carol numbers which gained it a national reputation, and various specialty acts by legitimate and vaudeville entertainers and radio stars go into the post's Santa Claus party.

Among the artists to appear are Emily McKenzie of "My Maryland" and other New York successes; Ruth Temple, Morton Bowe and Ted Weller, leading radio and former stage personalities; Ray Raymond Hill, Nell Cantor, Allen Kussial, Laurence Thornton, Carl Moore and Billy Paine.

ALESSANDRO NICCOLI, violinist, will broadcast a program from WEEI from 8:00 to 8:30 on Sunday evening. At the age of 11 years he was accepted as a student of the violin at the Royal Institute of Music in Florence. In 1913 Niccoli won the gold medal given by the minister of public instruction of Rome and in 1915 graduated. During 1918 and 1917 he taught at the Royal Institute of Music and was then called into the Italian Army. After the war he spent some time in France, England, and Switzerland. In 1924 he came to Boston and has established himself as a concert violinist and teacher.

CHARLES NAEGELE pianist, and the New York Stanz Quartet, will be featured in the Baldwin program of Sunday evening at 7:30 over WEEI and stations of the NBC chain. The program is as follows:

Finale from Quartet in G Minor Op. 74, No. 3 (Haydn), New York String Quartet; (a) Gavotte in B Minor (Bach-Saint-Saens); (b) Menuet (Handel), the Yankee March (Beethoven-Rubenstein), Mr. Naegele; Waltz in A flat (Brahms-Schwab), New York String Quartet; My Joys (Chopin-Liszt), Mr. Naegele; (a) Serenade (Moussorgsky-Pochon); (b) Orientale (Glazounow), New York String Quartet; Rose Lagoon (Hugo Mansfield), Mr. Naegele.

JESSE CRAWFORD will include in his organ broadcast for the Royal Hour over the Columbia System at 10:00 o'clock Sunday evening a special arrangement of which he calls "Symphonic Fantasy." It consists of the scores of the most famous works of the great composers from Bach to Wagner. Among the numbers are "Minuet in G" (Beethoven), "Moment Musicale" (Schubert), "Unfinished Symphony" and the "Song of Love," based on the "Unfinished Symphony." The broadcast also includes a medley of "Can't We Be Friends," "Piccolo Pete," "Little by Little" and "Satisfied," "Habanera" from Bizet's famous opera "Carmen," "Valencia" and "Sweeter Than Sweet."

PROGRAMS FOR TODAY, TONIGHT ON THE AIR

WNAC, BOSTON—tts W. L. 1230 K. C.

[illegible]

WEEI, BOSTON—502 W. L. 590 K. C.

[illegible]

WBZ, BOSTON—333 W. L. 900 K. C.

[illegible]

WJZ, NEW YORK—454 W. L. 660 K. C.

[illegible]

WTIC, HARTFORD—282 W. L. 1060 K. C.

[illegible]

WCAU, PHILADELPHIA—396 W. L. 1170 K. C.

[illegible]

KDKA, PITTSBURGH—309 W. L. 970 K. C.

[illegible]

WGR, BUFFALO—319 W. L. 940 K. C.

[illegible]

WSB, PORTLAND—319 W. L. 940 K. C.

[illegible]

WHAM, ROCHESTER—286 W. L. 1100 K. C.

[illegible]

WGY, SCHENECTADY—379 W. L. 790 K. C.

[illegible]

N. B. C. Chains

WEAF, NEW YORK—454 W. L. 660 K. C.

[illegible]

Central Stations

WMAQ, CHICAGO—447 W. L. 670 K. C.

[illegible]

WENR, CHICAGO—344 W. L. 870 K. C.

[illegible]

WCFL, CHICAGO—447 W. L. 670 K. C.

[illegible]

WBAP, FORT WORTH—476 W. L. 630 K. C.

[illegible]

WCCO, MINNEAPOLIS—416 W. L. 720 K. C.

[illegible]

KSTP, ST. PAUL—454 W. L. 660 K. C.

[illegible]

WOC-WHO, DAVENPORT—484 W. L. 620 K. C.

[illegible]

WSMB, NEW ORLEANS—319 W. L. 940 K. C.

[illegible]

KTHS, HOT SPRINGS—374 W. L. 800 K. C.

[illegible]

WDAF, KANSAS CITY—365 W. L. 820 K. C.

[illegible]

WOAI, SAN ANTONIO—394 W. L. 760 K. C.

[illegible]

WHDH, BOSTON—261 W. L. 1150 K. C.

[illegible]

New England Points

WEAN, PROVIDENCE—384 W. L. 780 K. C.

[illegible]

WJAR, PROVIDENCE—384 W. L. 780 K. C.

[illegible]

WTAG, WORCESTER—317 W. L. 950 K. C.

[illegible]

WLBZ, BANGOR—268 W. L. 1120 K. C.

[illegible]

WFEA, MANCHESTER—394 W. L. 760 K. C.

[illegible]

WLIT, PHILADELPHIA—395 W. L. 1130 K. C.

[illegible]

WIP, PHILADELPHIA—509 W. L. 590 K. C.

[illegible]

WCAE, PITTSBURGH—462 W. L. 650 K. C.

[illegible]

WMAL, WASHINGTON—469 W. L. 640 K. C.

[illegible]

WRC, WASHINGTON—469 W. L. 640 K. C.

[illegible]

WCAO, BALTIMORE—384 W. L. 780 K. C.

[illegible]

WMAL, BALTIMORE—509 W. L. 590 K. C.

[illegible]

WJAS, PITTSBURGH—462 W. L. 650 K. C.

[illegible]

KDKA, PITTSBURGH—309 W. L. 970 K. C.

[illegible]

WCAU, PHILADELPHIA—396 W. L. 1170 K. C.

[illegible]

WRC, WASHINGTON—469 W. L. 640 K. C.

[illegible]

WMAL

News of Modern Homes

Economical Bungalow, Cost $9600

© P. Chauncey Bolles Architects—Publication Rights Reserved
NATIONAL MODERN HOMES BUREAU Inc.

ATTRACTIVE BUNGALOW, WELL ARRANGED
By National Modern Homes Bureau, Inc.

HERE is a plan showing an economical arrangement of five rooms and bath, all of good size, convenient and comfortable to live in.

A good plan arrangement is the first step in the right direction, in any building and especially under the present cost of construction. Each cubic foot of contained space costs so much money, whether it be in waste corners, halls, etc., or in the rooms where the greatest good is realized.

The large bay window in the dining room, with its long window seat, affords a mighty cozy feature, particularly so when the bay has an eastern exposure admitting the morning sun. There is no doubt that an eastern exposure is preferable to any other, as this room should be cheerful and bright for the morning meal.

A kitchen as found here, would be welcomed by any housewife. Plenty of cupboard and closet space, a sink with double drainboards, good windows, affording plenty of light and air and the ice box out of the kitchen yet located conveniently near by, all these things so much in demand are embodied in this plan.

The bathroom is located between the two bedrooms, each having access to same.

There is a stairway leading to the attic space where two additional rooms could be finished off if desired.

The exterior walls are clapboards painted white, and the roof is stained shingles in shade of green. The shutters may be either blue or orange.

This house, A-95, will fit comfortably on a 50-foot lot, allowing good space for a driveway on one side and ample space between houses on the other side.

The laundry and heating apparatus are located in the cellar, there being a cellar under the entire house.

Cost about $9600.

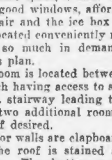
COMPLETE working plans and specifications of the house illustrated above may be obtained for a nominal cost from the National Modern Homes Bureau, Inc. Any technical questions regarding this house will be answered without cost or obligation. Address the National Modern Homes Bureau, Inc., Real Estate Dept., Boston Evening American, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston. Refer to House A-95.

The Fine Points in Homes of Today

By BETTY BONNELL

A NOTED college professor recently made the statement that only one out of every 20 people in this country owns a bathtub. Although his statement is based on statistics, it is doubtful if this fact is generally known or that it will be readily accepted by most of those who hear of it.

Yes, despite the fact that we may be backward in the actual number of bathtubs in this country, it is surprising what progress has been made by modern architects and designers in bathroom design.



Betty Bonnell

If your bathroom is just a little out of date, it will amaze you to learn what changes can be made with little expense. The tub should be completely built in so that it becomes part of the wall and floor. I prefer the tub placed in a corner so that one can use the end wall for placing the shower. However, it's also pleasing to place it in a recessed position with a linen closet at one end and a stall shower at the other.

In placing the shower, be sure that the nozzle is no higher than the neck. This makes it easily adjustable and prevents the hair from becoming wet by the spray. Of course, it's preferable to build a stall for the shower, about three feet square, with a glass door in metal or wood frame.

If you are trying to keep expenses down, you can do no end of wonders at little cost. With such an inexpensive material as hard as plaster, in color, a beautiful effect can be created. Or, if you are disposed to spend a bit more, the effect can be created by wallboard made for that very purpose.

Even waterproofed wallpaper made expressly for bathrooms is to be had. The flooring problem can be nicely met with those new linoleums, rubber, cork and such. And if I may need tell you that tiling in soft tones of blues, greens and yellows, with solid black trimming, creates harmonious color assemblies.

Building Awards Total $7,434,000

Building and engineering contracts awarded in New England during the week ended December 7 totaled $7,434,000, according to the following report of F. W. Dodge Corporation:

	Dec. 10, 1929
Contracts awarded week ended	$7,434,000
Contracts awarded average of previous weeks, 1929	8,681,100
Contracts awarded corresponding week:
1928	8,570,000
1927	7,384,700
1926	6,615,100
1925	7,884,100
1924	7,539,200
1923	7,780,200
1922	4,511,000
1921	4,757,000
1920	3,323,000
1919	2,740,000
1918	2,628,000
1917	784,000
1916	3,477,000
1915	1,645,000
1914	2,103,000
1913	4,481,000
1912	2,227,000
1911	2,240,000
1910	1,832,000
1909	2,553,000
1908	3,338,000
1907	1,178,000
1906	2,177,000
1905	2,079,000
1904	1,623,000
1903	1,886,000
1902	2,665,000
1901	1,022,000

Realty Appraisal Methods Approved

The board of directors of the Los Angeles, California, Realty Board have unanimously endorsed the standards of appraisal practice which were adopted by the National Association of Real Estate Boards as the procedure recommended for realtor appraisers to follow in order to insure sound valuations of real estate.

The Los Angeles board is the first member organization of the national Association to take official action approving the standards of practice. The Boston Real Estate Exchange and the Real Estate Board of Newark, New Jersey, have previously adopted the national recommendations.

REALTY SURVEY IN CHICAGO

Through the Chicago postmaster, the Chicago Real Estate Board has just been enabled to release figures of the city's occupancy and vacancy percentage. The survey, completed by the postmaster and made public through the real estate organization, shows the "Windy City" to have a residential and store area vacancy of 4.7 per cent.

Real estate, building and financial authorities consider this a low vacancy figure. According to the average rate of increase in Chicago population, the city's vacancy percentage is so low that, were construction to be halted, in less than a year and a half increase in population alone would absorb all the building vacancies. The Chicago survey did not include data on loop property.

Data to improve mail delivery service is collected annually by the 2500 Chicago postmen, but this is the first year that the government figures have included occupancy and vacancy statistics and been given to the real estate board to be made public.

The National Association of Real Estate Boards points out that the boards of St. Paul, Minneapolis, Indianapolis, Indiana, and Racine, Wisconsin, have been able to obtain surveys through the co-operation of the postmasters of those cities.

Market District Structure Sold

Final papers have passed in the transfer of the five-story and basement building at 43-44 Market st, 10 Chatham st, from Alfred M. Sexton to Alfred and Helen E. Sears. The deed is recorded for $83,000, of which $74,700 is on the 1485 sq. ft. of land.

The sale was negotiated through C. W. Whittier & Bro.

LITERATURE on standard materials and products used in the construction of Modern Homes will be sent to you, if you will check the subjects that interest you and mail to the National Modern Homes Bureau, Real Estate Dept., Boston Evening American, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston.

Bricks	Metal Lath
Building Stones	Paints
Cement	Plaster
Fireplaces	Pipes
Flooring	Plumbing
Fixtures	Radio
Floor Coverings	Roofing
Furniture	Shingles
Hardware	Stains
Heating	Stoves
Incinerators	Varnishes
Interior Decorations	Enamels
Kitchen Equipment	Steel Casements
Lumber	Tile
Electrical Fixtures

(Copyright, 1929)

PATROLMAN TO DIRECT PLANES ON ARRIVAL

By GEORGE HAMBLIN

Visiting pilots will in the future be greeted as they taxi up to the line by Airport Patrolman Daniel Eldridge, who will welcome them to the Boston Municipal Airport, and explain the system to them, according to an announcement made by Park Commissioner William P. Long's office, where the Boston commercial operators gathered.

The station was brought up when Commissioner Long stated that it appeared undignified for an airport such as Boston's to have three or a dozen attaches of each operating company dash out onto the field as a strange airplane landed, and try to obtain the ship for their respective hangar.

The visiting flyer likes a little attention, to be sure, but is given a wrong opinion of the airport when he is lambasted with questions and suggestions as to where he should park his plane.

In the future, if an airplane's arrival is anticipated, the company or individual expecting the ship will notify the airport superintendent. Albert L. "Eddie" Edson, who will instruct Eldridge where to park the incoming ship.

When a total stranger arrives, he will be greeted by Eldridge, who will then have a register for all kinds of data on the various companies, including the gasoline and oils sold by them, the personnel of ship, outfit, a list of hotels, and the local N. A. A. headquarters. The pilot will then be asked if he has any preference for storage of his ship, and if he hasn't Eldridge will know in which hangar to place the plane.

Each operator will notify the Superintendent if he hasn't any room in his hangar on any day, and at all other times, the operators will be assumed to be able to place any type of airplane.

SURVEY OF FENCE

The fence question was discussed, and, while the fact remains that an iron railing will set each of the new hangars, if these doors can be shown to be used only on rare occasions, the fence will undoubtedly be built around each building.

In the operation of airplanes not regularly housed on the airport, and which come in, pay hangar rate, a record is kept of each of its comings and goings. Any plane owner was asked if he would care to fly a party to New York in his ship, hangar owner not having a plane available at the time. The plane owner agrees, but the party pays a fair short of its destination, in a blinding snowstorm.

There will be a definite person in each company installed as operations officer, checking out all planes and pilots—going in flights, and getting the pilots to sign a slip that they have seen the latest weather reports. This slip then will be turned in to the airport superintendent's office at the close of each day.

And then Crocker Snow, president of Skyways, more or less got permission to keep a gasoline truck on the field, which he doesn't go barging all over the place.

Prof. Rossby, of M. I. T., briefly outlined the plan which is being introduced into the State Legislature, to install a state meteorological service, and operate weather observer stations throughout the state which will send their reports in to the main station. The main idea is under the guidance of Dan Rochford, and will enlarge the present weather service by adding what will be turned in to the airport superintendent's office at the close of each day.

And then Crocker Snow, president of Skyways, more or less got permission to keep a gasoline truck on the field, which he doesn't go barging all over the place.

Prof. Rossby, of M. I. T., briefly outlined the plan which is being introduced into the State Legislature, to install a state meteorological service, and operate weather observer stations throughout the state which will send their reports in to the main station. The main idea is under the guidance of Dan Rochford, and will enlarge the present weather service by adding stations of state funds, until such time as the Federal Government can raise enough funds to take over the stations.

DENNISON ACTIVE

From Dennison Airport we learn that despite the cold weather of the past week, 24 hours of flying was rung up. Kurt Carstens made the latest limited commercial licensed pilot, and a graduate of the Dennison flying school, dropped off on a cross-country flight with Art French, also a former Dennison football star, in the latter's Waco.

The flight was made for training purposes, and the course took the boys to Providence, Mansfield and Brockton. Kurt and "Art" flew entirely by compass and map, and made landings in all three places. They grabbed a bit of fog and sleet Wednesday with no ill effects. Greene as instructor. We forgot to mention that Paul Wilcox is instructing the Harvard aviation course, and that stereopticon flines will be used in the meetings from now on.

Full returns on last night's aviation dance have not been received, but everybody seems to have had a good time.

Gift Suggestions

REPOSSESSED
FUR COATS
$25, $50 to $100
FOR MEN AND WOMEN
Converted Dress Now Bautiful For Coats, INCLUDING ENGLISHMODEL to be sold to non-interested parties, including plush. Boston Sr. Cutter, 2nd floor, Harvey Hi. Roberts, Tel. Service 7286 for appointment. Private residence

Xmas Club. The ideal Gift for all members of the family. Jamaica Plain Trust Co., 677 Centre St., Jamaica Plain. Tlain, and 1670 Centre Sq., W. Roxbury.

Buy Direct from Factory! Dolls, Toys, variety of Children's Vehicles. Small capital will hold all Xmas. BOSTON BABY CARRIAGE MFG. CO.
$1.00 up. 810 Washington St., Boston

$10--Fur Coats Relined--$10
EVERYTHING FURNISHED REMODELING 40% LESS. DOLAN & SON, 25 TEMPLE PL. LIB. 8042

BEAD—Restringing and designing, 726 Washington St., Room 310. Hanover 7286

RELIGIOUS Xmas Cards, rosaries, prayer books, calendars, crucifixes and statues. Thomas J. Flynn, 62-64 Essex St.

Real Estate

HOUSES FOR SALE

NOW IS THE TIME
To Invest In CO-OPERATIVE BANK SHARES
Right now, and all the time! Co-operative Bank Shares are always at Par. Investigate the merits of this form of Investment. Absolute certainty of a fair return on your investment. Paid-Up Shares in Multiples of $200. Never paid less than 5%. Partly Matured Shares on monthly payment plan, 1 to 40 shares per person. Last dividend rate 5¼% per annum, compounded quarterly.
Merchants Co-Operative Bank
24 School St.
Boston, Mass.

$800 UNDER COST. W. ROXBURY
Two nearly new 5-room bungalows, Brook and Mobil, each $200 down, $35 and $40 monthly. All city improvements, very attractive, good neighborhood, 2 miles to transportation. Must be sold this week; owner leaving city. H.-M. Realty Co., 1 Beacon st.

Roslindale Bargain
Must sell 8-room house, all tmpts., fine barn, slate roof, screened piazza, garage; located at 26 Eastborne st., Fkway 0500-M.

$200 Down—New 5-rm. Bungalow,$8200
Open Sunday, 57 walk; 6-15, Sutter Associates.

EAST MILTON TERRACE—Bungalow, $8250-built 1 year, 6 rms., fireplace, open attic, large living rm. with open fireplace, bookcases, gumwood dining room, doors, select oak floors, at rear, granite steps, front and rear, connected on city, inished street, near transportation. Builder and owner, Granite 8885-W.

LOTS FOR SALE

$32, Good Home Site, 4000 Ft.
Only 2 to a customer, small payments. 0-15. Bus to Americus.

FARMS AND LAND FOR SALE

EQUIPPED FARMS—Business changes, easy terms. Harold Armory, 815-B, Old South Bldg., Boston, Mass.

HOUSES FOR RENT

EAST WEYMOUTH—New 7-rm. house, w. heat, fireplace, $90. 75 Sea View av.

REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES

P. E. HOVEY, second mortgage money on city, 53 State st., Fkway 0500.

2D MORTGAGE money waiting. Alan Mortgage Co., 18 Tremont St., Rm. 810. Hub. 2948.

ROOMS WITHOUT BOARD

523 MASS. AVE.
Pleasant furn. rms., homey atmosphere, rates reas., handy loca. Com'wealth 3580.

FURN. ROOMS, 16 Glenville Ave.; Beck 8004.

BACK BAY—Large, square, sunny room for gentleman; near bath. Ken. 6462.

CAMBRIDGE—Sunny room, large furn. room, 2nd floor, near bath. Uni. 10526.

DUDLEY 87, 587—Furn. rms., also light lokpg. rms.; reas. prices.

STONEHAM—Front heated room, priv. family, reas. 24 Summer Hill Pl.

37 W. Newton St. Every room a front room; $6, $7, $8 week. Use phone. Telephone in every room. Private baths. Ken. 7806.

DEATHS

ROSNOSKY—In Brookline, William, beloved husband of Rebecca Myers Rosnosky; son of Mrs. Caroline Levenberg, Mrs. Mollie Seiden, and Bertrand H. Rosnosky. Funeral services at his late residence, 84 Fuller St., Brookline, Sunday, afternoon at 2 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited. New York City and Cleveland, O., papers please copy.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

J. S. Waterman & Sons
Funeral Directors
497 Commonwealth Ave., Boston

PERSONALS

WILLIAM AMATO—Mother very ill; wells or telephone home at once. Mother.

LOST AND FOUND

$100 REWARD
For the recovery of 1929 Model 3-ton Mack Truck, Engine No. 6-C-2434, Serial No. A-5333, Massachusetts registration No. B-5084.
Truck is property of Cushman's Fruit Terminal Market, Monday, Dec. 2, around 4 A. M.
Signed JAS. HESLAM CO.
Pittsburg Mass. Phone 6740 or 645-7.

FOUND BY POLICE
Male police dog; fox terrier, red sleeves; female mongrel dog; Mohawk setter; line on one side 32x6; male black and white mongrel dog. Call Miss James Liberty 4000.

EVENING BAG LOST
Small, at or near Cocoanut Grove, Saturday evening. Reward. Melrose 1837.

LOST—Airedale-Collie, in North Eastham, Mass.; will party who picked up dog on Sunday, Dec. 8, please communicate with JESSIE NOCOCK, 1111 Boylston st., Kenmore 5000, or 1 Gainsborough st., Fenway 3100.

DOG LOST—Male Scotch collie, New 69, Reward. Telephone Highlands 4700.

LEARNING Lost, long silver, crystal earring, Friday, Dec. 6. Reward. Stadium 0847.

RING LOST—Man's diamond, Dec. 17. Reward. Call Quincy Adams Cafeteria, Han. 8172.

RING LOST—Small diamond ring, gold setting; valuable as keepsake; reward. Call Miss Carper, Ken. 5000.

WATCH LOST—White gold, with pearl bracelet; reward Blackstone 3085-W.

LOST—In Boston, Saturday afternoon, Dec. 7, a black and white mongrel dog, answering to name of Peggy. Reward for return to 1 Gainsborough st., Fenway 3100.

LOST—In Boston, Saturday afternoon, containing license, registration, and keys of owner; reward. Wire Newton 0390-W.

LOST—Pocketbook, about 10 o'clock Saturday morning, Dec. 7, on Tremont st., between Mattapan car; reward. Milton 0978.

REWARD—Female Airedale, 2 years old, Dec. 10, in Brookline. Aspinwall 1681.

BEAUTY AIDS

HAIR COLORING
Is Your Hair Streaky or Faded? Let Me Restore to An Even Shade
$5 PERMANENT $5
WINTER ST., ROOM 1010
Look Carefully on Door Before You Enter
KAP. 2840 10th Floor

HAIR Do ladies' faces permanently removed. No Pain or Scars. Physicians' references. MISS KELLY SUPPORT 123 Tremont St. Rm. 310. Hanover 7286

SPECIAL FOR DECEMBER
Finger Waves, Marcel or Water Wave, with Shampoo or Manicure $1
Beverly Studio 9 Hamilton Place Room 39; Lib. 8138

STUDLEY BEAUTY SCHOOL—Thorough training in every branch; expert teachers; 8 studs; moral, $90, day hours. Send for cir. We help place students. 125 Tremont St., Rm. 303, Cos. 3848.

CHILDREN TO BOARD

BROOKLINE—Motor trips to and from best of schools; reasonable rates. Beacon 1000.

WANTED—Little girl to board in private home. Protestant. Call Ken. 6462.

WANTED—Children to board, by hour, day, week or month; reasonable rates. Call Ken. 6462.

WILL board infant with mother; nursing supplied. Also every child given expert care. Ken. 7806.

ROOMS FOR HOUSEKEEPING

BEACHMONT—3 warm, sunny rms. & bath, $40. Open Sat. & Sun. Revere 0245-R.

CAMBRIDGE—Furn. rooms, bath, w. heat, 91 Pleasant st. Uni. 4847-M.

DORCHESTER—Sunny, large, regular kitchen; no children. Reas. Ash. 0.

INMAN Sq.—Furnished, unfurnished, steamer, baths, furnished, reas. 11 Hogan pl. Uni. 4966.

INMAN Sq.—Furnished, unfurnished, steamer, baths, furnished, reas. 11 Hogan pl. Uni. 4966.

UPHAM CORNER—Heated 5 rms. and basement kitchen; also single rm. reas. 782 Dudley st. Uni. 4966.

WALPOLE—2 furn. rms., gas stove, heat free; modern. Sun. 8155-R after 4.

WEST ROXBURY—Large, sunny, heated room, suitable for 2; also single room; privileges, bath, steam heated, reas. Attention 4975-M.

656-658 TREMONT ST.—1 room, kitchenette, also basement living room, with bath; 1 rm. first flr. water, gas, reas.

107 N. ST.—1-2 furn. heated rms., also 1 rm. suite, south facing. Beacon 2670-M.

TWO uniurn. rms. and wintersuite; heat, gas and elec. supplied. Monitor 3065.

FURNISHED APARTMENTS

3 WORCESTER SQ.
Newly renovated heated furnished 3-4 room apts., with private baths, private entrance. Inquire Janitor.

CHARLESTOWN—Unfurn. 4 rms., bath, $30. Furn. 3 rms., bath, $35. Chas. 2127-W.

QUINCY—2 large furn. rms., kitchenette, $35; steam heat, hot water, free. 83 Granite Ave.

ROSLINDALE—2 furn. rms., gas stove, heat free; modern. Sun. 8155-R after 4.

Suite 10.

SOMERVILLE—2 furn. rms., gas stove, heat free; modern. Sun. 8155-R after 4.

UNFURNISHED APARTMENTS

ROXBURY $30
Reduced, 8 sunny rooms; Regent 1292-R.

ALLSTON—Near Cook's in Ave., 5 rms., tmpts. Apply 56 Wm. Brooks st.

BOSTON—94 West Brookline St., 4 rms., tmpts. Apply 56 Wm. Brooks st.

DORCHESTER—Meeting House Hill, 4 rms., all tmpts. 434 Bowdoin st. Col. 4377.

MATTAPAN—4 rms., new house, tmpts all; hot water, conversion. Dor. 1000, field. Md. 8047.

MATTAPAN—Near 3-4 rooms, all tmpts., gas, electricity, $30. Mel. 0094.

MEDFORD—Five fam. 1st new 5 rooms, tmpts., hard wood floors, garage. Mys. 1345-R.

MEDFORD—33 Logan Ave., 6-rm. upper apt., all tmpts., $50. Mystic 0349-W.

ROSLINDALE—Near Forest Hills, 4 rms., all tmpts., $30. Mystic 0349-W.

ROXBURY—165 Marcella st., 4 rms., all tmpts., $30. Mystic 0349-W.

ROXBURY—28 Dean st., 5 rms., all tmpts., new, $50. 1530 Tremont st.

ROXBURY—Large 4 rms., bath, $38. Open to-day. Directions, 805 Huntington.

ROXBURY—Sunny 3-4 large rms., tmpts., gas, electricity, $16-$17. Geneva 1959.

ROXBURY—3 rms., all tmpts., w. heater, $38. 51 Copeland st. High. 7668.

ROXBURY—Ferdinand Sq. IMPROVEMENTS. 288 BUGGLES ST. HIGH. 4781.

SOMERVILLE—Sunny attractive modern apt., all tmpts., $50. Somerville 3334-W.

322-326 Commonwealth Ave., Newly remodeled 3-room apts., tiled baths, refrigeration. East Boston 1120. Jane Roberts.

TENEMENTS—2-3-4-5 rms., $16 to $22. 1 to 5 Ready. 1182 Wash. st. Back Bay 7010.

TRUCKING—STORAGE

AUTO TRUCKING—Providence, etc., Carroll Trucking Co., 18 Tremont St. Hub. 9880.

SPECIAL NOTICES

MR. AND MRS. JOHN J. HORIGAN, 1171 Hyde Park ave., South Boston, announce the birth of a son born Friday, December 13th. MR. HORIGAN WISHES TO COMMEND THE CITY HOSPITAL FOR THE PROMPT AND EFFICIENT SERVICE.

W. H. DRISCOLL & CO.
177 MILK STREET, BOSTON
Member of Boston Curb Exchange
Boston Grain Exchange
HUBBARD 4067

DERMATOLOGY

FACE and FEATURE EXPERT
Features, Face Sag and Blemishes Corrected
Dr. Edith M. D.
Hanover 1389
100 Boylston St. Room 829, Boston

MEDICAL

FREE, X-RAY
Examination, consultation and trial treatment absolutely free to all who will before Dec. 22nd. The wonderful power of the X-ray to correct many slight treatment is proved by the fact that they are successfully treating thousands of cases of goiter, etc., no matter what your disease may be remember, Dr. Bond, 100 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays and holidays 10 A. M. to 1 P. M. Closed Sundays and holidays.

HELP WANTED—FEMALE

WOMAN 30-40 FOR HOUSEKEEPER family of 2 adults, good home for right person, wages $8. Weymouth 1044-W.

HELP WANTED—MALE

EXPERIENCED SOLICITORS
Men and women, full or part time, to solicit subscriptions for monthly, big paying; year around proposition. New York Evening Post, 1819 Washington St., 2d floor, opposite B. H. White.

AGENTS—SALESMEN

SALESMEN WANTED
to sell famous PEPPERELL SHIRTS. Apply Room 408, 120 Tremont st.

MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE

ONE CAR GARAGE, $125
All ready to build.
Shingles, nails and hardware can be had at a big saving. Now is the time to winterize and increase the value of your property. Write
L. GROSSMAN SONS
130 Granite St., Quincy, Granite 7100

FURS

HUNDREDS OF remodeled high-grade FUR COATS for Ladies and Gents, $25, $35, $45 up. All sizes. Latest models. LOUIS ASAF, 197 Tremont st., Room 1, Boston, 1 min. from Metropolitan Theatre

SEWING MACHINES

SEWING MACHINES—Whites, Singers, New Home, Standard, etc., $7 up; rent terms, guaranteed. Repair all makes machines, bicycles, guns. White Sewing Machine Co., 817 Boylston St. B. B. 7660

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

SAXOPHONE—Silver plated gold bell, practically new reasonable. Cooley 2843-R.

500 PIANOS, $25 up; $5 monthly. Brooks, 219 Summer St., over Marvinos.

A car needs a home. Have you a garage for rent? Tell about it and give location in the Want Rent Ads. That's the way to fill it.

Automobiles and Accessories

1927 Pontiac Coach
$495
CAMBRIDGE MOTOR CO.
215 MASS. AVE., CAMBRIDGE
University 4100

'27 Ford Sedan $135
Seldom will you find a car nearly as good for the price. Motor, tires, paint excellent.
CENTRAL AUTO SALES, Inc.
91 Mass. Ave., Cambridge
Opp. Technology Porter 1337

1928 Chevrolet Coach $125
Down
Balance $5 weekly
Motor, finish perfect; tires like new; mohair upholstery; 4 wheel brakes; Lovejoy shock absorbers; winter front and outer cowl; Harvey-Deveau, 60 Boylston st., Kenmore 6000

1928 Buick Sed. Sedan
Owner of three, is in splendid shape throughout. Any responsible party can have it for $25 down. Terms to suit. Call 1000 Commonwealth ave., Allston, or Kenmore 6000.

—Ask About Our Red + Values—

WANTED

A car of Automobile for CASH. Drive them right over. Quick action to all makes. Call 636.
H. C. S. MOTOR CAR CO., 126 Main st. Malden. Tel. 3441 and 3500 Malden.
Weed Pneumatic Truck Chains
A size in stock; 40 other tire sizes. Associated Tire Co., 321 Fleet st., corner North Washington and Causeway.

CHEVROLET COACH, 1929
Odometer; perfect condition; reason for selling, 2 cars in family. Call Lowell 845. 600 Washington st., between Central and Gorham sts.

CASH FOR YOUR CAR
Why Look Elsewhere? BIG PAYS MORE. 1145 Tremont st., Roxbury. Tel. Ger. 8780.

MONEY TO LOAN

LOANS
Up to $300
Our Service Is QUICK—COURTEOUS—PRIVATE
Small monthly payments of $2 to $5, plus legal interest, on loans of $10 to $300. No fees or charges in connection. Call, write or phone.

BOSTON
BENEFICIAL LOAN SOCIETY
License No. 72
32 TREMONT STREET
Room 1001, Tremont Bldg.
RATMARKET 2-0-3-8

CAMBRIDGE
Personal Finance Company
License No. 71
535 MASSACHUSETTS AVE.
Room 205, Abbott Building
PORTER 2-0-7-0

BROOKLINE
INDUSTRIAL BANKERS OF BROOKLINE, INC.
License No. 160
269 HARVARD STREET
Room 12, Coolidge Corner Building
ASPINWALL 6-0-6-3

SOMERVILLE
PERSONAL FINANCE COMPANY
License No. 70
WEST SIDE OF DAVIS SQ.
Room 4, Parks Sons Building
SOMERSET 2-3-2-6

DORCHESTER
BENEFICIAL LOAN SOCIETY, INC.
License 68
261 DUDLEY STREET
Room 4, Second Floor
COLUMBIA 6-3-5-0

PRIVATE LOANS
$10 to $300
TO FURNITURE AND AUTO OWNERS WITHOUT INDORSERS OR HOME BUYERS
We are licensed and bonded to loan money as legal rates to men and women whose banks will not accommodate.
Borrow $100, pay back $8.00 monthly
Borrow $200, pay back $15.00 monthly
Borrow $300, pay back $12.00 monthly on principal
NO DELAY, NO INDORSERS, NO FEES
Call, write or phone for application blank.
NATIONAL LOAN SOCIETY
43 TREMONT ST., BOSTON
Lic. RC ROOM 501 Hanover 4223
685 MASS. AVE., CAMBRIDGE
License 317 ROOM 4 Malden 6655

Money for Xmas
Have you relatives, friends, neighbors and all other worthy people? Get their names on our list and we pay cash. Repay back in small monthly payments. Call, write or phone.
Security for ordinary Household Furniture, Pianos, Autos, etc.
Call, write or phone.
NEW ENGLAND EQUITY CORP.
433 Washington st., Boston
4th Floor LIB. 1336 LIC. 87
Open Saturdays 9 A. M. to 1 P. M.

$50 to $5000 loaned on furniture or autos; no indorsers; no fees; pay back in small monthly payments. Call, write or phone.
BOSTON FINANCE CO.
119 SUMMER ST. LIC. 126. LIB. 7548
15 SCHOOL ST. LIC. 1126. LIB. 7548
LOANS over $300 to high-class salaried people made at above rates without security or indorsers. Boston Investment Company, 101 Tremont St., room 1115.

IF you cannot borrow what you want elsewhere, call, write or watch, for C. E. RANSOM, 1 Salem St., Boston. Est. 1885. Courteous and honest service.

YOUR AUTO PAYMENTS TOO LARGE? Let us reduce them; more cash advanced. Atlas Finance Corp., 820 Commonwealth ave., Boston. Tel. Ken. 6000. Low rates; long space; near Kenmore Sq.

WORCESTER LOAN ASS'N
Main St. Est. 1888
BEACON ST. BRANCH
$300 OR OVER to business men only; no red tape, no delays. Room 1007, 10 Court St.

AUTOMOBILE LOANS, $100 OR OVER. LARGEST COMPANY. LAWFUL RATES. FIDELITY SECURITY CO., 227 PARK SQ. BLDG., HANCOCK 2015. LIC. 178

LOANS on autos or furniture. Fair rates, quick service. Public Finance Corp., 491 Stuart st. Ken. 8707. Lic. 1252

$20 to $50 Down Buys
1929 Durant Sedan ..$550
Very good condition
1928 Paige Sedan.... 650
1927 Chevrolet Coach.. 195
Thoroughly reconditioned; guaranteed; terms arranged
1925 Essex Coach.... 95
1925 Hudson Coach.. 135
World Sales Corp.
201 Mass. Ave., Cambridge
Phone Porter 3139

HUDSON BROUGHAM SACRIFICE
Must sell this car because of business reverses. Done every 24,000 miles. Easy terms. Can be seen at 231 Fleet st., Boston, Mass. Call evenings from 7 to 9.

1926 BUICK MASTER SEDAN
Duco finish, perfect condition, 5 wire wheels, 5 tires, 4 Houdaille shock absorbers. Call Monday, A. M. 1927 Chevrolet Coach. Low mileage, perfect condition. Cash or terms. Walker Indian Co., 1369 Boylston st.

AUTOMOBILE STORAGE

DEAD STORAGE $3 MONTH
Call Columbia 0729 or Geneva 9180. We do the rest. Large garage, 24-hour service and we never keep anyone waiting.

LOCKED STORAGE
Private rooms, heated. $5 mo. Room 500 cars. 25 Irvington st. Ken. 0634.

AUTOMOBILE SCHOOLS

$9 WE GUARANTEE TO TEACH YOU TO DRIVE IN 1 DAYS
437 Tremont St. Cap. 3677
DANCING

2 LESSONS $1
MODEL
SCHOOL OF MODERN DANCING
MISS FAWCETT MISS HOYT
177 HUNTINGTON AVE.
TEL. BACK BAY 6153

"MY REPUTATION is your PROTECTION"
PROF. RITTER
230 TREMONT ST. Capitol 4810
BALLROOM Guaranteed to 4 LESSONS
4 STAGE DANCING
Day and Eve. Self Inst. Booths. LIBERTON
5 PRIVATE LESSONS $2
& CLASS
BALLROOM LATEST STEPS
Beginners ARE SURE Here to LEARN
FLORENCE KELLY
SCHOOL OF MODERN DANCING
240 HUNTINGTON AVE., B. B. 2307

WM. H. O'BRIEN 295 HUNT. AVE.
A Private Lesson $1. 10 A. M. to 10 P. M.
CLASSES TUES.—THURS. 8 TO 11
TAP DANCING. Direction George Hazzard

$1 PRIVATE LESSONS $1
MISS PAULINE STARR
MUSIC BOX 234 Huntington Ave. Opp. Symphony Hall. Kenmore 7230

STUDIO DE DANCE OF NEW YORK CITY
1038 BOYLSTON ST. COM. 7722
BUSINESS BALLET STAGE BALLROOM CLASSES

LOOMIS 51 MASS. AVE.
KENMORE 3733
1½—2 hour class lessons $5. Private lessons, modern and stage, day or evening

FUEL

COKE, $15 per ton, all sizes or stove, delivered. Call Ken. 6462.

DOGS—CATS—PETS

FOREMAN PINSCHER, good, weak dog; responsible home. Cooley 519. Crescent Hill Ave., Arlington.

PEKINGESE, puppy 2 mos., male, blue ribbon stock; rear if sold at once. 283 Cambridge st., Brookline. Longwood 1419-M.

WEST HIGHLAND white terriers, registered; A. K. C. P. Lee, Wayland, Mass. Tel. 75-3.

25 PRETTY pups, all breeds; $10 apiece. 1 Wheeler st., Cambridge, Mass.

TOURS AND TRAVEL

TRAVEL BAY STATE LINE PROVIDENCE. Leave Boston, 7 P. M. Daily, Sundays 4 P. M. From Bay State Line Pier, Point Judith, Providence. Tickets & Staterooms at South Sta. Back Bay & Consolidated Ticket Offices. Boston

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office at Boston, Mass., under the Act of March 3, 1879. Also at the Postoffice Department, Ottawa, Canada.

Published daily (except Sunday). Washington Square, Boston 9, Mass., by Hearst Boston Publishing Co. Newspaper Publishing Company.

Domestic rates (Subscription by mail), payable in advance: One Month $1.00; One Month $1.50 Sunday; One Year $6. Foreign rates: One Month $1.50; One Month $2.00 Sunday; One Year $18. Single copy 2c. Postage extra per copy to the Boston Postal District. Subscriptions must be paid in advance.

The Boston Evening American assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements, nor for omissions in the insertion of advertisements. It requests that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs. Advertisers will please notify the management immediately of any error which may occur.

MEMBER ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for reproduction of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published herein. All rights of reproduction of special dispatches herein are reserved.

EDITORIAL PAGE
DECEMBER 14, 1929

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

LARGEST EVENING
CIRCULATION IN NEW ENGLAND

Concord's Lighting Plant

The Edison Company Yearns for It

ONE of many commendable characteristics of the Edison Illuminating Company of Boston is that once having determined upon an objective it will not be turned aside.

Old John Public, contrariwise, is given to letting his eye wander from the ball.

Undaunted by last Spring's adverse vote, the Edison Company persists in an attempt to capture the light and power business of Concord.

It has come forward with a proposal to sell electricity to the municipal plant it could not buy.

Still willing to pay $600,000 for the Concord enterprise, Edison is barred by a provision of the law which says the proposition cannot be renewed until three years have elapsed.

Of the three members of the Town Lighting Board, TWO oppose the contract now suggested, which gives the town the option of selling to Edison at the end of the three-year interval.

The majority would have the town spend $38,500 for enlargement and improvement, holding that this expenditure will enable Concord to produce electricity as cheaply as it can be bought at wholesale.

Three thousand voters are to decide the question—again—at a "special" town meeting on Monday evening.

The Edison Company has every right to add Concord to its list of customers if it can, every right to buy a municipal plant if the owners are willing to sell.

But we should think the zeal of the corporation might open the eyes of Concord folk to the value of their monopoly in light and power, and suggest that if they will but hang on for a time the plant will be showing an annual profit of proportions.

The example of Holyoke, Taunton, Marblehead and other Massachusetts communities may well encourage Concord to stand pat.

Only a Teamster

Short Story of a Man Who Every Year Observes 52 Be-Kind-to-Animals Weeks

IF Thomas F. Collier does not have a comfortable and hopeful Christmas—you can't be happy laid up with what Mr. Collier calls a "bum" foot—there IS no Santa Claus.

All we KNOW of Thomas is what we have been told by police reporters, than whom there are no young men more dependable.

Mr. Collier is a teamster. Thrown from his seat in a Kneeland Street collision with a taxicab, policemen found him suffering from many bruises and the "possible fracture of a bone in the foot." The horse was injured, too.

An ambulance was on the scene almost immediately. The teamster would have none of it.

"Not until you blanket my horse," he said.

They told him the S. P. C. A. had been sent for and that someone" would take care of the gray.

"Oh, yeah?" said the injured man, "well I'm the boy that takes care of 'Jerry,' and I don't take no ride in no ambulance until he IS blanketed, at least. Man, don't YOU know it is only 20 above?"

So the police ambulance waited until the S. P. C. A. van arrived and "Jerry" was not only blanketed but carted away.

Then and not until then, a driver whose "bum foot" may trouble him for months was taken to the City Hospital.

IT YOU see Santa before WE do, be so good as to tell him that Tom Collier, 48, married, lives at No. 127 Park Street, Dorchester.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 14 — Manhattan memories: . . . Burns Mantle landing from Chicago with a football crop of hair. . . . The 15-cent whiskey sours at the old Astor House. . . . Grantland Rice's Tennessee accent. . . . The midget cigarette seller with the roaring voice at the Campus restaurant.

Earl and Marcelle Carroll's tiny two-room flat. . . . Lillian Lorraine swinging out over the New York roof audiences. . . . Max Marx, the Broadway stutterer. . . . The sports who tried to be first at McGowan's Pass Tavern in a sleigh for the magnum of champagne prizes. . . . Nat Goodwin's table at the Claridge.

The all night stay-outs who haunted Joel's. . . . Mae Murray dancing at Sans Souci. . . . Lew Cody's apartment at Murray's. . . . Mrs. McFadden's boarding house on West 72d st. where guests "dressed" for dinner. . . . The newspaper crowd at the Marlborough Hotel bar.

Roy Howard "doing Broadway" for the Scripps-McRea League. . . . Digger Miles Salter's in Chinatown. . . . Visiting ball players in front of the Ansonia. . . . The Monday afternoon audience at Zimmerstein's. . . . James Gordon Bennett sneaking in from Europe to fire the Herald staff.

The sensation when the Ritz opened and permitted ladies to smoke in the bid dining room. . . . Tom Healy's on Saturday night. . . . James Montgomery Flagg's apartment on West 67th st. . . . Pat and Bob Brinkerhoff's spare rib dinners. . . . Lillian Russell's big black velvet picture hat.

Kathleen and Charles G. Norris' at—talk up three flights, ring broken's bell. . . . Clare Briggs' on Harry Staton clowning at the cubby poker games. . . . And Dr. George Dorsey's picturesque language. . . . Charlie Somerville starting Park Row with a gold headed cane.

Eddie Dunn's sky-rocket vests. . . . Harris Merton Lyon's devastating cynicism. . . . James Murray Allison's city slicker mustache. . . . Rube Goldberg's act in vaudeville. . . . Si Goodfriend, the press agent with a silk hat. . . . The Sunday night theatrical crowd at Browne's chop house.

Life isn't quite tough enough it appears. A new cafe is abolishing hat checking by placing a 25 cent service charge on every dinner check.

No matter what the service charge, so long as a pretty girl extends her hand palm up America will gallantly tip and grouch about it afterward.

A new how-do-do is being tried out by ladies of the evening. When they step out of the taxi at home, they suddenly discover they have lost a pocketbook or fur piece. The gentlemanly sucker makes the futile search and shakes his head. Comes the storm! The very pliable lady grows taut and there is the inference she will disturb the still night with a shrill scream that will bring a gendarme. So a settlement is made for a couple of hundred dollars or so and the bewildered gentleman goes his way.

Broadway's credo as hallelujahed in a musical comedy: "A girl is no stronger than her weakest moment."

There is always arresting drama around New York at dawn. The other morning I looked out a bedroom window as a pinl. was flushing the sky. Diagonally across the street a 6-ix limousine purred at the curb. A gentleman inside was furtively scanning the upper windows. After awhile a slim hand protruded and motioned the car back and it silently edged off a short space. Soon a veiled lady came tip toeing out of the front door and into the car. And it shot away.

In a German section of Yorkville a door sign reads: "Button does not bell. Bump."

(Copyright, 1929, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Give the Kid a Hand -:- -:- By T. E. Powers

The BAER Facts

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

THE latest Ford joke is on the boys who ain't working for him.

Henry doesn't care for history unless its dates are pay days.

When he spends his money for rare paintings he insists that the paint goes on flivvers.

All he knew about the alphabet was a model T.

He turned out almost fifteen million of those bouncing bungalows. Then he switched his blue-prints and made a car that revolutionizes grade-crossings.

When the unanimity days arrived in October, and the tickertape turned to barbed wire, Henry just laughed in his gear box.

The industrial world was skidding on its hubs when Mr. Ford threw in his clutch and added twenty million dollars to the payrolls of a nation.

He raised every man's salary to seven certificates a day, which is a better tonic than that forbidden by the eighteenth amendment.

If an army carpenter got seven dollars a day his hammer would rise and thump faster than the bill of a hungry woodpecker.

They said that Henry was interested in holidays. You give a sailor seven dollars per diem and he will hate holidays.

Ford has taken a step in the right direction in seven-league boots.

The very act of raising a payroll twenty million dollars makes your imagination shimmy.

We would like to be that kind of a man. He is king with crown fenders.

That gift is enough to make a Christmas stocking get the mumps.

There are no reindeer on Henry's sleigh. He uses a truck.

If your flivver develops a body squeak next summer you can be proud of it. It was put in there by happy working men.

Regard it less as a complaint and more as the twittering of contented canaries.

If a European workingman got seven dollars a day he could afford to hire two other guys to do the work.

(Copyright, 1929, Distributed by Universal Service.)

H. G. Wells Writes on

"The Science of Life"

In Collaboration With

Prof. Julian Huxley and Geo. P. Wells

HALF a century ago, nothing was known of the functions of these ductless glands. They were merely puzzles for the anatomist.

Today we know that, including the thyroid and the pituitary body, there are four, perhaps five definite glands in our bodies entirely concerned with this business of internal secretion, and two of these five, the adrenal and pituitary, have a double function and are formed of two distinct parts, each producing one or more quite different hormones. Besides these definite anatomical structures we have named there are four or five organs which have other functions as well, but which also contain masses of internally secreting cells.

H. G. Wells

Altogether we know now of more than a dozen separate hormones each with its own special task within the body.

Of these hormones, two—secretin and adrenalin—co-operate with the nervous system in bringing about rapid variations in the state of our organs in adjustment to the fluctuating conditions to which we are exposed.

We have already described this action in the second chapter.

Other internal secretions have exclusively chemical functions. The pancreas, for example, has islets of endocrine cells scattered among its digestive tubules, and their secretion, insulin, has a very important function in controlling the handling of sugar by our tissues.

The parathyroid glands are small bodies lying at the sides of the thyroid, and until a few decades ago were regarded as mere appendages of that organ. Now we know that they produce a secretion which regulates the amount of lime in the blood. When this is insufficient, defects appear in bones and teeth; when it is gravely deficient, the patient has an attack of muscle-spasms or tetany. In the last few years a way has been found to prepare extracts of the parathyroids, whose injection will relieve the symptoms of this disorder.

The endocrine functions of various other organs of the body have still to be explored. The thymus, for example, is a large pink gland lying over the heart in very young children, but dwindling and disappearing before the age of discretion is reached. Presumably it has an influence on early development.

It should not be thought that the different ductless glands exert their functions in isolation and independently of each other.

Often a number of glands affect the same process in various ways —in the case of sugar metabolism, for example, the thyroid stimulates oxidation of sugar, the conversion of sugar to fat, the adrenal medulla brings about liberation of sugar from the liver, and the pancreas controls the taking up of sugar by the tissues from the blood—and thus the various secretions may interfere, antagonizing or reinforcing each other's activities.

Again, the various ductless glands may influence each other directly. There is an intimate interrelation between the adrenals and the thyroid, for feeding dogs on adrenal cortex causes their thyroids to store more thyroxin.

Like other tissues, the ductless glands are sensitive to changes in the composition of the blood, and thus, in a variety of ways, they can interact.

Manifestly, our present knowledge of internal secretions is still very incomplete and a good deal of premature speculation—indeed of nonsense—has been written about it. Nevertheless, it is clear that the actions of these glands are of the profoundest physiological importance.

BOOK TWO.

The Various Forms of Life

CHAPTER ONE

Vertebrata

THE VERTEBRATE PHYLUM.

Section I. Classification.

WE have now given an outline of existing knowledge about the structure and working of that most familiar form of living thing, a human being, the species Man, Homo sapiens.

In relations of conflict or tolerance with these species there are a very great number of other species, more or less numerous and more or less similar, beasts, birds and fishes. We have already given some transitory glances at one of these species, Mus musculus, the house mouse.

(Copyright, 1929, by H. G. Wells, Julian Huxley, George Philip Wells.)

(To Be Continued Monday.)

WORDS OF THE WISE MEN

When every one is in the wrong, every one is in the right.
—La Chaussee.

We dread old age which we aren't sure of being able to attain.
—La Bruyere.

Discontent is the first step in the progress of a man or a nation.
—Wilde.

Noble blood is an accident of fortune; noble actions characterize the great.
—Goldoni.

The Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

"DON'T you just love a Christmas wedding!" exclaimed Mrs. Green, flinging down her packages, and gratefully accepting the tea and cinnamon toast, which her hostess proffered her. "There's something about the combination of wedding-bells and Christmas bells that tingles right through me and buttons up the back!"

"You sweet old-fashioned thing!" laughed Mrs. Divot. "No, I don't like a SHOW wedding, at any time of the year. Bill and I just 'stepped off,' in the modern fashion, to avoid all the stage-effects."

"Then you missed one of the very vital and definite joys of an otherwise dull and uncertain existence," retorted Mrs. Green. "No matter how her marriage turns out, the memory of her wedding is always a sacred and beautiful thing to a woman. It is her one chance to be the STAR and the whole show!"

"Yes," agreed Mrs. Divot, "I've noticed that. Even after she has divorced her husband, she'll still sentimentalize over her wedding gown and brag about her wedding. I suppose that's because the bridegroom, like the roses and the smilax, is only a part of the background and she sort of forgets he was there."

"Exactly," acquiesced Mrs. Green cheerfully. "No man understands WHY a woman can't take her wedding casually and quietly. But a woman knows. SHE knows! And she wants a big audience and plenty of witnesses in her hour of triumph. It's her one Big Moment!

"A man's idea is to soft-pedal the publicity until he finds out whether or not he is going to like matrimony, and whether or not the marriage is going to TAKE. But a woman's intuition tells her to sound the trumpet and blow while she may.

"The modern girl misses a lot, when she denies herself the thrill of walking down a bejibboned aisle with a new wedding ring and a brand new husband, in triumphal return before the populace."

"She certainly does!" rejoined Mrs. Divot, mockingly. "She misses the harrowing experience of waiting with her heart in her throat, not knowing whether the bridegroom will show up on time or half an hour late with six or seven 'bracers' aboard. She misses a lot of ghastly looking vases and floor-lamps that don't match each other or her furniture, and a lot of horrible knick-knacks that she will have to live with for years.

"She misses the awful snap-shots in the newspapers and the certainty of starting on her honeymoon all frazzled out, and of scrapping on the way to the station, because they are both nervous wrecks.

"No, dear heart, the show-wedding is often the first step toward the divorce court. It's sheer cruelty to put any HE-man through it! And I, for once, am heart and soul with the efficient modern business girl, who just steps out quietly, between rush hours at the office, and has the knot tied.

Copyright, 1929, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Sacred Bull, Sacred Monkey

You Take Your Choice, in India, and Worship Accordingly

(Copyright, 1929)

HINDU FANATIC PROSTRATES HIMSELF BEFORE A SACRED WHITE BULL

THE British discuss giving "dominion status" to India.

This, nominally, would put India in the position of Canada or Australia as a self-governing part of the British Empire.

These two pictures show you some of the gentlemen that feel ready for self-government.

In the first picture you see a fanatic, flat on his face, humbly worshipping one of the sacred bulls of India.

To be sacred, the bull must be pure white. If he has a calf only partly white, whatever isn't white is painted white and then he is a perfectly good sacred bull.

The religion of the Hindus forbids them to kill or to eat any bull or cow.

The second picture shows four sacred animals of India. These, as it happens, are monkeys, shown in company with a Hindu "priest," who looks after them, and thus makes his living.

There are hundreds of such monkeys in one Indian temple, fed by the deeply religious.

Too bad the monkeys can't know what their "superior" white cousins think of them.

That would make even a monkey laugh.

What would happen if independence were granted to India remains to be seen.

SACRED MONKEYS OF INDIA AND THEIR PRIEST

Since the British Government has cut down famines and plagues, and doesn't allow energetic Afghans on the north to murder Hindus as they used to, the population of India has increased by 100,000,000.

When an old Hindu dies, he is no longer allowed to have his young wife burned in "suttee," along with his body. She lives on and sometimes has more children, although she is not supposed to at that.

There are about a hundred thousand British troops in India, surrounded by 300,000,000 Asiatics.

The miracle is not that India hasn't BETTER government, but that its government is as good as it is.

It cannot be easily raised, from the age-long level of 300,000,000 Asiatics.

Let us be thankful that WE do not fall flat on our faces at the sight of a sacred white bull, let us be deeply grateful that WE do not let human beings degrade themselves by acting as priests for "sacred monkeys."

On the other hand, let us not be too proud, for we are RATHER foolish in some things concerning our OWN lives.

What Do You Know?

Boston's Original Knowledge Test

Reg. U. S. Pat Off.

Match correctly:

1—London — on the Tyne
2—Glasgow — on the Thames
3—Belfast — Malay Peninsula
4—Newcastle — in the north of Ireland
5—Singapore — on the Clyde

Do you know:

6—What causes thunder?
7—What is meant by climate?
8—When was Australia opened to settlement?
9—What is the most important river in Scotland?
10—What are the only two metals from which standard coins are made?
11—What poet wrote "Kubla Khan"?
12—What was the first college for women in U. S.?
13—What town in Greece was celebrated for its oracle of Apollo?
14—What is the largest known creature of the air?
15—Where was the first law school in Connecticut established?

Answers to Friday's test:

1—Connecticut. 2—F. Marion Crawford. 3—Wood tar. 4—Tyr or Tiu, Norse god of war. 5—Virginia. 6—Island city off coast of China. 7—Australia. 8—On the English Channel. 9—Belgium. 10—Holland. 11—British India. 12—About 100 miles. 13—It has none; German, French and Italian are spoken there. 14—Jesuits; by Ignatius Loyola. 15—Robert Boyle.

Copyright, 1929, King Features Syndicate, Inc.